SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 5 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961, as amended, is hereby further amended by inserting after clause (11) the following clause:—

be necessary to make and keep all places of human habitation fit for such habitation, are, together with all appropriations relating to all such powers and duties, hereby transferred to the commissioner of housing inspection; and the bureau of general sanitation in the environmental sanitation section of the health division of the health department is hereby abolished.

SECTION 4. Every person holding an office or position subject to the civil service laws and rules shall, if the office or position is abolished by this ordinance, be reappointed without civil service examination or registration to a similar office or position with similar status in a new department or agency, or division of either, created, or a department or agency, or division of either, not abolished, by this ordinance; and every such person shall, upon such reappointment, retain all rights to retirement with pension that shall have accrued or would thereafter accrue to him; and his services shall be deemed to have been continuous to the same extent as if such abolition had not taken place. As used in this section, the term "agency" shall be construed as defined in section 5 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 as amended by section 1 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1953.

SECTION 5. This ordinance shall be deemed to be made under section 5 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended by section 1 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1953, and shall be so construed that no person holding, whether under general or special law or otherwise, an office or position subject to the civil service laws and rules shall, by reason of the adoption of this ordinance, be without a similar office or position or be reduced in rank or compensation.

Mayor Stresses State-Wide Financial Crisis in School Budget Message

The following message on the school budget was sent to the School Committee by Mayor Collins on March 29:

The preliminary 1965 estimates submitted to me on February 1, 1965, by the City of Boston School Committee totaled $50,635,802. These estimates for 1965 are higher than the 1964 appropriation by an amount of $6,200,825.

It is my most earnest desire, as Mayor of the City of Boston, to advance and improve Boston's public schools. In recent years, I have worked hard to stimulate the building of new schools where they are needed, to provide funds sufficient to enable us to compete for qualified teachers, and to make our educational programs meet the challenges of changing times. I have not always been satisfied with our progress, just as you have not always been satisfied. I, just as you, have often discussed, debated and wondered about those things which seem to so limit Boston's resources, financial and otherwise, as to make it impossible to proceed as rapidly as we would wish to improve our city's schools.

The time for debate and discussion of Boston's financial problems, and indeed the financial problems of every city and town in Massachusetts, is at an end. It ends now—in 1965. The time is past when Boston, or any other municipality in Massachusetts, can look within its own purse, can look to its own property taxes, for a solution to the demands being made upon us for more dollars for education, more dollars for assistance, to the needy, more dollars for the protection of persons and property, more dollars for efforts to make our cities enjoyable and healthful places to live and work. The purse is not big enough for so many requirements, and, it is almost empty.

I said that the time for debate has ended. This is the time for action—and I am devoting all my energy, my time and efforts to action now, in 1965. I cannot ask you, as members of the School Committee, to do any less. As you may know, if you have attended public gatherings or legislative hearings or listened to the radio or watched television, I have done everything possible to persuade our citizens and our lawmakers that those provisions of the Willis Report which would improve Boston's public schools ought to be enacted into law.

But I have not heard or seen you striving for a public consensus on a plan to translate the Willis Report into action.

And again, if you have attended public gatherings or listened to the radio or watched television, you may know that I have used every persuasion within my power to convince the people and their lawmakers of the need for more state aid to education, of the need for a sales tax or other new revenues to put into effect plans for improving our public schools.

But I have not heard or seen you striving for the enactment of new tax revenues which would make

Mayor Spends Easy Days in Washington

Mayor Collins went to Washington on March 30 to attend a White House dinner and also give support to President Johnson's housing bill.

The Boston Mayor testified on April 1 before the Senate Committee on Urban Affairs on the need for the President's expanded housing legislation.

He was named to appear before the committee by the National League of Cities, formerly the American Municipal Association of which he is past president.

The Mayor and Mrs. Collins attended a White House dinner on March 31.

In the afternoon, March 31, Mayor Collins presided at a conference attended by Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, and Sargent Shriver, Director of Office of Economic Opportunity. Problems of urban renewal and job opportunities were discussed.

Professor J. Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard University economist, delivered the keynote address.

New Committee Urges "Fair Taxes" Support

Prominent Bostonians are among a nonpartisan "Committee of One Hundred," organized to help achieve the passage of Governor Volpe's tax program.

The makeup of the "Committee of One Hundred" was announced by the Massachusetts Citizens for Fair Taxes who have opened headquarters at 120 Tremont street in Boston.

Included among the members of the "Committee of One Hundred" are city and town officials, labor, educational, business, civic, and religious leaders.

In their initial statement issued the committee members praised the Governor's tax program, characterizing it as the best and possibly the only means of raising the money needed to meet the state's financial crisis, provide better education, and furnish relief to the cities and towns in order to lower their tax rates, and halt further loss of job opportunities.

"It is clearly apparent, that about $230 million in new revenue must be obtained if the state is to meet its own financial obligations and at the same time fulfill its responsibility to its cities and towns," read the statement.

"Enactment of a tax program which would produce any lesser amount would be only a half-hearted, piecemeal approach to the critical problems confronting the Commonwealth and its local communities.

"The Legislature obviously must enact new taxes to raise the necessary money to pay the state's bills. At the same time the Legislature no longer can sweep under the rug the problem of the cities and towns.

"We must realize that real estate tax rates in most Massachusetts communities have reached such confiscatory heights that we have been losing jobs and employment opportunities at a dangerous rate. There are very few cities and towns in Massachusetts which are not facing a tax rate increase this year. They need help. They must be given it.

"We must recognize, too, that we cannot have quality education for our children unless our cities and towns have the money to pay for it.

"We believe most strongly and sincerely that Governor Volpe's tax program is the best means of raising the $230 million which must be obtained if Massachusetts is to move ahead and meet the challenge of 1965.

"We are confident that a big majority of the citizens of Massachusetts will concur in that opinion when they understand all the facts and realize everything that is at stake for them and their children."

possible so much more improvement in Boston's public schools.

It is my strongest and most sincere belief that all of us have the responsibility and, indeed, the obligation to do everything within our power to provide better education for our children. It is my equally strong conviction that some of us are not fulfilling our obligation at the present time. I urge you to join with me now in turning your every effort to the opportunity which presents itself this year to help solve our fiscal problems. I urge every member of the School Committee and every member of the teaching faculties and every parent of school children to join in the attack on the most serious fiscal crisis that has ever confronted our cities and towns. Until this crisis is solved, we must live within our severely limited means.

I have accepted the recommendations of the Supervisor of Budgets, Mr. Henry T. Brennan, which recommendations reduce your preliminary estimates to $46,729,688. In arriving at this decision, I have taken into account that school appropriations which were $33,-856,807 in 1960 will have risen in 1965 by $12,872,000 or greater than 36 percent in the five-year period.

The amount allotted for General School Purposes is $2,279,411 more than for the same appropriation in 1964, or a total of $44,795,688 for General School Purposes. These recommendations also allow $134,-000 for Land and Buildings (in addition to funds already provided for this purpose), and $1,800,000 for Alterations and Repairs (also in addition to funds otherwise provided.)

It is, of course, the responsibility of the School Committee to determine how the increased funds shall be distributed, and I have no desire to interfere with such determination.

Timothy Manning

A Solemn Requiem Mass for Timothy B. Manning, 82, former Boston Police Department secretary, was sung March 30 at St. Kevin's Church, Dorchester.

Mr. Manning, who died on March 28, resided at 10 Kevin road, Dorchester.

He joined the Police Department in 1900, and served as secretary to several police commissioners before his retirement in 1952.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary G. Carroll of Belmont.

City Renewal Keystone of U. S. Housing Policy, Says Weaver

Following is an excerpt from one of the Godkin lectures delivered at Harvard by Administrator Robert C. Weaver of the U. S. Housing and Home Agency:

The reason the federal government is in the field of urban renewal is because the cities do not have the financial resources to undertake it unassisted. Were cities to raise their own revenue for urban redevelopment, such action would involve higher local taxes, serving to accelerate the exodus of businesses and higher income families. To avoid this acceleration of a vicious cycle of financial deterioration, the cities must seek financial aid elsewhere to help bring about urban redevelopment.

We have slowly recognized that economic rehabilitation is a vital part of urban redevelopment. Thus, the downtown projects not only provide physical upgrading and employment and business expansion but also establish a long-term source of increasing taxes. If the latter is to have maximum impact, it should not be taken back by the federal government.

The case for preserving and renewing our cities really rests on what I consider the keystone of our national housing policy. It is concern for maximizing choices for the American people. Some of us prefer to live in a central city; others prefer to reside in the suburbs. In order that these preferences may find realization, the central cities must be economically strong as well as attractive and functional. Urban renewal is a tool to achieve these objectives, and crucial elements in its approach are revitalization of the downtown areas and provision of some higher priced housing.

While urban renewal is a vital tool for preserving our cities, we must modify it in light of sound analyses and experience. Thus there has been, and there will continue to be, new direction in the program. Moderate-income housing and rehabilitation of existing housing will be stressed. The latter will be, for the most part, cost-conscious rehabilitation, designed to accommodate approximately the same income groups as resided in the structures prior to their being improved.

The Housing and Urban Development bill of 1965 contains significant new tools to accomplish this. The result will be a lessening of the relocation load, greater preservation of existing neighborhoods, and an attack upon the vast gray area of our cities. But the volume of private expenditures and the amount of tax assistance to local government will be less than was previously contemplated, suggesting the need for other forms of revenue assistance to our cities. This is recognized in the Housing and Urban Development bill of 1965, as well as in other current legislative proposals. To supplement indirect revenue assistance to cities via urban renewal which makes the maximum contribution to local tax revenue, the federal government has proposed direct grants for vital public services and facilities. Included are the new program of matching grants for urban service facilities, such as neighborhood centers. These will help cities carry out plans developed in connection with their community action programs financed by the Economic Opportunity Act. In addition, federal funds are proposed to provide significant support for education, job training, and associated services.

These approaches recognize that cities need financial assistance to meet their required outlays for public facilities and services. They take the direct route and are more effective in assisting the provision of such facilities and services because they provide immediate financial relief without reducing tax revenue over the short-run as urban renewal may well do. Direct grants, however, are complementary sticker. As in the past several inspections, those vehicles which are adjudged defective will receive the oval, white, rejection sticker with the red band across the middle.

More than 3,300 garages and gasoline stations across the Commonwealth have been licensed to perform inspections during the 45 days.

"By bringing their automobiles in for inspections early," Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin said, "motorists will be able to avoid the long lines expected toward the end of the inspection period."

The Registrar reminds motorists that in addition to automobiles, trucks, trailers, motorcycles, and motorbikes must be inspected.

The equipment on automobiles which will be checked includes: brakes, headlights, taillights and stop lights, marker lights on commercial vehicles, the muffler and entire exhaust system, the steering gear ball joints, windshield and windshield wipers, the rear window, and number plates. Regarding tires, it will again be necessary for motorists to have a minimum of 2/32 of an inch of tread in order to pass inspection.

Also included in the inspection for automobiles is the requirement that bumpers, fenders, and external sheet metal not project beyond the contours of the motor vehicle.

To pass inspection, trucks will be checked for the additional requirements of reflectors, chock blocks, and splash guards.

The equipment check for trailers includes brakes—where required, safety chains and lights. For motorcycles and motorscooters, inspection includes brakes, lights, and the exhaust system.

The inspection station, for its services, may charge the motorist a fee up to $1.

First Youth To Qualify for Job Training Gets Official Send-Off in City Hall Ceremony

George K. Butts, 19, formerly of Dorchester, first youth in the state selected for the Federal Job Corps, was given an official send-off by Deputy Mayor Henry A. Scagnoli, acting for Mayor Collins, in the Mayor's office, on March 30.

The Job Corps, part of the federal anti-poverty program, places out-of-school, unemployed youth 16 through 21 in rural and urban training centers throughout the country.

Butts has been assigned to a Job Corps Training Center at Tongue Point, Oregon, where he will work on a flood control and restoration project.

The new Corpsman expects to spend at least 10 months in the Corps. During this time, he is hoping to learn about heavy construction equipment operation such as bulldozing.

Butts in recent months has been a resident at the State Division of Child Guardianship's Halfway House in the South End.

Until his acceptance in the Job Corps, he has been enrolled in Action for Boston Community Development's Youth Training and Employment Program at United South End Settlements, Inc., 48 Rutland street, South End.

Membership in the Job Corps is open to young men and women whose lack of secondary education, inability to secure satisfactory work and substandard reading and arithmetic levels prevent them from entering the job market.

Corpsmen are given a chance to learn work skills and receive remedial education which will provide them with greater job opportunities when they leave the Corps.

Room, Board, Clothing

Vocational training opportunities include reforestation, surveying, botanical investigation, heavy equipment operation, auto mechanics, clerical and sales duties, data machine processing, electronics and other rural, industrial and business skills.

Corpsmen are furnished with all necessary clothing, equipment, room and board. In addition, they receive a monthly allowance of $30 plus a termination payment of $50 per month which is set aside for them until they leave the Corps.

An allotment plan is available to qualified Corpsmen whereby a portion of termination funds up to $25 may be sent home each month. The portion sent home will be matched by federal funds. This will enable Corpsmen to contribute to the financial support of their families and, at the same time, accumulate funds to help give them a start when they leave the Corps.

Enrollment in the Job Corps may range from three months to two years. The average period of service, however, is expected to be one year.

Corps members are not committed to any specific time of service. They may leave anytime.

Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., has been selected by the Office of Economic Opportunity to handle recruitment and screening of Job Corps applicants in the City of Boston. This agency was also designated by Mayor Collins to coordinate all other anti-poverty programs in the city.

There are two locations set up to handle Job Corps applicants from Boston.

The first is a Youth Training and Employment Center located in the South End Settlement House at 48 Rutland street.

The second is the Youth Opportunity Center of the Division of Employment Security, 255 Huntington avenue, where an ABCD Job Corps Counselor is available.

How to Apply

Various offices of the Division of Employment Security serve as recruitment and screening agencies for Job Corps applicants from outside of the city and rest of the state.

The first step in applying for the Job Corps is to obtain a Job Corps Opportunity Card available at libraries, community houses, YMCAs, employment security offices, and selective service boards.

These should be filled out and mailed to the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, where they will be processed and returned to the local screening agencies.

Agencies will contact applicants for initial interviews, medical examinations and testing.

Final selections for the Corps are made by O.E.O.

Presently, the waiting period for an applicant, after the first interview with a screening agency, is one to two months.

Gerald Pearlman, Job Corps Coordinator for Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., says that to this date, over 100 applicants from the City of Boston have been screened. A total of 77 of these are now pending in Washington.

Job Corps is one of many opportunities offered the city's youth.

ABCD also sponsors Youth Training and Employment Programs which include neighborhood work crews, on-the-job training, remedial education, and MDTA skill training.

The purpose of all of these programs is to provide youth with greater opportunities to enter—and remain in—the job market.

to, and not a substitute for, urban renewal. The latter not only improves the local tax situation but supports the economic base of localities, upgrades the quality of housing, serves to arrest blight and clear slums, at the same time that it encourages and facilitates orderly development of the localities. Direct grants can be, as they are, used primarily to assist the disadvantaged and the needy, providing services which are readily identified and politically accepted as those for which federal funds should be spent.

Real Estate Taxes Up 108 Percent in Towns

The real estate tax "tab" is really tough in Massachusetts' major towns, reports President James C. Brody of the Massachusetts Association of Real Estate Boards.

In 80 towns of over 10,000 population real estate tax bills have increased at a, "believe it or not," average rate of 108 percent per family in the last 10 years. This is an all-time record.

This rate of increase is five times higher than the increase of 21.4 percent in the state's cost of living index and seven and one half times the rise in the U. S. cost of living index of only 14.5 percent in the same decade.

Thirty-seven of these eighty towns have had increases in their tax levies on a per-family basis, of from 100 percent to 240 percent.

These findings reported by Brody, are based on studies by the Association's Research Division. The study also shows that the rapid rise of 108 percent in town tax levies also exceeds by 57 percent the dangerously high average rise of 69 percent in the rates of the 39 Massachusetts cities, previously reported by Brody.

Eighty towns of over 10,000 population in the 1960 census were surveyed. The rate of increase in property taxes levied ranged from a low of 46.8 percent in Scituate to a high of 239.7 percent in Burlington. On the dollar volume of tax levy apportioned on a per-family basis the low town is Webster with a per-family tax apportionment of $293.95, and Wayland is the high town with $966.56.

The past ten years have seen tax levies in the towns zoom from between 150 percent to 240 percent in the three towns of Burlington (239.7), Chelmsford (175.0), and Danvers (150.6), said Brody.

Thirteen towns that saw taxes rise of 125 percent to 150 percent are: Amesbury (135.1), Andover (144.2), Concord (132.5), Dracut (142.4), Foxboro (127.5), Framingham (143.9), Franklin (127.9), Ludlow (130.5), Northbridge (126.8), Somerset (147.5), Stoughton (130.8), Whitman (130.5), and Wilmington (127.9).

Twenty-one towns in the high 100 percent to 125 percent tax increase bracket are: Abington (113.4), Amherst (101.2), Arlington (107.2), Bedford (114.1), Braintree (104.4), Bridgewater (122.0), Canton (124.1), Clinton (105.6), Easthampton (115.7).

Also Grafton (124.8), Lexington (119.6), Middleboro (102.9), North Attleboro (102.6), Palmer (104.8), Plymouth (114.9), Randolph (123.7), Rockland (119.6), Saugus (123.3), Southbridge (112.2), South Hadley (118.9), Stoneham (108.5).

Brody explains that no single comparison formula can exactly portray any single community's tax situation because of the many variables involved. These include varying types of tax base structures and assessment procedures as well as fluctuating growth patterns.

The per-family basis is used however, because it best illustrates the alarmingly rapid rise in taxes and the per-family unit tax load even though it cannot be directly reconciled to an individual tax bill.

Brody warned that preliminary figures on the rise of real estate taxes in the other 230 towns of under 10,000 population indicate that even a higher average rate of increase than in the larger towns and the cities has occurred. This will be covered in a future M.A.R.E.B. release on tax increases.

He pointed out that it is no longer possible for homeowners or tenants to escape real estate taxes by moving to another city or town when taxes or rent bills become unbearable. The continual leapfrogging of tax rates by their neighboring cities and towns leaves no more tax havens for either homeowners or rent payers. In Massachusetts 56 percent of the families are homeowners and 44 percent are rent payers. Massachusetts with only 56 percent of its families owning homes lags behind the U. S. average of 62 percent home owning families or a deficit of nearly 100,000 homes.

Today the only escape from excessive real estate taxes for the homeowner who is being taxed out of the market and the tenant who must lower his living standards, because tax increases are reflected in his rent, depends upon revision of the Commonwealth's tax structure.

The real estate executive also observed that a sampling of recent town meetings showed no diminution of needs for educational requirements and other town costs for which the state has areas of responsibility. This responsibility in Brody's opinion can best be met in the final analysis by the proposed limited sales tax.

Air Rights Eyed

Air rights over the Boston Extension of the Massachusetts Turnpike was the key topic of discussion at the Governmental Relations Committee of the International Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Association, in Detroit, on March 29.

Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority is Chairman of the Governmental Relations Committee of the international organization of toll facility executives.

Turnpike officials from other states and foreign countries were interested in Chairman John T. Driscoll's subject of land use changes induced by toll facilities.

Driscoll said, "That firms outside Massachusetts are expressing interest in construction of air rights over the Massachusetts Turnpike Extension, and that he forecasts that the leasing of air rights would attract new industry for Massachusetts and the Greater Boston area."

Chairman John T. Driscoll stated that the leasing of air rights over the Massachusetts Turnpike is not a selfish matter, claiming that the revenue would not make a great difference to the Authority's operation. Driscoll said, "We are deeply interested in helping Boston, Brookline, and Newton, and the construction of air rights will bring revenue and jobs into these communities."

Lester F. Murphy

Lester F. Murphy, 75, of 20 Silloway street, Dorchester, for 35 years an investigator for the Boston Finance Commission, died on March 30 at Carney Hospital.

Mr. Murphy, whose Finance Commission service spanned the years from 1925 to 1960, reached the high point of his career in the late 1930s when his work was credited with saving the city $1 million.

According to Finance Commission records, the city was going to have to pay the sum to have the elevated tracks of the old Boston Elevated Railway removed from Atlantic avenue.

Following Mr. Murphy's research into the matter the Commonwealth required the company to stand the expense.

Mr. Murphy leaves a wife, Anna (McCormick), a stenographer for the Finance Commission, and a son, L. Joseph of Wellesley.

A Requiem Mass was sung on April 3 in St. Mark's Church, Dorchester.

John F. Howard

A High Requiem Mass was sung for John F. Howard, 61, of 50 Codman Hill avenue, Dorchester, at St. Gregory's Church on April 2. He died on March 29.

An associate civil engineer, Mr. Howard worked for the Public Works Department of the City of Boston for 43 years. He was a member of the Registered Professional Engineers, the American Public Works Association, the City of Boston Municipal Engineers No. 1198, and the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees.

He leaves his wife, Catherine R. (Burke); a son, John F., Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. Barbara A. Garrity and Mrs. Mary C. Julian; two brothers, four sisters, and four grandchildren.

WELFARE COSTS FOR FEBRUARY

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department for February:

February figures show the cost level rising from January's $4,013,059 to $4,335,336, and the caseload increasing to 33,217 from 32,984. The cost factor was largely influenced by a 25.8 percent increase in indirect payments, chiefly for medical care. A gain of 233 cases resulting from 1,398 approvals offsetting 1,165 closings accounted for the caseload increase. The 260 rejections can be ascribed mainly to voluntary withdrawals and excessive resources.

Old Age Assistance: Current caseload figures stand at 11,207, a drop of 217 from the same month one year ago. Hence the pattern of decline emerges as gradual, although continuing, as evidenced by the current month's decrease of 84 cases. While direct client payments absorbed 80.9 percent of a $1,005,986 Old Age Assistance appropriation, vendor payments rose from $55,010 to $192,292, a rise of $137,282 above last month.

Medical Assistance for Aged: As could be expected, 66 percent (182) of the 275 applications approved during the month were based on medical needs with an additional 77 clients (28 percent) being transferred from the Old Age Assistance and Disability Assistance programs. The transfer of clients from other categories (from Old Age Assistance when medical attention only is required, from Disability Assistance when the client reaches age 65) is a contributing factor to the constantly increasing Medical Assistance for Aged caseload which rose by 54 to 7,038. An appropriation of $933,643 was required to underwrite the program for the month.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children: More than 1½ million dollars ($1,687,833) was allocated to this program during February. The largest single factor in the increase of the caseload from 8,564 to 8,677 proved to be the 149 clients unemployed because of illness or discharge, although marriage failure (77 cases) and failure to marry (44 cases) played an important role. Return to employment was the principal reason for closing 275 cases.

Disability Assistance: A sharp reversal in the recent downward trend in this category appears this month. Although the rate of closing remained fairly constant, 113 in February vs. January's 117, the approval index rose from 114 to 174 for an overall caseload gain of 61. Job loss due to clients' illness motivated 85 (49 percent) of the approved applications. Slightly more than one half million dollars ($504,106) was spent in behalf of eligible recipients.

General Relief: Of the 474 applications serviced during the month, 436 were approved, mainly due to employment loss due to illness or discharge while voluntary withdrawal and excessive resources accounted for the majority of the 38 rejections. Since the gap between the 347 closings and the 436 approvals totals 89 cases, the caseload increased by that number to 2,517. The expenditure of $203,768 represents a 10.3 percent increase above last month.

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, March 8, 1965.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President TIERNEY in the chair, and all the members present.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

God our Father, send us forth to the waiting tasks and responsibilities of another week determined to be loyal to our lofty ideals of our vocation of public service.

Whatever may be the appraisal of men regarding what we do and what we say here keep us ever conscious of the searching light of Thy judgment that cannot err.

God of mercy and of goodness we pray that the white mantle of our national honor be no further stained with the blood, the tears, the mud of racial bitterness and violence. We pray for the afflicted people of Selma, Alabama, protect our city from any such tragedy. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointment:

Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1965: Frank V. Thompson, 20 Lyme street, East Weymouth.

SALE OF DISCONTINUED PORTIONS OF RANDALL AND FELLOWS STREETS, ROXBURY, TO GREEN SHOE MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 1, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communications received from William J. Devine, Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, and James W. Haley, Commissioner of Public Works, stating that certain lands owned by the City of Boston at Randall and Fellows Streets, Roxbury, are no longer required for public purposes.

The Green Shoe Manufacturing Company of 960 Harrison avenue, Boston, wishes to acquire these properties for the purpose of expanding its business and intends to construct on the City of Boston lands and property of its own a building estimated to cost approximately two million dollars ($2,000,000). The company has offered to pay the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for the land. The lands have been appraised by Daniel M. Driscoll at a price of ninety cents ($0.90) per square foot. The total land area per foot to be purchased by the company is approximately fifty-five thousand four hundred seventy-seven (55,477) square feet. I submit herewith a proposed form of order whereby the City of Boston may sell to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company approximately fifty-five thousand four hundred seventy-seven (55,477) square feet of land and fully described in said order for the sum of fifty-thousand dollars ($50,000). The order further provides that if any portion of the premises proposed to be sold is required by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Public Works, for the Inner Belt Highway Route, that the purchaser will convey the same to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at a price of ninety cents ($0.90) a square foot.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Improvement Commission,
March 1, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins, Mayor, and
Members of the City Council.

Gentlemen:

A public hearing was held by the Public Improvement Commission on January 19, 1965, on the petition of the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company to discontinue portions of Randall street and Fellows street, Roxbury, as public highways. On February 26, 1965, this commission voted to make the requested discontinuances and further voted that certain lands lying within the discontinued portions of Randall and Fellows streets and owned by the City of Boston were no longer required for public purposes.

The land proposed to be sold to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company is in close proximity to the presently proposed Inner Belt Highway, but I understand that the proposed purchaser agrees to convey whatever lands are required by the State Department of Public Works at the same price per foot it pays the City of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Public Improvement Commission.

City of Boston,
Parks and Recreation Department,
March 1, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins, Mayor, and Members of the City Council.

Gentlemen:

At a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission held on February 4, 1965, it was voted that the J. J. Sullivan Playground at Fellows and Hunneman streets, Roxbury, is no longer required for public purposes.

The Green Shoe Manufacturing Company of 960 Harrison avenue, present owners of land abutting said playground, desires to acquire the same for the purpose of constructing a building on this site and adjoining lands of the company. The land was appraised for the City of Boston by Daniel M. Driscoll at 90 cents a foot.

This playground is located in what has become a commercial area and has not been an active playground for some time. This commission recommends the sale of the property.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM J. DEVINE,
Commissioner of Parks and Recreation.

City of Boston,
Parks and Recreation Department,
March 1, 1965.

At a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission held on Thursday, February 4, 1965, at which a quorum was present and voting, it was unanimously voted that:

"The J. J. Sullivan Playground at Fellows and Hunneman streets, Roxbury, containing approximately 37,000 square feet, is no longer required for public purposes, and further, that the commissioner be directed to notify the Mayor and the Council of this vote."

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of approximately thirty-six thousand nine hundred twenty-eight (36,928) square feet of land at Hunneman and Fellows streets, Roxbury, held by said city for playground purposes; and

Whereas, The Parks and Recreation Commission of the City of Boston has determined that said parcel of land is no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of two parcels of land being portions of Fellows street discontinued by an order of the Public Improvement Commission dated February 26, 1965; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has determined that said parcels are no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of two parcels of land being portions of Randall street discontinued by an order of the Public Improvement Commission dated February 26, 1965; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has determined that said parcels are no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The Green Shoe Manufacturing Company has offered to purchase the above-described parcels of land for the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for the purpose of constructing on the above parcels and on land adjacent thereto owned by the company a structure estimated to cost approximately two million dollars ($2,000,000); now therefore

FUNDS REMITTED TO MASSACHUSETTS PORT AUTHORITY ON PARKING VIOLATIONS AT LOGAN AIRPORT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 8, 1965.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen:

This is to acknowledge your order of March 1 relative to the institution of legal action to recover all funds remitted by the Clerk of the East Boston District Court to the Massachusetts Port Authority for parking violations at the Logan International Airport.

In order that suitable demand may be made and appropriate pleadings filed, I have requested the Clerk of the East Boston District Court to send me a schedule showing the aggregate amount that has been paid over to the Massachusetts Port Authority each month since its creation by chapter 465 of the Acts of 1956, with the amounts paid for parking violations segregated so far as possible. I am hopeful that this information will be available early this week as this office has already begun conversations with counsel for the Authority to ascertain whether the funds may be recovered without resort to litigation, but little progress can be made in this direction in the absence of precise knowledge as to amount involved.

For your further information, I enclose a copy of a communication I have sent the Clerk of the East Boston District Court in response to a request from him for my opinion on certain questions. It is obvious from the enclosure that I believe the city is entitled to the money paid by the Clerk of the East Boston District Court to the Authority for parking violations at the Logan International Airport since the Authority commenced to operate the airport; and it is my intention to bring appropriate legal proceedings to enforce the city's rights in the matter if the Authority does not make a voluntary reimbursement.

Respectfully,

ARTHUR G. COFFEY, Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston,

Law Department, March 5, 1965.

John C. Ligotti, Esquire,

Clerk of the East Boston District Court, 37 Meridian Street, East Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. Ligotti:

I received in due course yours of March 3, wherein you request my opinion with respect to certain matters.

First, you ask: Is a coin deposited in a parking meter at the General Edward Lawrence Logan International Airport a "toll" within the meaning of the provision in St. 1956, c. 465, s. 23, that "Any person who uses any project and fails or refuses to pay the toll provided therefor shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars to be paid to the Authority or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days or both. . . .?"

I answer that in my opinion, it is not. St. 1956, c. 465, s. 3, grants the Massachusetts Port Authority power to "adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business, and to fix penalties for the violation thereof; provided, however, that no penalty shall be in excess of one hundred dollars except as otherwise provided in section twenty-three" as well as power to "fix and revise from time to time and charge and collect tolls, rates, fees, rentals and other charges for the use of any project under its control." One of the rules and regulations established by the Massachusetts Port Authority for the use of the Logan International Airport is that "No person shall park a vehicle within any vehicular parking and storage area except upon the payment of such parking tariff or charge as may from time to time be prescribed by the Authority. No person shall refuse to pay or evade or attempt to evade the payment of such tariffs or charges."

It will be noted from the above that the Authority is empowered to charge and collect rates, fees, rentals, and other charges as well as tolls. The term "toll" is commonly applied to the sum exacted for the use of a common passage such as the Mystic River Bridge. St. 1956, c. 465, s. 2, cl. (1), as appearing in St. 1958, c. 599, s. 2, uses the term in this very sense when it speaks of "the tolls for the use of the Mystic River Bridge." It is also significant that the Authority's rules and regulations refer to the parking meter fee as a "parking tariff or charge."

I turn now to the second and third questions you put, namely:

"Does the money I receive as Clerk of the East Boston District Court from offenders in payment of parking violations occurring at Logan International Airport go to the Massachusetts Port Authority or to the City of Boston?"

"Do the fines imposed by the Judge of this Court on complaints alleging violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Massachusetts Port Authority, occurring at said Airport, go to the Massachusetts Port Authority or to the City of Boston?"

G. L., c. 280 s. 2, as amended, explicitly states: "A fine or forfeiture imposed by a district court shall, except as otherwise provided, be paid to the town where the crime or offence was committed." The town where the offence was committed is the City of Boston. Commonwealth v. Biddiscombe, Mass. Adv. Sh. (1964) 737, 738. Since, for reasons already stated, the provision quoted above from St. 1956, c. 465, s. 23, is not applicable, it is my opinion that the money to which your second question relates and the fines involved in the third question both go to the City of Boston, not the Massachusetts Port Authority.

In response to your last inquiry, my advice to you, in view of the foregoing, is that before adjudication or other settlement of the current controversy, you should not pay over to the Massachusetts Port Authority moneys now on hand or hereafter received by you for parking violations at the Logan International Airport.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR G. COFFEY, Corporation Counsel.

REQUEST TO END PARTITION OF IRELAND.

Coun. CRAVEN offered the following:

Resolved, That the British House of Parliament be memorialized as follows: With the coming next year of the 50th anniversary of the Easter Rebellion. With the banking of the fires of prejudice on the part of the ruling powers of England toward the Irish people. We have concrete evidence of the thawing of the icy indifference of this same ruling class: this is evident when the last wish of Sir Roger Casement to be buried at Glasnevin Cemetery in Dublin, Ireland was granted. This was consummated last week on a National Day of Mourning with the removal of his remains from the prison yard at Petonville, London, to be reinterred in his native soil of Ireland.

We, the voice of the people of Boston, a city second to none in America in its percentage of citizens of Irish heritage, further resolve that steps be taken to end the Partition of Ireland—to weld it into a true bastion of freedom. For Ireland is truly a nation that throughout the centuries has stood, fought, bled, and died for the Faith and Freedom; be it further Resolved, That the City Clerk of the City of Boston be hereby ordered to forward a copy of the aforesaid resolution to the British Consul General in Boston, Rt. Hon. John N. O. Curle, C.V.O., to be transmitted to Her Majesty's Government.

Boston Business Will Share $45 Million Annually from Conventions

Boston businesses will benefit to the tune of nearly $45 million annually from the estimated 360,000 visitors attending conventions at the new Boston War Memorial Auditorium, Val M. Ringer, resident manager of the Boston Statler Hilton, told University of New Hampshire hotel administration students recently.

The total income is based upon the estimate that each of the conventioners will spend at least $125 while in the city. Other New England communities also will benefit, Mr. Ringer noted, as a result of the traveling habits of persons en route to and from the Hub.

The new convention hall is but one part of a massive rehabilitation program now under way in Boston, he pointed out.

He cited the investment of $180 million in clearing space for the development of modern facilities, construction of the new Prudential building, and other public and private redevelopment projects as indicative of the city's progress, and credited Mayor John Collins with sparking interest in "the new Boston look."

In addition, he noted that public organizations also will contribute to the Auditorium's success, and reported that a public subscription drive financed alterations to the hall's stage to enable the Metropolitan Opera Company to perform there.

Within five years, he predicted, the Auditorium will be accommodating more than 300 conventions each year.

The character of conventions has changed in recent years, he said, possibly as a result of stricter Internal Revenue Service regulations on tax-deductible expense accounts, with more convention time being devoted to association business, and programs consequently now drawing greater attendance.

Mr. Ringer told the students that the War Memorial Auditorium has no sales staff of its own but instead will rely on the city's hotels and motor inns and the Convention and Visitors Bureau of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce to attract the larger conventions.

The Auditorium's promise and potential, Mr. Ringer declared, has stimulated modernization programs at various hotels in the city. As one example, he noted that the 38-year-old Statler Hilton is renovating and refurbishing its public facilities, creating rooms specially designed and decorated for the single woman traveler, and improving other areas of its operations.

Ex-Roxbury Tenants' Relocation Payments

Chairman Jacob I. Brier of the Boston Housing Authority announced on April 6 that the Authority is preparing to make relocation payments to former site tenants of the Roxbury properties acquired by the Authority for its pilot rehabilitation program.

The relocation payments, or moving expenses, apply to individuals and families who were living on the Highland Place, Highland Street, and Highland Avenue sites at the time the properties were acquired by the Authority.

Mr. Brier noted that former tenants of these sites should forward their new addresses to the Boston Housing Authority at 230 Congress street, Boston, so that they may be contacted and informed of the proper procedures to follow in filing a claim.

The amount paid on any one claim is determined from a fixed schedule of payments based upon the number of rooms of furniture moved.

'Pike Income Up

Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority reports net earnings after operating and maintenance expenses of the Initial Massachusetts Turnpike for February, 1965, of $708,692, an increase of 15.9 percent over the $611,511 in the same month in 1964.

Finance Commission Chairman Favors Department of Housing Inspection

Chairman George E. Berkley submitted the following statement to the City Council Committee on Ordinances on April 5:

I would like to be recorded in favor of the proposed ordinance now before you relative to establishing a new Department of Housing Inspection.

It has become increasingly apparent that Boston has too many buildings that have too many housing violations. We desperately need a strengthened code enforcement program. The existing system which makes code enforcement an ancillary function of many agencies has proven ineffective, not only in Boston but elsewhere. Such an important aspect of modern urban life as code enforcement needs centralization, not fragmentation. It needs to become the prime responsibility of one strong agency. The ordinance now before you would accomplish this purpose.

A new Department of Housing Inspection would make it much easier for citizens to secure effective action on code violations. At present, they have to report different violations to different departments and these departments are frequently so busy with day-by-day matters that they can not give the complaint the prompt attention it deserves. A new agency, such as the one contemplated in the proposed ordinance, could eventually handle all such complaints with the complainant having to make only one telephone call to report various kinds of violations. Furthermore, only one inspector would be needed to check on many different kinds of violations, thus saving manpower and eliminating wasteful duplication of service.

The experience of the City of Philadelphia has been useful in this regard. Philadelphia has centralized all code enforcement in its newly-created Department of Licenses and Inspections. This has permitted easier citizen reporting, more efficient inspection, and more effective follow-through. In its first two months of operation, this agency was responsible for a 30 percent increase in the number of code violation cases brought to court.

Although I favor the establishment of the proposed Department of Housing Inspection, I do not feel that it represents the most perfect solution. I recognize that it adds one more to an already unwieldy number of municipal departments. However, it is a possible first step toward setting up a new department, similar to the one in Philadelphia mentioned above, that would comprise the Building Department, various licensing functions of various departments and related activities. I also note that the City Administration is taking steps toward consolidating the Health and Hospital Departments, a move suggested by the Finance Commission in 1950. Such a consolidation will not only reduce the number of city departments but will also make it more desirable to have a separate agency to handle violations of the Health code.

It is with the foregoing in mind, that I approve the proposed establishment of the Department of Housing Inspection.

DIRECTIVE NO. 13

OPTIONAL INSURANCE PROGRAM

April 5, 1965.

To All Department Heads and County Officers.

The following letter is being forwarded by the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company to those members of your department who expressed their interest in the Optional Insurance Program but are not acceptable for May 1 participation:

"It has been necessary to delay final action on your application for optional insurance because of medical information you provided. This information is of course confidential and will be treated as such by our company.

"At the present time almost 6,000 applications have been received for the new program with 8,500 being needed to reach the 'Magic Number.'

"The enrollment period for the plan has been extended in an attempt to reach the 50 percent mark of eligible employees so that coverage can be written on you and all other applicants without question. If this goal is attained, you will be insured as of June 1, 1965.

"If final enrollment figures are less than 50 percent overall or 75 percent per department, you will be so notified and will be asked to provide additional medical information before a final decision is made.

"If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Boston Mutual Group Department either directly or through Mr. Edward W. Donovan, Room 30A, City Hall."

All department heads are asked to assist in making the new June 1 extension date a success. This has been set in an effort to recruit new members and bring group participation above 50 percent. This will enable all who wish to be members of the plan to join without fear of rejection because of the medical information.

It is to be emphasized, however, that those who joined for May 1 and whose applications have not been held up for more information will be covered from the May 1 date.

Site Improvements

A contract for site improvements at the federally-aided South End Housing Development was signed on April 1 by Chairman Jacob I. Brier of the Boston Housing Authority.

The Martin J. Kelly Company, Inc., of Jamaica Plain, submitted the low bid of $30,900 in open competitive bidding.

The general contract calls for landscaping, including the planting of trees and shrubs, tree guards, fencing, paving, and new benches,

'Cherry Sheet' Forecasts Severe '66 Impact of State Assessments

Following is the result of a study of the so-called "Cherry Sheet" and the impact it will have on Boston's fiscal future as made by the Municipal Research Bureau and contained in its latest Bureau Brief, April 6.

The 1965 "Cherry Sheet" figures were announced recently. Their effect on the 1965 Boston tax rate was not unexpected. What is little known is the adverse implications they hold for the 1966 tax rate. Basically, they show that Boston officials must plan for a 1966 tax rate increase of about $5-$6 just from prospective 1966 state assessments and revenue distributions.

Cherry Sheet Definition

The "Cherry Sheet" is a cerise-colored state form which lists state assessments as well as receipts from the state that the local assessor must include in calculating his community's property tax levy.

The major Boston assessments include the city's share of Metropolitan District Commission and MTA-MBTA assessments. The receipts are mainly the estimated city share of income, corporation, and meals tax moneys distributed by the Commonwealth.

The following shows the breakdown of Boston's "Cherry Sheet" figures for 1965 compared with 1964.

	1965 Assessments (000 omitted)	1964 Assessments (000 omitted)
Metropolitan Parks	$2,349	$2,413
Metropolitan Sewerage	1,822	1,590
Metropolitan Water	5,364	5,316
MTA	8,348	12,278
Other Assessments	163	126
Total	$18,046	$21,723

	1965 Receipts (000 omitted)	1964 Receipts (000 omitted)
Income Tax	$5,088	$8,976
Corporation Tax	7,307	12,402
1963-65 Excise	4,864	—
Meals Tax	865	770
Other	846	903
Total	$18,970	$23,051

Assessment Increases

The reduction in state assessments this year is misleading. The 1965 MTA assessment represents the city's share of only seven months of the 1964 MTA deficit.

The new MBTA began operation last August. Thus, the MBTA deficit of August-December 1964 must be paid at some time. A bill currently before the Legislature would apportion this deficit over five years beginning in 1967. Even if the bill is enacted into law, however, the city will have a 12 months assessment to pay in 1966 which will be about $4 million more than this year's assessment. If the bill fails, Boston would have a 1966 assessment covering a 17 months deficit of about $17 million or $9 million more than this year.

Decrease in Receipts

On the receipts side, the loss this year of $4.1 million in income and corporation tax distribution is not a surprise. Last year, Boston—as did all other communities—received a windfall from accelerated collection of income and corporation taxes. Boston's amount was $4.1 million. The city chose to use its windfall for current purposes with full knowledge that most, if not all, of this amount would be lost in 1965.

For the two months ended February 28, 1965, net earnings totaled $1,331,990, an increase of 13 percent over the $1,179,210 for the same period in 1964. For the twelve months ended February 28, 1965, annual interest charges were earned 1.75 times as compared with 1.57 times in the same period a year ago.

Cherry Sheet . . .

What many do not realize is that the city may receive an even lesser distribution in 1966. The primary cause will be a 1963 act which established new equalized valuations effective this year. The new valuations reduce Boston's share of income and corporation tax distributions made on a state tax apportionment basis from 20.7 percent to 15.0 percent. On the other hand, this act brings about a slight increase in the city's share of school foundation aid while slightly decreasing its share of MDC parks expense.

In order to prevent a community from losing any money this year, the act guaranteed that no city or town would receive less than it actually got in 1963. The $4.9 million in the 1963-65 excess category in the above table represents Boston's amount of the guarantee.

But there is no guarantee beyond 1965. Moreover, the total state "Cherry Sheet" distribution of income and corporation taxes includes an amount that came from accelerated corporation taxes. Most of this will not be in the total state distribution figure of 1966. In other words, not only is the guarantee gone, but there may be less to distribute next year. Thus, Boston must plan on receiving about $4 million less next year than in income and tax moneys.

SUMMARY

In summary, the "Cherry Sheet" points to increased assessments and decreases receipts in 1966 for Boston. The total is estimated at about $8 million. City officials, therefore, must prepare for a tax rate increase—just from "Cherry Sheet" estimates—of at least $5-$6. And this on top of 1965's expected record high rate.

Apart from a new source of revenue, only a large increase in the yield of the income and corporation tax can prevent the Boston tax rate rocket from climbing higher in 1966. A pending bill before the Legislature which establishes more up-to-date equalized valuations would help to some extent since it guarantees that the city would not receive less in income and corporation tax distributions in 1966 than it did in 1963.

DUNCAN T. FOLEY,

DEAR SIR:

As provided in Rule 15 (f) of the classification and compensation plan, I wish to request an extraordinary step-rate increment for Thomas D. Hurley, who has been permanently appointed to the position of maintenance mechanic (carpenter) in this department. Notice has been published in the City Record of March 27, 1965, on page 216.

Mr. Hurley was employed as a sanitation inspector in the Public Works Department of the City of Boston from August 1, 1942, through March 31, 1965.

In view of his previous service with the City of Boston and his qualifications for this position, it is requested that he be compensated at the rate of $94 per week as specified in Column 5 of Schedule A, effective April 1, 1965.

Very truly yours,

ANGUS GRIFFIN, Chairman.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

EQUIPMENT.

DEAR SIR:

The Boston Health Department is desirous of entering into a contract, for the period of April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966, with the International Business Machines Corporation for the equipment listed herein in an amount not to exceed $2,220:

Auxiliary Card Counter, No. 082, $5 a month.

Electric Sorter, No. 082, $40 a month.

Pocket Card Counter, $30 a month.

Printing Card Punch, No. 026, $60 a month.
Verifier, No. 056, $50 a month.

I therefore respectfully request your permission to renew this contract, and your authorization to dispense with public solicitation of bids for this contract.

Respectfully,

JOHN T. FOLEY, M.D., M.P.H.,
Health Commissioner.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

PUBLIC RELATIONS SERVICES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We respectfully request your permission to dispense with publicly advertising for bids, and to award a contract to Edward W. Drohan, 6 Fenwick road, Winchester, Mass., for Public Relations Services, Boston City Hospital, for the period beginning April 1, 1965, and ending March 31, 1966, at a cost of $700 per month, the total contract price not to exceed the sum of $8,400.

The recent contract for similar services will expire on March 31, 1965. However, the need for these expert services is one of a recurrent nature, and this renewal of the contract for the subject services is proposed for that reason, and also because it appears to be the more certain way of having such expert assistance readily available. These services are to be carried out in cooperation with and under the supervision of the department's Director of Hospitals.

In view of the professional nature of the services to be provided, it is not felt that a public solicitation of proposals would be of any avail or serve any useful purpose of the city, therefore, the Trustees respectfully request permission to award a contract without advertising to Edward W. Drohan, for Public Relations Services, Boston City Hospital, for the period beginning April 1, 1965, and ending March 31, 1966, at a cost of $700 per month, the total contract price not to exceed the sum of $8,400.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS, NEUROSURGERY OPERATING SUITE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On August 19, 1964, your Honor approved a contract dated August 7, 1964, between the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department, and John Guarino, architect, 2 Lexington street, East Boston, Mass., providing for preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of alterations and additions to the Neurosurgery Operating Suite, eighth floor of the Medical Building, Boston City Hospital.

The total estimated construction cost of the project as of the date of execution of the contract being $250,000. The architect to be paid a fee equal to 12.8 percent of the actual cost of construction, in addition, an estimated expenditure of $14,000 for supplementary services, but in no event shall the maximum liability of the city exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $46,000.

The Board of Trustees is now of the opinion that the scope of the work should be increased to include an additional 728 square feet of bed space.

It is the present purpose of the Board to cancel the contract now in effect, and, subject to your Honor's written approval and authorization, to dispense with public advertising, and to enter into a contract with John Guarino, architect, for architectural services in connection with the aforementioned project at an estimated cost of $450,000. The architect to be paid a fee equal to 12.8 percent of the actual cost of construction, in addition, an estimated expenditure of $14,000 for supplementary services, but in no event shall the maximum liability of the city exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $71,600.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT.
HEALTH PROTECTION, HOSPITAL CARE, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I propose, subject to the written authorization from your Honor, to enter into a written contract for the provision of certain services of great benefit to the City of Boston for the period March 1, 1965, to December 31, 1965.

Inasmuch as it seems highly advisable for our city to obtain every kind of assistance that might be available from the federal government, it is my feeling and recommendation that there be established an effective liaison between our municipal government and the Congress, the executive branch and the various administrative and regulatory agencies of the federal government. The existence of over 100 types of community assistance offered by the federal government, programs involving complex and difficult formulae for aiding such municipal activities as health protection, hospital care, highways, assistance to the needy, public schools and many others, makes it imperative that the City of Boston make appropriate arrangements to exploit all possibilities and, at the same time to expedite all matters before agencies of the federal government in which the City of Boston can expect favorable action.

In view of the fact that the firm of M. J. Macdonald Associates, Inc., is a firm experienced in such matters as this, and in view of the fact that M. J. Macdonald Associates is presently representing other governmental entities in a similar fashion, I recommend that the City of Boston enter into a contract with the firm of M. J. Macdonald Associates, Inc., for the period March 1, 1965, to December 31, 1965. I further recommend that the City of Boston compensate the firm of M. J. Macdonald Associates, Inc., in the amount of $3,000 per month, or a total of $30,000 for the period. The services to be performed will include the following:

1. To assure full utilization of federal programs of benefit to Boston;
2. To follow, report and advise with respect to federal legislation as it may affect Boston;
3. To provide representation and to expedite favorable action with respect to all matters under the supervision of federal agencies to the extent such matters concern Boston; and
4. To promote business and economic expansion by providing pertinent information to our city with respect to economic programs advantageous to Boston.

In that the contract to be awarded and executed is one involving a highly specialized service, not generally available, it is my conviction that this type of service does not lend itself to a public solicitation of bids, and, therefore, I request permission to dispense therewith since it would not be of benefit to the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

JOHN H. O'NEIL, JR.,
Administrative Assistant.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

BUILDING DEPARTMENT. BUILDINGS RAZED.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

725 Tremont street, Ward 9; 733 Tremont street, Ward 9.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 469, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Polcari.—725 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,680; 733 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,680; total, $3,360.

Mystic.—725 Tremont street, Ward 9, 1,825; 733 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,650; total, $3,475.

Berardi.—725 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,666; 733 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,349; total, $3,015.

Allstate.—725 Tremont street, Ward 9, $2,945; 733 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,945; total, $4,890.

John A. Berardi Wrecking Company, 117 Franklin street, Allston, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $3,015 to John A. Berardi Wrecking Company.

Very truly yours,
R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

980 Tremont street, Ward 9; 982 Tremont street, Ward 9.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Polcari.—980 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,365; 982 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,365; total, $2,730.

Berardi.—980 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,350; 982 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,349; total, $2,699.

Mystic.—980 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,490; 982 Tremont street, Ward 9, $1,490; total, $2,980.

Allstate.—980 Tremont street, Ward 9, $2,190; 982 Tremont street, Ward 9, $2,190; total, $4,380.

John A. Berardi Wrecking Company, 117 Franklin street, Allston, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

Duane.—62 Ruggles street, Ward 9; 64 Ruggles street, Ward 9; 66 Ruggles street, Ward 9; 68 Ruggles street, Ward 9; total, $3,675.

John Duane Wrecking Company, 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

President.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the award of the following contracts to the lowest eligible bidders:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

RENTAL OF EQUIPMENT.

DEAR SIR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with the usual form of advertising and to award a contract for maintenance of one sorter, six punch machines, one tabulator, two interpreters, and two reproducers to Remington Rand, Inc., 657 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, at an annual cost of $4,529.86, from April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966, inclusive.

There is no competition in the awarding of this contract as Remington Rand, Inc., is the only company with available facilities to properly service their machines.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. CUDDY,
Commissioner of Assessing.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with the usual form of advertising and to award an annual contract effective April 1, 1965, expiring March 31, 1966, for rental of one, Model 1004, card processor from Univac Division of Sperry Rand Corporation, 631 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Mass.

The amount of rental for this machine will be $1,150 per month.

There is no competition in the awarding of this contract as this corporation is the only supplier of this machine, which will form an integral part of the system.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. CUDDY,
Commissioner of Assessing.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

TABULATING EQUIPMENT.

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your approval of the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Univac Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation, 631 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Mass., for service maintenance on tabulating equipment owned by the City of Boston for the period from April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966, the total amount not to exceed $3,813.60.

This service is most essential in order to keep the seventeen pieces of tabulating equipment in the best operating condition possible so that there will be no delays in the preparation of payrolls and the appropriation accounting work which is performed by these machines; and since the Univac Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation is the manufacturer of the equipment, I believe that it will be in the best interest of the city to award the contract to this firm without public advertising.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN T. LEONARD,
City Auditor.

RENTAL AND SERVICING OF EQUIPMENT.

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your approval of the award without advertising of a contract to the Univac Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation, 631 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, for the rental and servicing of tabulating equipment as follows for the period from April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966:

- Two 1004 Card Processors.
- Two Card-O-Matic Punches.
- One Numeric Collator.
- One Electronic Sorter.
- One Voltage Regulator.

The total cost of the above rental of equipment will not exceed $52,260.

The rental and servicing of this equipment is required in order to perform efficiently the operations of the Tabulating Division of this department. The equipment owned by this department has been manufactured by the Univac Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation and the rental of this equipment from the same manufacturer without publicly advertising would serve the best interests of the city.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN T. LEONARD,
City Auditor.

AUDITORIUM COMMISSION.

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your Honor's authority is hereby respectfully requested to award to Limbach Company, 150 Causeway street, Boston, a contract for the operation and preventive maintenance (other than washing or replacing air filters) of all plumbing, heating, and air-conditioning systems in the city's War Memorial Auditorium at 900 Boylston street, Boston, twenty-four hours a day, including Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, from 4 P.M. on March 31, 1965, to 4 P.M. on June 30, 1966, at a basic cost to the city of $600 a week plus an additional fee of $15 for each day an exhibition, convention, show or gathering is held or is being set up, rehearsed or dismantled, and a further fee of $70 for each day the refrigeration machines for the assembly and exhibition halls are operated at the written request of the commission with the latter fee becoming $85 instead of $70 if the $15-fee is not paid for the same day. The contract will contain a provision that Limbach Company shall not operate the systems or provide preventive maintenance therefor after liability on the part of the city is accrued to an aggregate of $12,500.

Limbach Company was the subcontractor who installed the systems involved. If Limbach Company is engaged to operate these systems during the period involved, Limbach Company could hardly deny proper operation in the event of a situation occasioning resort to the guarantees respecting these expensive systems. This advantage could not be secured were the contract awarded to another; and so, we submit, no useful purpose would be served by inviting by advertisement bids for this contract.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT C. NORDELOM,
Chairman.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT ENGINEERING SERVICES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your permission to award a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to John Milo Associates, consulting engineers, 1318 Beacon street, Brookline, Mass., for engineering services in planning for the installation of boiler plant auxiliaries system, demolition of four existing boilers, installation of complete feed water and condensate return system complete with feed pumps and deaerating heater and preheaters at Long Island Hospital. The estimated cost of the proposed work is $41,000.

The architect will be paid a fee equal to 9.25 percent of the actual cost. This fee has been authorized by the Law Department.

In view of the professional nature of the services involved, it is felt that nothing would be gained by publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

Mayor Urges Bold Answers To Urban Fiscal-Social Problems

I have come before you tonight to make it clear, to tell all who will listen, Boston is not alone in facing the nation's urban crisis of the 1960s, as former Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith has identified it. But we—you and I—are mainly concerned with acute problems of our city—our own government.

In the City of Boston, everyday is a day of increasing problems, in areas both fiscal and social. Indeed, it might be said that we are at the crossroads in both of these areas:

In the fiscal area, are we to be assisted up the road to economic health and physical strength, so that we may provide for our inhabitants the services and facilities they require and deserve—or shall we be forced down the road to financial instability and incapacity to serve your needs and those of your children?

Here, I say, we must abandon all thoughts of personal or partisan politics, for the sake of the public itself.

In the social area, shall we together seek the path which leads to social, economic, and educational advance of all our citizens, regardless of race, color, or creed—or shall we permit ourselves, through ignorance, bias or default to deteriorate to a status of social and moral bankruptcy?

Here, we must lay aside passion and prejudice, so that we may, through our mutual efforts—obtain for each man, woman, and child of Boston—a degree of social integrity and self-respect unmatched elsewhere.

Civil Liberty

In the time made available to me through the courtesy of this station, I would like to discuss some of the aspects of these problems which confront us, and to call upon you—and all other citizens—for a concentration of our efforts in these directions, so that the days of impending crisis may dissolve into years of calm, and strength, and contentment for all.

Let me dwell first on the problems involved in the struggle of the Negro citizen—here and elsewhere—for civil liberty and economic and educational advancement—in short, for the right to obtain the ultimate goal of human dignity.

Not only as an individual obeying the dictates both of conscience and creed, but as Mayor of the very city in which freedom was nurtured, I am both personally and officially involved in, and committed to that struggle.

The vast majority of American citizens have a growing recognition of, and are increasingly concerned over, the discriminations practiced against our Negro fellow-Americans, just as there is a national concern for the plight of the impoverished among us that invites attention to the root causes of poverty.

We must have the decency, as well as the intelligence, to recog-

Mariner IV Signal To Start Pru. Dedication

The audible signal of Mariner IV, now speeding on its way to its July 14th rendezvous with planet Mars 350 million miles in space, will be used to dedicate the $150 million Prudential Center.

More than 10,000 persons are expected to be on hand for the formal dedication ceremonies which will follow one hour after the winner of the B.A.A. Marathon crosses the finish line on the North Plaza of Prudential Center on April 19.

Senior Vice-President Thomas Allsopp of Prudential's northeastern operations announced the participation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the dedication ceremony. He said the audible signal of the space vehicle will trigger a laser beam to fire one of the nation's oldest Revolutionary cannons.

The cannon, a six-pounder dating back to 1740, has been in possession of the Newport Rhode Island Artillery Company since the War of 1812. It was fired to signal the raising of the Colors over the City of Boston War Memorial Auditorium in Prudential Center, February 22.

"The joining of the electronic marvels of the 20th Century with this part of colonial heritage to dedicate the great Center is most appropriate," Allsopp said. "Hopefully this symbolic gesture will serve to remind us that as great as the promise of the future may be, nize that while racial discrimination is not a part of our legal fabric of government, conditions of subtle discrimination have the frequent effect of depriving our Negro neighbors of the full enjoyment of free citizenship.

Your responsibilities and mine are to acknowledge the facts, to recognize the legitimacy of the cause, and to assume the obligations of partnership in this undertaking to achieve civil and economic justice.

To this end, the City of Boston has undertaken many significant programs to improve housing conditions and opportunities for everyone—including the Boston Housing Authority program, a number of urban renewal and rehabilitation programs and through the creation of Action for Boston Community Development. This civic agency was established to investigate and correct the human and social problems concerned with the lack of opportunity of our less fortunate citizens. More recently, I have designated it as the city's agency for planning and mobilizing a comprehensive war on poverty under President Johnson's economic opportunity act.

As Mayor of Boston—even prior to the full awakening of the American conscience—I have concentrated a great deal of the city's efforts on the plight of our less fortunate citizens. And to the limit of my power and jurisdiction, and to the limit of its physical and financial resources, I pledge the continued activity of the City of Boston in achieving progress in these directions.

Racial Imbalance

There exist, however, two very significant areas in which our response has been less than adequate and these are in the fields of employment and education.

Much serious effort has been made to broaden employment opportunities for minorities. However, these efforts must be intensified and I urge the private sector as well as the public sector to move even more meaningfully to this end.

In the field of education, traditionally and hopefully regarded as one of Boston's proudest boasts, it has been contended and perhaps established by nearly all authorities and analysts that racial imbalance exists in the Boston school system. It is further agreed that the effects of racial imbalance are harmful and serve to deprive the child of equality of educational opportunity and when you so deprive any child, you not only rob him of his American birthright, but you potentially deprive the city and the nation of the talents of the might-have-been doctor, lawyer, teacher, or artist.

Regardless of the language employed, I believe that the Boston School Committee has recognized the existence of racial imbalance.

I urge the Boston School Committee to initiate a continuing dialogue with both the State Department of Education and responsible leaders in the educational and Negro communities to improve the Boston school program in this significant area so that no pupil—of whatever color, creed, or national origin—shall be denied the full educational opportunity which his parents and society are entitled to demand on his behalf.

As firm and insistent as we must be—here and elsewhere—in the cause of civil, economic, and educational justice for the Negro—so, too, must we be firm and resolute in our determination to achieve our goals peacefully.

The vast majority of Americans recognize the justice of the struggle, and are more than willing to assist and participate in the attainment of these great Democratic goals. But with equal unanimity they abhor and recoil from violence and intemperate action, wherever it occurs, and no matter whence it emanates.

Let all who labor in this freedom-cause refuse to permit their efforts to be encumbered, hampered, or defeated by the activities of those—whenever and wherever they are—who preach violence, hatred, or disorder.

Let peaceful persuasion, mutual understanding, and union of effort be our guidelines.

Fiscal Crisis

As we pass from consideration of the social problems which we seek to resolve, we cannot help but note the almost built-in relationship between those problems and the stark fiscal crisis which impends.

The cost of solving our social problems increasingly consumes our financial resources, while—ironically enough—those resources keep shrinking and shrinking.

Thus, the ability of the City of Boston—and in this respect I speak for all the cities and towns of Massachusetts—to pay for current municipal services, let alone for additional services, however urgently needed, is severely affected by the lack of additional revenue from a new source, other than the property tax.

Urban Problems . . .

You and I have worked hard during the last five years to build this New Boston. We have set an example for the nation, and newpeople from all over the world have reported to their readers the results of our efforts.

Confounding the prophets of doom, we are creating a vibrant, vigorous, growing city. Just think this coming Patriots' Day will see the formal dedication of the Prudential Center, where only a few short years ago there stood a bleak and enormous hole in the ground.

Looming Tax Hikes

The question is whether historians will record that the people of Boston did in fact pull themselves up by the bootstraps in the middle of the twentieth century, or merely almost did so—for the fact is that our future economic progress is placed in dire jeopardy by an impending substantial increase in our tax rate—an increase so substantial that it may prove disastrous to our future.

We face the certain reduction—if not the end—of new building in Boston because 1965—as matters now stand—will see an increase in our tax rate of at least $15, and possibly $18 per thousand, with the likelihood of further increases in subsequent years.

I hardly need assure you that this increased tax rate will occur despite all the familiar economies of our administration, and I believe you all know that the increase results from salary increases approved in part in last year's referendum and from other causes beyond the ability of the city government to control or prevent, including state-imposed obligations, increased welfare costs, spiralling school costs, increased pension costs, and other factors beyond our control.

What a tragedy if all our efforts for a New Boston should fail because of the refusal of the state government to provide relief for the property-taxpayer, through a new source of revenue.

The problem cannot be sidestepped any longer by the Commonwealth. We are already paying the piper for the delays of the past.

The Governor has made certain proposals to the Legislature, involving some modifications in the income tax, and provision for a limited sales tax, as well as other provisions contemplating a total increase of 225 million dollars in revenue—which amount would enable the state to balance its budget and to distribute approximately 100 million dollars to the cities and towns for educational purposes and to pay to the cities and towns the 58 million dollars the state already owes us, and to assume next year the costs of welfare and the costs of operating our court system.

Total Solution

In general I approve of the Governor's proposals, but I do not believe that anyone, including the Governor, is so wedded to the details of his program as to quarrel with any other reasonable tax program which will achieve the same goals, both as to amount, and as to distribution to the cities and towns.

The solution, however, must be a total solution for the cities and towns as well as the Commonwealth. No piecemeal approach which balances the state budget and turns a deaf ear to the plight of the cities and towns should be signed into law.

Less than a full solution could lead to abandoning the cities to bankruptcy—to depriving children of the opportunity of a decent education, to putting a stop to improved housing conditions, and to refusing resources for needed social reform.

And while I have talked about Boston at length, the same problems that exist in Boston exist in most of the other 38 cities in the Commonwealth. Their problems in many instances are as critical as those in Boston and in some instances even more critical.

My friends, our cities face two kinds of crisis, the roots of which are intertwined.

To resolve the social problems which confront us we must devote our combined intelligence, good will, initiative, and democratic faith.

As to our fiscal crisis, we are at the mercy of our state government. It is there that the solution lies.

Let those good citizens who are especially concerned with the problems in the field of social progress keep in mind that the attainment of our social goals may very well depend on our financial capacity, and that our financial capacity depends on the realistic solution by the state of our fiscal problems, through changes in our tax structure. Let them, therefore, also put their shoulders to the wheel.

If you agree with me that a tax program should be adopted which will accomplish the goals I have outlined, please contact your state Senators and Representatives and urge them to support this program.

You also can help by telephoning or writing the Citizens for Fair Taxes at 120 Tremont street, Boston, Hancock 6-8330, and offering your assistance.

If we continue to work together we shall have a stronger city, a stronger state, both socially and financially, and our children will be the true victors.

BHA Asks Bids

Chairman Jacob I. Brier of the Boston Housing Authority announced on April 9 that the Authority is receiving sealed bids for exterior painting of the apartment buildings, interior painting of the apartment building stairhalls, and the interior painting of the boiler room at the federally-aided Franklin Hill development, Dorchester.

Closing date for all bids, accompanied by a performance bid deposit of $1,500 is 12 noon Friday, April 23.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the Boston Housing Authority, 230 Congress street, Boston.

Dedication . . .

it could never have been possible without the great strength of national character forged in the same history as this cannon."

The audible signal of Mariner IV and the laser device will be activated to conclude the military ceremonies to present the New England states flags and the City of Boston flag to Prudential Center.

Mariner IV was launched from Cape Kennedy last November 28 on a seven-and-a-half-month, 325 million-mile trip to Mars, from which it will send back photographs and scientific data. The vehicle is due to fly past the red planet on July 14.

The beeping signal, obtained in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will sound for one minute, then break. The break will activate a beam from a five-ruby laser which will ignite the charge in a historic pre-Revolutionary War cannon. The boom of the cannon will signal a U. S. Marine Corps Color Guard to raise the U. S. flags on flagpoles on both the North and South Plazas.

As the Colors are raised, the band of the 26th (Yankee) Division of the Massachusetts National Guard will play "To The Colors." At that moment, the Center will be officially dedicated.

Before the formal flag raising, the state flags of each of the New England states and of New York and the City of Boston flag will have been presented in colorful ceremonies to Prudential Center officials. Those flags will be carried by a detail of 12 picked noncommissioned officers from the Yankee Division.

The Prudential Center is a complex of new buildings on a sweeping 31-acre site just off Copley square. The 52-story Prudential Tower, tallest building in the nation outside of Manhattan, rises 750 feet in the Center. The Northeastern Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company occupies the Tower's first 18 floors.

Nearby in the Center are the 52-story, 1,000-room Sheraton-Boston Hotel, the City of Boston War Memorial Auditorium, and an underground garage. Two 26-story apartment buildings and a business complex are now being built in the Center. Beautifully-landscaped plazas surround the glistening new buildings.

Time Capsules to Tell Fortunes of Year 1975

What will the progress of the northeastern region of the United States be in the next years?

More than 100 New England editors and newscasters have recorded their personal prediction for 1975 to be sealed behind a 350-pound piece of the historic Rock of Gibraltar as part of the dedication of the $150-million Prudential Center here next Monday.

Senior Vice-President Thomas Allsopp of Prudential's Northeastern operations said that the ceremony of sealing the time capsule behind the "Rock" will take place at 10 A.M. on Patriot's Day, April 19, and will precede the formal dedication of the Prudential Center at 3.30 P.M.

The chip from the famous Rock of Gibraltar is a gift from the British government to the Prudential Insurance Company of America and will be set in a bronze plaque in the front lobby of the 52-story Prudential Tower. "The Rock," an historic symbol of strength, has been the trademark of the Prudential since 1896.

Joining with Allsopp in the sealing of the time capsule will be the British Consul-General in Boston, John N. O. Curle, O.V.S.

More than 100 editorial pages from New England newspapers, along with audio-tapes of newscasters and prominent leaders in Boston civic, business, and governmental affairs, will be sealed in an airtight, copper document box to be embedded in the wall behind the bronze plaque on April 19.

Included in the ten-year predictions of what will happen by 1975 are forecasts by Governor John Volpe, Mayor John F. Collins, and President Gilbert Hood of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Also included is a tape recording of the sports editors of Boston's five metropolitan newspapers in a round table discussion of what they see happening in the sports world in 1975.

The giant Prudential Center is a complex of new buildings on a sweeping 31-acre site in Boston's Back Bay, just off Copley square. The 52-story Prudential Tower Building stands in the center. Seven hundred and fifty feet high, it is the tallest building in the nation outside of Manhattan. The Northeastern Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America occupies the first 18 floors.

Nearby in the Center are the 52-story, 1,000-room Sheraton-Boston Hotel, the City of Boston War Memorial Auditorium, and an underground garage. Two 26-story apartment buildings and a shopping complex are now being built in the Center.

Beautifully-landscaped plazas surround the glistening new buildings. The Center is the showpiece of the "New Boston."

Waterfront Aquarium Plans Okayed by BRA

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has approved preliminary plans for the proposed $2.7 million New England Aquarium in the Atlantic Avenue waterfront urban renewal area.

The complex would include an aquarium building, outdoor exhibition park, and a plaza entrance. The cost was estimated by the New England Aquarium Corporation, which currently is conducting a fund-raising drive for the project.

A spokesman said the Corporation to date has $900,000 in cash and pledges.

The Corporation expects construction to start this summer.

Architects are the Cambridge Seven.

The BRA also approved a plan to remodel the former Prince Macaroni building at 63 Atlantic avenue, as a 32-unit apartment building.

Developers of the $1.2 million renovation said there would be office space on the ground floor with apartments in the upper seven stories and penthouse.

Easter Parade Focus at Prudential on Eve of Gala Opening Day Ceremony

Add an extra sparkle to your stroll in Boston's Easter Parade this year by visiting the $150-million Prudential Center in Back Bay.

Easter paraders have been invited to have a preview of the new Center and to see the latest fashions in the New Boston's most thrilling setting.

The invitation to the public was extended by Thomas Allsopp, senior vice-president, in charge of Prudential's Northeastern Home Office.

A colorful spring flower show and concerts by a symphony orchestra and a massed chorus are among the special free attractions planned to make the Center a delightful point of visit from 1 to 5 p.m. on Easter Sunday.

The Open House and activities planned for Easter Sunday are a prelude to the formal dedication ceremonies of the Center on the following two days — Monday, Patriots' Day and Tuesday.

The spring flower show will consist of thousands of gay blooms displayed in giant planters on both the Center's North and South Plazas.

Favorite flowers, masses of vibrantly beautiful blooms, will be set off by the 600 fully-matured trees and shrubs which permanently decorate the beautifully-landscaped plazas.

Fountains on either side of the flying stairs leading from street level to the plazas will jet streams of water skyward. A beautiful reflecting pool surrounding the Prudential Tower will mirror the scene.

Traditionally, people taking part in Boston's Easter Parade stroll along Commonwealth avenue. This year they can cut across to nearby Boylston street to visit the Center.

The Center's North Plaza is entered from Boylston street, while the South Plaza fronts on Huntington avenue.

During the afternoon, the De Cordova Symphony Orchestra and the prize-winning 130-voice New England Conservatory chorus will perform on the South Plaza.

Arthur Fiedler, famed conductor of the Boston Symphony's Pops Orchestra, plans to take the podium to conduct several numbers.

The DeCordova Orchestra, sponsored by the DeCordova Museum in Lincoln, is led by Kalman Novak, noted conductor, teacher, and pianist.

The 45-piece orchestra which has won critical acclaim in recent years, is known as the best professional symphony orchestra of its size in New England.

The New England Conservatory chorus, conducted by Mrs. Lorna Cooke deVaron, has a world-wide reputation for excellence. The chorus has presented a number of premiere performances of works and has received awards for its classical recordings.

The National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences has twice given the chorus its award for best classical recording performance of the year. The first was for "Daphnis and Chloe" in 1961; the second was for "Romeo and Juliet" in 1962.

All of the landscaped plazas surrounding the 52-story Prudential tower will be open to the public. The tower, tallest office building in the nation outside of Manhattan, is surrounded by a 25-foot wide reflecting pool, with the plazas extending north and south from the base of the tower.

The Northeastern Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America occupies the tower's first 18 floors.

Adjacent to the tower are the 29-story, 1,000-room Sheraton-Boston Hotel, the City of Boston War Memorial Auditorium, and an underground garage. Foundations for two 26-story apartment buildings and a business complex are now under construction in the opposite end of the project.

Mayor OK's Increase

Mayor John F. Collins informed the City Council on April 12 that the Boston School budget has increased $12,872,000, or greater than 36 percent, during the five years he has been in office.

The Mayor's reference was contained in a letter to the Council in which Mayor Collins said he would approve a 1965 school budget of $46,729,668—which would be $2,594,947 greater than actual expenditures in 1964.

The Mayor held firm to his recommendations for the General School budget which has made it virtually impossible for the Committee to grant the salary increases which last week were declared illegal by the Corporation Counsel.

In his order to the Council the Mayor said that according to the Budget Director, "sufficient funds would be available to grant substantial increases for school teachers, if economy and efficiency is exercised in resisting the granting of large salary increases to non-teaching personnel who are presently enjoying salaries greater than employees in comparable positions in other city departments."

The Mayor said it was regrettable but necessary to inform the School Committee that the increases could not be allowed at this time.

Mayor Collins left the door open also for the School Committee to request the $1,000,000 they had taken from the Alterations and Repairs of the School Buildings account in an attempt to use this sum for the salary hikes which range from $600 to $4,000 annually.

Mayor Collins in a letter to the School Committee, last Friday, said that "I can only express surprise and disapproval." He said nothing was plainer than the fact that we must spend every dollar that we can possibly afford in maintaining school buildings. The Mayor continued by urging the School Committee to reconsider its "ill advised action" in requesting less than he would allow.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.
GUARD AND PATROL SERVICE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request the approval of your Honor for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to D. C. Sullivan & Co., Inc., 6 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., for the furnishing of guard and patrol service at the Central Library building and at the Long Island Book Storage Area, on Long Island, Mass., for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966.

The overcrowding of the bookstack area in the Central Library building has necessitated finding space elsewhere for the live storage of books. For this purpose there is being established a Long Island Book Storage Area to take care of approximately 650,000 volumes. With new book storage facilities at Long Island now in readiness to accept books for storage it becomes necessary to provide guard service at this location in order to minimize to the fullest possible extent loss of, and damage to, Library books and materials.

The rates to be charged for guard and patrol services rendered will be the same as for last year, and the cost of this service for the period of the contract will be kept to a sum not to exceed an upper limit of $40,500.

It is the opinion of the Trustees that the nature of this work is such as not to lend itself to public bidding. D. C. Sullivan & Co., Inc., was selected three years ago after a thorough examination of five companies in the guard and patrol protection business. At the present time this company is providing the required guard and patrol protection service in the Central Library building and is doing so most satisfactorily. The Trustees have therefore:

Voted, That Milton E. Lord, Director and Librarian of the Public Library of the City of Boston, he, and hereby is, directed to request the permission of the Mayor to award to D. C. Sullivan & Co., Inc., 6 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., the contract without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement in the City Record for furnishing guard and patrol protection:

(a) At the Central Library building in Copley square, Boston, for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966, at an hourly rate of one dollar eighty-five cents ($1.85) for each hour in each day, including Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays in all months in which D. C. Sullivan & Co., Inc., does furnish protection as aforesaid; and

(h) At the Long Island Book Storage Area, on Long Island, for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966, at an hourly rate of one dollar eighty-five cents ($1.85) for each day Monday through Thursday, from 5 P.M. through 9 A.M. the following day, and in addition on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday for each hour from 5 P.M. on Friday through 9 A.M. on Monday, and, further for each hour in each legal holiday 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. in all months in which D. C. Sullivan & Co., Inc., does furnish protection as aforesaid, the total amount which may be paid under this contract not to exceed the sum of forty thousand five hundred dollars ($40,500), the reason for the award as aforesaid being that the services are of a professional nature and do not lend themselves to such advertisement and:

Voted, That Milton E. Lord, Director of the Public Library of the City of Boston, be, and hereby is, directed in the name and behalf of the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston to execute said contract in quadruplicate."

Inasmuch as the total cost for this service will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) there is requested permission of your Honor to enter into this contract without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of an agreement with the New England Deposit Library for the storage of books and other library materials for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966.

The New England Deposit Library building is located at 135 Western avenue, Allston. The institution was created by action of the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under terms of chapter 240 of the Statutes of 1941. The act names the Boston Public Library as a "Participating Institution" together with the Massachusetts State Library, the Boston Athenaeum, Boston College, Boston University, Simmons College, the Massachusetts Historical Society and other libraries, for the purpose of providing storage space for books and other library materials for which there is only occasional use and for which storage space is not available in intensively used library buildings. The "Participating Institutions" share cooperatively in the low-cost housing arrangements provided by the New England Deposit Library in accordance with a schedule of rates standard for all "Participating Institutions."

The Trustees have set a limit of $9,145.50 on the amount to be expended for storage space for the period of the agreement. The Trustees have therefore Voted, That there be entered into with the New England Deposit Library, 135 Western avenue, Allston, an agreement for the rental during the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966, of storage space therein for books and other library materials belonging to the Boston Public Library, in accordance with the rates for storage space formally adopted by the governing board of said New England Deposit Library."

Inasmuch as the total cost of the storage space will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this agreement without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Sanatorium Division.

ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRS, "G" BUILDING.

YOUR HONOR:

After public advertising, on November 4, 1964, a contract in the sum of $23,876 was entered into by the City of Boston, acting through the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department, and A. Belanger & Sons, Inc., 173 Harvey street, Cambridge, Mass., the lowest eligible and responsible general bidder, providing for certain alterations and repairs on the east and west wings, and center section of the "G" Building at the Sanatorium Division of the Boston City Hospital, 249 River street, Mattapan, Mass.

Your authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with formal advertising at this time and to amend informally the contract in the sum not to exceed $2,300 to cover the cost of work over and above that encompassed by the contract, the accomplishment of which is most desirable and is directly related to the contract project. The extra work to consist of removing the deteriorated insulation in the areas that are being reroofed, and replacing same with new 1-inch fiberboard insulation at a cost of 56 cents per square foot, the total cost not to exceed $2,300. The above described extra work was not included in the alteration project as advertised because the presence of insulation was not determined when the specifications were drawn.

The addition of the above-mentioned extra work will result in a new contract price not to exceed $26,176.

Public advertising for this added essential work would not, in the opinion of the Board, be a practicable procedure, nor be in the best interests of the city.

For the foregoing reason, therefore, I now request for and on behalf of the Board, written permission to dispense with publicly advertising for bids for the above designated extra work, which, as recited above, will not exceed the net sum of $2,300.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR., President.

ALTERATIONS, BUILDING "A"

DEAR SIR:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve of the selection of James M. McCusker, 158 Aldrich street, Roslindale, Mass., as engineer for the preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of proposed alterations to Building "A" at the Sanatorium Division of the Hospital Department, 249 River street, Mattapan, Mass., for use as a clinical laboratory. The total estimated cost of the construction is $40,455.

Your Honor's authorization is also requested to dispense with public advertising in the award of the contract. The engineer's preliminary basic fee taken from the "B" rate of the American Society of Civil Engineers' fee schedule, and based upon an estimated construction cost of $40,455, shall be at 7 percent of said estimated construction cost. The engineer's final basic fee, however, shall be founded upon the actual total construction cost of the work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined by the A. S. C. E. schedule of fees which shall be set forth in the contract, provided, nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $15,000 for supplementary services by the engineer, exceed in the aggregate the sum of $4,545.

The Board respectfully submits that, since the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids therefor would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR., President.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

ADDITION, JAMES A. GARFIELD SCHOOL.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve my selection of Whitney, Atwood, Norcross Associates, Inc., 256 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., as architect for the construction of an addition to the James A. Garfield School, Brighton, Mass., at a total estimated construction cost of $650,000.

Also requested is your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising in the award of this contract. The architect's preliminary basic fee taken from the "B" rate of the Massachusetts Association of Architects' 1951 recommended schedule of the minimum rates and based upon an estimate cost of construction of $650,000, shall be at 7.9 percent of said estimated construction cost. The architect's final basic fee, however, shall be founded upon the actual total construction cost of the work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined from the Massachusetts Association of Architects schedule of fees which shall be set forth in the contract, provided, nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $15,000, for supplementary services by the architect, exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $75,000.

In my view, since the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids therefor would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM A. MCPHERSON,
Superintendent of Construction.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

51-57 Maywood street, Ward 12; 59-65 Maywood street, Ward 12.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1933, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Polcari.—51-57 Maywood street, Ward 12, $2,319; 59-65 Maywood street, Ward 12, $2,340; total, $4,659.

Mystic.—51-57 Maywood street, Ward 12, $2,244; 59-65 Maywood street, Ward 12, $2,244; total, $4,488.

Duane.—51-57 Maywood street, Ward 12, $1,925; 59-65 Maywood street, Ward 12, $1,925; total, $3,850.

Maher & Fall.—51-57 Maywood street, Ward 12, $1,590; 59-65 Maywood street, Ward 12, $1,590; total, $3,180.

Maher & Fall Wrecking Company, 230-260 Freeport street, Dorchester, Mass., have submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $3,180 to Maher & Fall Wrecking Company.

Very truly yours,
R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

From a report on the Keizer Sewing Club in the Salem, Ore., Keizer News: "They enjoyed a most delicious dinner, but also put in a good time on quilts."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

BOOKS AND LIBRARY MATERIAL.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request the approval of your Honor for the award of contracts, without public advertising, to the following publishers and dealers for the purchase of books and certain other library materials for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966:

The American News Company, The New England News Company Division, 20 Webster place, Brookline; DeWolfe & Fiske Co., 236 Summer street, Boston; McGraw-Hill Book Company, Division of McGraw-Hill, Inc., 330 West 42d street, New York, New York; Stechert-Hafner, Inc., 31 East 10th street, New York, New York; Campbell & Hall, Inc., 131 Clarendon street, Boston; Doubleday & Co., Inc., Garden City, New York; R. L. Polk & Co., 600 Washington street, Boston; University Libraries, Inc., 238 Main street, Cambridge.

The library will purchase the books and other library materials on the basis of offers submitted periodically by the above listed companies. The nature of the items to be purchased and the fluctuations in the prices thereof as well as in the desired quantities thereof do not lend themselves to public bidding. The cost of these items for the period of the contract will be approximately $275,000. The Trustees have therefore "Voted, That there be entered into, without public advertising, with the following contractors, contracts for the purchase of books and certain other library materials for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966, subject to the terms, agreements, and conditions set forth in said contracts:

"Campbell & Hall, Inc., DeWolfe & Fiske Co., R. L. Polk & Co., all of Boston, Mass.; The American News Company, The New England News Company Division, Brookline, Mass.; University Libraries, Inc., Cambridge, Mass.; and Doubleday & Co., Inc., McGraw-Hill Book Company, Division of McGraw-Hill, Inc., Stechert-Hafner, Inc., all of New York, New York."

Inasmuch as the anticipated purchases from each of the above companies is expected to be in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is requested permission of your Honor to enter into these contracts without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

RENTAL OF PREMISES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with Toffe G. Kando for the rental of premises located at 275 Washington street, Dorchester. These premises have served as quarters for the Mt. Bowdoin Branch Library since 1929. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966. There will be no change in the rate of rent, which will be in the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600). It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with Merle-Ed Realty Trust for the rental of the premises located at 161 Harvard avenue, Allston. These premises have served as quarters for the Allston Branch Library since 1939. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966. There will be no change in the rate of rent which will be in the sum of $4,300. It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without public advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with the Woodside Realty Corporation for the rental of the premises located at 18 Barnes avenue, East Boston. These premises have served as quarters for the Orient Heights Branch Library since 1929. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1965, through March 31, 1966. There will be no change in the basic rate of rent. The rental will be four thousand dollars ($4,000) plus "additional rent" of eight hundred sixty dollars ($860). It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

For the purpose of this lease the "additional rent" referred to is defined as that sum of money by which the real estate tax on the premises assessed for the year 1965 exceeds the 1949 real estate tax. It is further agreed that until such time as the real estate tax rate for the year 1965 is finally determined, the sum of eight hundred sixty dollars ($860) shall represent the "additional rent." Further, if the 1965 real estate tax as finally determined should be less than the 1949 real estate tax, no "additional rent" shall be payable and the Lessor covenants and agrees to pay the Lessee the difference.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT. SEWERAGE AND WATER WORKS SERVICE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In the Washington Park area, construction is proceeding on a schedule which has been worked out jointly by this department and the BRA. For our 1965 program here it is necessary to provide sewerage and water works to service certain streets in the area and also at the same time to achieve separation of the sanitary and storm drainage lines in other streets which will then be reconstructed.

The engineering firm of Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., under a previous contract with this department, prepared preliminary reports relative to the general requirements for sewer and water in this area.

Consequently because of their familiarity with the site and knowledge of the type and extent of public works required in the Washington Park area, the firm of Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., would be best able to provide the necessary engineering services for the sewer and water now needed here.

I therefore respectfully request your approval to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., 11 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., to provide engineering services for the design, contract plans and documents for all necessary sewerage and water works in the streets within the area bounded by Walnut avenue, Crawford street, and Warren street.

"The engineer's preliminary basic fee taken from the A rate of the American Society of Civil Engineer's fee schedule and based upon an estimated construction cost of $1,000,000 shall be at 75 percent of 6.7 percent of said estimated construction cost plus $33,500 for supplementary services such as field surveys, inspections, soil investigations, and similar services when needed. The engineer's final basic fee, however, shall be founded upon the actual total construction cost of the work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined from the A. S. C. E. schedule of fees plus the actual cost of supplementary services both of which shall be set forth in the contract."

In no case, however, shall this contract exceed the amount of $83,750.

Very truly yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

IV. CALL'S DATA.

Notice has been received from Call's Central Station Alarms that the designation of Signal 356 should be changed from A. E. Ogan Company, 29-31 Sleeper street, to Boston Wharf Company at the same location.

Company commanders shall make the following change in Call's running cards in this department:

Signal 386, change nearest Box to 3845.

V. HIGH COMMENDATION.

At 5:15 P.M., March 27, 1965, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2233 for a fire in a dwelling house at 49 Haskins street, Roxbury.

Upon arrival of the apparatus, members were informed that a baby was trapped in the second floor which was fully involved with fire and heavy smoke. Fire Fighter Arthur L. Glover of Ladder Company 4 entered the building without a gas mask, before ventilation had been accomplished or hose lines had been run and proceeded to the second floor. He crawled along the second floor landing and into a bedroom where he found a two-year-old boy on the floor. He carried him to the street where the baby was taken to the Boston City Hospital in a police ambulance. Fire Fighter Glover received burns to his hands during the rescue.

Because Fire Fighter Glover entered the building and rescued the baby under very difficult conditions, and without thought for his own safety, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

VI. A.D.T. DATA.

Notice has been received from the American District Telegraph Company that the following signals have been canceled:

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, March 15, 1965.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President TIERNEY in the chair, and all the members present.

The Reverend John Richardson, Diocese of Raleigh, North Carolina, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE REVEREND JOHN RICHARDSON.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Eternal God, spirit of truth and of light, of beauty and of goodness, bestow upon us Thy sustaining grace that our strength will not fail nor our vision fade. In the difficult days ahead, make us patient and thoughtful of one another in the fret and jar of tense days for our nation. Give us courage for this day and hope for tomorrow. May we march in a great army of friendship and brotherliness. Our armor the shield of Thy truth, our sword is the might of Thy love, and against these the spears of hate cannot ultimately prevail.

In Thy tender mercy, O God, grant peace and joy to John R. McGillivray, William F. Hurley and Senator Julius Ansel, servants of this city and this state.

Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, and deliver us from evil. Amen.

Eternal peace grant them, O Lord. May perpetual light shine upon them. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointments:

Weighter of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1965: Miss Eva Beggelman, 154 Orleans street, East Boston.

Referred to the Committee on Licenses.

IMPROVEMENT TO CHELSEA RIVER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 8, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

The federal River and Harbor Act of 1962 (Public Law No. 874 of the 87th Congress) makes $2,843,000 of federal funds available under certain conditions to improve Chelsea River for navigation. These improvements would allow larger tankers to reach the Chelsea River oil farms and thereby reduce the cost of transporting oil to this area. A letter from the State Commissioner of Public Works informs me that the project does not call for the acquisition of any interest in land within the limits of the City of Boston, and that damages due to construction and maintenance of the project is considered very unlikely. The Division of Waterways has further written the Corporation Counsel's office that no appropriation or contribution of funds by the City of Boston is required.

The Massachusetts statute applicable to the project (St. 1964, c. 543) technically requires, nevertheless, that there be an assumption of liability by the city before work on the improvements can be begun.

Accordingly, I recommend passage by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order which will enable me to execute the necessary instrument and thereby expedite the early commencement of the above-described project.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the City of Boston an instrument whereby the city, by virtue of section 29 of chapter 91 of the General Laws, as amended, will assume liability for all damages recoverable in law by any person for any taking of land, or of any right, interest or easement therein, to be made by the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts within the City of Boston for the purpose of improving the Chelsea River pursuant to Title I of Public Law No. 874 of the 87th Congress of the United States of America and chapter 543 of the Acts of 1964 of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and whereby the city, by virtue of said chapter 543, will further assume liability for all damages recoverable in law by any person for injury to property within the City of Boston resulting from the making or maintenance of such improvements.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. W. J. FOLEY moved reconsideration of the foregoing reference.

Coun. CRAVEN in the chair.

President TIERNEY in the chair.

The question came on the motion of Councillor W. J. Foley for reconsideration, the motion was lost.

INFORMATION RE SEWERAGE TREATMENT PLANT AT DEER ISLAND

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order with reference to several questions concerning the sewerage system in the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
February 10, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I wish to report on Boston's sewerage system with particular reference to questions raised in the following City Council order dated October 26, 1964:

"Ordered, That the Boston City Council request his Honor the Mayor to notify the City of Boston Public Works Commissioner to furnish the Boston City Council with information as to the possible effect the new opening of the Metropolitan District Commission Sewerage Treatment Plant at Deer Island will have on the present sewerage system in the City of Boston. Further, that the said Public Works Commissioner inform the City Council, through his Honor the Mayor, as to what steps are now being taken to modernize the sewerage system in the City of Boston."

Sewers were first constructed in Boston in the eighteenth century. These were built primarily for the drainage of cellars and discharged into the nearest waterway. As sanitary household fixtures came into use with adequate water available to carry off sewage, these ancient sewers were rebuilt and extended to serve more and more population so that by the last quarter of the nineteenth century the consulting physicians of Boston had become gravely concerned with the pollution of our brooks, streams, and rivers which were fast becoming open sewers discharging into Boston Harbor and creating serious filthy conditions to the Harbor itself.

On recommendations of the Board of Health and the Mayor, the Boston City Council on March 1, 1875, appointed a commission to report upon existing conditions and recommend plans for the future needs of the city. The report of this commission resulted in the passage of legislation (St. 136, Act 1876) authorizing the construction of our present so-called main drainage system serving City Proper, South Boston, and portions of Dorchester, Roxbury and West Roxbury. Sewage and storm water were collected in "combined sewers." In dry weather the flow, primarily sewerage, discharged into large interceptors and was carried to the Calf Pasture pumping station, thence across Dorchester Bay in a tunnel terminating at Moon Island. Here, receiving basins stored the sewerage until it was discharged on the out-going tide into the outer harbor. During rainstorms the flow of course, increased many times the interceptor system's capacity, and was disposed of by overflow structures into local waterways (Roxbury Canal and Boston Harbor, for example). Sewerage during rainstorms was so diluted that this overflow system was considered unobjectionable by sanitarians of that period.

Construction of this system was begun in 1879 and completed in 1884. At that time it was considered an engineering marvel. Public officials and engineers came from far and near to inspect it and develop their own facilities from design principles originated in Boston's system.

It is interesting to note that this old system was designed to serve 800,000 people not too far off the maximum Boston population of 1940.

After the opening of this system in 1884 new projects were begun to extend low level sewers toward the outlying section of Dorchester and West Roxbury and towards Brighton.

But by this time, the seeds of a Metropolitan Disposal System had been planted as a consequence of the universal success of Boston's system. In 1886 the Massachusetts Drainage Commission reported on a "General Drainage System for the valleys of the Mystic, Blackstone, and Charles Rivers" (Wright & Potter, 1886). The result of this report was enactment of chapter 439, 1889, originating what is now the Metropolitan Sewer District.

A complex of intercepting sewers was constructed serving Waltham, Watertown, Newton, Brookline, and Boston eventually outletting at Nut Island, Quincy (formerly Metropolitan South System). In like manner a sewerage system to service the towns in the Mystic River Valley was designed and constructed. This system has since been expanded to include Stoneham, Lexington, Reading, Wakefield, and Woburn; and was formerly known as the North Metropolitan Sewerage District.

The sewage from both of these systems like the City of Boston's Main Drainage Systems all discharge without treatment into Boston Harbor.

In 1935 the total discharge of raw sewage was:

Boston Main Drainage, 75,300,000 gallons per day.

Metropolitan North, 82,900,000 gallons per day.

Metropolitan South, 86,500,000 gallons per day,
Total 244,700,000 per day.

Thus, in cleaning up the streams, brooks, and rivers the pollution problem had been transferred to the Harbor and serious concern was being voiced once again by public health officials and others.

Chapter 42 of the Mass. Resolves of 1935 revived in 1936 a Special Commission on the Investigation of the Discharge of Sewage into Boston Harbor and Its Tributaries. This commission reported in House 1600 of 1936.

Following this report the Legislature enacted chapter 705 of 1945, chapter 606 of 1949, and chapter 645 of 1951 authorizing and directing the MDC to construct sewerage treatment plants at Nut Island, Quincy and Deer Island, and various conduits, pumping stations, and appurtenances. This legislation also provided for the transfer of Boston's Main Drainage Sewerage to the Metropolitan District Commission permitting this city to abandon its Moon Island facilities.

Construction of the postwar MDC improvements has now reached an advanced stage and it is anticipated that the metropolitan take-over will occur this year, finally ending the discharge of raw sewage into our Harbor.

While concern with Harbor pollution could not be minimized, other serious problems confront our sewer engineers.

In modern times, extension of our sewer systems have been planned and constructed to provide for separation of our sewerage and storm drainage by building double pipe systems, one for sewerage outletting into the Metropolitan or Boston Main Drainage System and the other for storm water flowing into brooks and streams practically all of which now flow through enclosed pipe systems. In the older sections of the city developed prior to 1900, however, we have for the most part our old "combined" sewer system as described earlier in this report. Our older system varies in condition from good to very poor. Considering the theoretical life of a sewer at sixty years, much of Boston's will require attention in the immediate and near future. Consideration must be given not only to improving the structural condition but also to the needs of separating storm flows from sewerage.

Within the past several years we have experienced two major structural failures in our main interceptors. The first occurred in Mt. Vernon street at Morrissey Boulevard when a section of a 10-foot 6-inch wood circular brick structure collapsed. Repairs cost $109,633.79. No exact cause of the failure has been established but it is felt that the operation of a spur railroad track directly over the sewer main could have caused stresses over a long period, contributing to the collapse. In 1962 another section of the main interceptor, a 10-foot six-inch wood circular sewer at Massachusetts avenue at Clapp street failed. Repairs cost $192,979.43. An examination of the entire wood sewer in this area indicated that much of it was in poor condition. Temporary measures have been taken to minimize the traffic loads directly over this sewer until its flow is reduced in 1965 by the diversion into the MDC system. After this, repairs or reconstruction can be accomplished with much less difficulty than was experienced in 1962. In the Back Bay area, an examination of the west side interceptor in Dalton street over which the Massachusetts Turnpike and the new $14,000,000 War Memorial Auditorium was then being constructed revealed serious defects and consequently new sections were constructed permitting the abandonment of the original structures.

These failures or near failures have been costly. But, fortunately no damage to private property or injury or loss of life has occurred. In Mount Vernon street, railroad freight cars passed over the location only a few hours before the entire roadway above the sewer collapsed creating a cavernous hole 50 feet by 20 feet and 20 feet deep, the earth having washed out through the collapsed sewer structure and the failure becoming evident only when the pavement structure itself collapsed. Similarly the second break in Massachusetts avenue was revealed when a break-through in the pavement revealed an even larger cavernous hole beneath. A witness from a nearby restaurant reporting the entire roadway pavement sagging over a foot as a Volkswagon passed over it with the break opening up just as the car passed beyond. With the heavy traffic volumes passing over this locale each day it was indeed fortunate that a serious accident did not occur.

Other minor failures have occurred as is to be expected in any old sewer system. These two recent major breaks, however, emphasize the seriousness of the situation and calls for action.

A Comprehensive Survey of Our Entire System Is Needed to Establish a Master Plan for Long-Range Improvement and Rehabilitation.

In 1950 the Planning Board, the Redevelopment Authority, and the Public Works Department opened negotiations with an outstanding firm of consulting engineers for development of master highway, water and sewer plans. Unfortunately, however, these studies have been deferred in favor of "project area" surveys needed to develop improvement programs for high priority sections such as Government Center, Washington Park, Castle Square, and the Waterfront. Recently the proposal for a comprehensive master plan study has been revived and we feel assured that an early sewer study can be begun in 1965 as part of Boston (CRP—Community Renewal Plan).

Much of our main drainage system is badly in need of cleaning. The Department has been well aware of this need for this work but has postponed it pending opening of the new Deer Island works when a substantial drop in flowage will facilitate cleaning work. Hence, we are now programming an extensive cleaning project to commence probably this fall.

Boston's MDC sewer assessment will increase from $1,426,934 in 1963 to $3,640,856 in 1966 when our main drainage is transferred and it is estimated that a deficit of $1,140,000 will occur in our 1966 Sewer Revenue Account unless sewer charges are increased. Rates 50 percent higher than at present would be required to operate in the black. Any comprehensive study of our sewerage system should include a careful study of costs and MDC apportionments. Measures should be considered to give Boston and other members of the MDC Sewer District control over costs and policy.

I am enclosing herewith a more technical summary report by James J. Devlin of this department who in his 50 years of service with the department has worked in close association with many of the engineers who planned and constructed the main drainage system and the early enclosures of the brook courses of Boston.

Respectfully,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 22, 1965.

James W. Haley, Commissioner

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the following Council order:

"Ordered, That the Boston City Council request his Honor the Mayor to notify the City of Boston Public Works Commissioner to furnish the Boston City Council with information as to the possible effect the new opening of the Metropolitan District Commission Sewerage Treatment Plant at Deer Island will have on the present sewerage system in the City of Boston. Further, that the said Public Works Commissioner inform the City Council through his Honor, the Mayor, as to what steps are now being taken to modernize the sewerage system in the City of Boston."

To evaluate this problem it is first necessary to outline a brief history of sewage and surface drainage disposal in Boston. Chronologically, the early sewers or shores the first of which was constructed prior to 1700 were for the drainage of cellars, and excluded sanitary sewage. With the advent of the water carriage of sewage, sanitary fixtures were connected with the existing sewer lines and new lines were constructed, and all discharged to the nearest waterway. The first public sewer was constructed in 1823.

In the decade preceding 1875 the average annual death rate of Boston was about 25 in 1,000. The consulting physicians of Boston were gravely concerned with sanitary conditions. In a communication to the City Council (December 28, 1874) upon the necessity of improved sewerage, the City Board of Health pointed out the evils of the existing system and urged radical changes. The Boston City Council passed an order on March 1, 1875, authorizing the Mayor to appoint a commission to report upon the present sewerage of the city and a plan for main lines for the future needs of the city. This commission recommended main drainage works for the territory south of the Charles River and system for territory north of the river. The City Council adopted the recommendation of the commission as it pertained to southern portion and an act was approved April 11, 1876, entitled "An Act to empower the City of Boston to lay and maintain a main sewer discharging at Moon Island, in Boston Harbor, and for other purposes." This was the first of the three sewerage systems serving Boston and outletting into Boston Harbor. The work started in 1879 and the system was put in operation January 1, 1884. The territory to be sewered was to be the area bounded by the Charles River, Mother Brook, and the Neponset River. The system was designed to serve a population of 800,000 with provision for a rainfall of 4-inch in 24 hours. In times of storm, provision was made to utilize the old outlets and discharge the mingled sewage and storm water into the waterways. This construction is known as the "combined system of drainage," and no longer recommended. Construction of the system was made from Moon Island to drain South Boston, City Proper, the lower section of Dorchester to Freeport street, the Stony Brook Valley and a portion of Roxbury, by means of a system of intercepting sewers laid at low levels around the periphery of the above districts, picking up all of the old sewers. Work was proceeding on the construction of a main sewer to service Brighton, when the idea of making sewage disposal a metropolitan function was formulated.

In 1886 the Massachusetts Drainage Commission reported to then governor, on "A General System Drainage for the Valleys of the Mystic, Blackstone, and Charles Rivers" (Wright & Potter, 1886). The result of this report was enactment of chapter 439 of 1889, and the construction of sewerage systems for the then cities of Boston, Cambridge, Somerville, Malden, Chelsea, Woburn, and the then towns of Stoneham, Melrose, Winchester, Arlington, Belmont, Medford, Everett, and Winthrop into what afterward became the metropolitan north sewerage system; and for the cities of Boston, Waltham, and Newton, and the towns of Watertown and Brookline which later became part of the metropolitan south sewerage systems. The latter system was connected to the Boston Main Drainage System until the construction of the Metropolitan High Level Sewer and outlet in Nut Island, Quincy, in 1906.

The sewage from these three outlets was discharged without treatment into the waters of Boston Harbor. In 1935, the amount of sewage from the Boston Main Drainage System averaged 75.3 million gallons per day, the Metropolitan North System 82.9 million gallons per day, and the Metropolitan South System 83.5 million gallons per day, for a total of 244.7 million gallons of raw sewage per day.

Under authority of chapter 42 of the Resolves of 1935, revised in 1936, a Special Commission on the Investigation of the Discharge of Sewage into Boston Harbor and its Tributaries, was organized, and reported as House 1300 of 1936.

Based mainly on their report the Legislature enacted chapter 703 of 1945 which authorized and directed the Metropolitan District Water Supply Commission to commence the following construction: Project 1. The construction of a sewage treatment plant and appurtenant works at Nut Island in the City of Quincy, including provision for the disposal of sludge from the sewage of the South Metropolitan Sewerage District. Project 2. The construction of and extension of the North Metropolitan Relief Sewer from East Boston to Deer Island, including a pumping station and appurtenant works at East Boston; and investigations, borings, designs, plans and specifications only of a sewage treatment plant and appurtenant works at Deer Island of the North Metropolitan Sewerage District. Project 3. The construction of conduits, pumping stations and other works along Alewife Brook in the cities of Cambridge, Medford, and Somerville and the towns of Arlington and Belmont. Project 4. The construction of conduits, pumping stations and other works for the purpose of providing relief from storm overflow on the southerly side of the Charles River into the Charles River Basin. Project 5. The construction of conduits, pumping stations and other works for the purpose of providing relief from storm overflow on the northerly side of the Charles River into the Charles River Basin.

The scope of Project 2 was extended to include a sewage treatment plant at Deer Island in Boston, by chapter 606 of 1949.

Chapter 645 of the Acts of 1951 placed the territory exclusively served by the main drainage system within the South Metropolitan Sewerage District, and amended chapter 703 of 1945, 583 of 1947, and 606 of 1949, and authorized the following additions:

Project A. The construction of a tunnel between Columbia Circle and Deer Island with necessary shafts and appurtenant works. Project B. The construction of a tunnel between Ward Street Pumping Station and Columbia Circle with necessary shafts and appurtenant works. Project C. The enlargement of the previously authorized Deer Island sewage treatment plant to care for the flow from Project A. Project D. The construction of a relief sewer between Boston University Bridge and Ward street. Project E. The construction of a relief sewer for the west side and Stony Brook interceptors of the Boston Main Drainage District. Project F. The construction of a Marginal Conduit Pumping Station and appurtenant works. Project G. The rehabilitation of tidegates and pumping stations. In constructing Projects A, B, C, D, E, and F provision is made for the receipt by the South Metropolitan Sewerage System of the sewage of the main drainage system of the City of Boston.

Your Honorable Body has requested information as to the possible effect the new opening of the Metropolitan Sewerage Treatment Plant will have on the present sewerage system in the City of Boston. Since the projects set forth in Projects 1 to 5 in chapter 705 of 1945 and chapter 645 of 1951 Projects A to G, are so closely connected I have taken the liberty to report on the over-all construction program, as set forth above.

The first effect would be on the sanitary condition of Boston Harbor. The present old Boston Main Drainage outlet at Moon Island presently discharging 75 million gallons of raw sewage per day will be discontinued. The present MDC Nut Island Treatment Plant will continue to discharge chlorinated sewage effluent after primary treatment into the harbor. The innocuous digested sludge from this plant is now discharged into deep water at President Row. Upon completion of the MDC projects the contents of no sewerage system, except that discharged in time of storm from overflows from "combined sewers," which will be considered later, will be discharged into Boston Harbor. The recreational facilities of these waters, for bathing and boating will be improved immeasurably, and public health standards will raise in like proportion.

In the basic design of the Deer Island Sewerage Treatment Plant settleable solids will be eliminated 100 percent; solids in suspension will be reduced 55 percent; and bacteria count after chlorination will be reduced 100 percent.

In the primary treatment process this is accomplished as follows: the velocity of flow of the sewage is reduced to approximately 2 linear feet per second which causes the grit to fall to the bottom of the grit chamber, where it is mechanically collected and washed and disposed of as fill. The flow then passes, after passing through comminutors which grind the solids to shreds, to sedimentation chambers where under a further reduction in velocity the solids drop to the bottom of the chamber and are collected by mechanical squeegees into channels, and the solids, called sludge is pumped to digester tanks. The effluent is then discharged after chlorination to the harbor. The sludge in the digester tanks is heated to the optimum temperature to produce the maximum bacterial development, and this bacterial action, reduces the instability of the sludge to stable chemical elements. A by-product of this process is methane, a gas of the ester series and is used, to heat and light the plant, and supply the power to operate the pumping units.

The present status of this comprehensive plan is as follows:

As set forth under chapter 705 of 1945:

Project 1. The Nut Island treatment plant for the old south metropolitan sewerage system has been completed and is in satisfactory operation for some years. Project 2. The extension of the north metropolitan relief sewer from East Boston and Deer Island, including a pumping station has been completed, and is in operation. Project 3. Alewife Brook improvements have been completed. Project 4. The Charles River relief sewer for the southerly side of the Charles River is substantially completed. Project 5. The Charles River relief sewer for the northerly side of the Charles River is still pending.

Under amendments to the basic statute.

Project A. The tunnel between Deer Island and the Strandway near GSF is completed and the headworks are on schedule for a target date of June 30, 1965. Project B. The tunnel from this former tunnel and Ward street is completed, and the appurtenant works on schedule. Project C. The enlargement of the Deer Island treatment plant has been made and progressing on schedule. Project D. The relief sewer from Boston University Bridge and Ward street is substantially completed. Project E. The relief sewer for the west side and Stony Brook interceptors is completed. Project F. The Marginal Conduit Pumping Station and appurtenances has not been started.

Under authority of chapter 612 of 1959, the Metropolitan North and South Sewerage District and the Boston Main Drainage System were merged into one system, and the method of assessing the member municipalities changed from relative tax valuations to relative capacities of municipal sewers and the total of all such sewers in the district. The assessments for maintenance and operation remain the same as formerly, on relative populations.

The present computation calls for payment by the City of Boston, for principal and interest, of 36.18 percent, which by authority of section 9, of chapter 612 would be reduced by 52 percent until November 1, of the year of connection. The percentage for maintenance and operation was 18.46 percent in 1963, based on a resident population of 319,636 within the metropolitan sewerage districts in Boston. This percentage will be based on the total resident population, as determined by the latest census of Boston, upon connection of the Boston Main Drainage System.

The financial impact on Boston to pay the cost of these improvements will be tremendous. The outstanding debt of the Metropolitan Sewerage District, on June 30, 1964, was $82,222,000. The debt service requirements for the year ending June 30, 1964, were $5,162,275.80; in 1965 will amount to $5,909,004.17, and in 1966, $6,262,286. The maintenance costs are determined by legislative enactment. The increase in cost of maintenance on completion of the Deer Island Treatment Plant and other additions will add at least $1,250,000 per year to the cost.

The second question raised in your order is the steps taken to modernize the sewerage system in the City of Boston. The problem to be resolved is this. Boston has approximately 30 miles of intercepting sewers and approximately 1,315 miles of common sewers. The former sewers were constructed between 1879 and 1884, as the Boston Main Drainage System, and the latter between 1823 and the present date. Considering the useful life of a sewer to be sixty years, the theoretic life of the former has been exceeded by twenty years. Alarmists might point to the recent two breaks in the main line and urge an immediate rebuilding of the entire system on the separate system of drainage at a possible cost as high as \$200,000,000 I hold to a much more conservative view. The old system has some inherent weaknesses, as viewed by modern practice. The basic design was estimated on a per capita use of 75 gallons per day which was conservative even in 1875. The old metropolitan systems were designed on a per capita use of 225 gallons per day, and the metropolitan high level sewer was designed on a per capita use of 300 gallons per day. The system was designed for an ultimate population of 800,000 persons, and the present resident population is 297,000 persons. The allowance for rain water is $\frac{1}{4}$ inch rainfall in a twenty-four-hour period, which of course is exceeded in even minor storms. The surplus mingled sewage and storm water is discharged into the nearest waterways. This of course defeats the purposes of the general plan and creates a potential health hazard.

On the plus side, the Boston Main Drainage System is an honor built sewage disposal plant, excellently engineered and constructed. Boston was the originator of the "separate system" of drainage. In the early 1890's some of the brook courses were placed in conduits, and the policy has continued to the present day, so that Boston has the nucleus of a surface drainage system already available in some sections of the city. The separate system of drainage legislation, chapter 383 of 1903, was introduced by the mayor of Boston. In the districts of Boston required to be separated the work has been done. During this administration in the territory not required by law to be separated, separation has been accomplished prior to highway construction or reconstruction.

There is now required an exhaustive examination of the entire main drainage system to discover defects and weaknesses in all structures. A complete hydraulic study is required, and a program of construction, reconstruction and repair set up to accomplish this end within a ten- or twenty-year period.

My personal opinion is that this can only be accomplished by retaining a single engineering firm to make this study and report, as the over-all findings will be so closely connected to each section of the system as to make joint engineering studies impractical.

Revitalizing the common sewers would be in conjunction with the main study.

Mayor Launches Big Anti-Jaywalking Educational Campaign April 27

Mayor Collins will get Boston's intensive jaywalking educational campaign under way Tuesday, April 27, when he activates the "Walk" and "Don't Walk" signals at Winter and Tremont streets at 10.30 A.M.

On that day, four key downtown intersections will be turned into "pedestrian classrooms". Specially trained police will be on duty constantly to control pedestrian and motor traffic with special emphasis on traffic and safety regulations.

The other demonstration corners will be at Tremont and Boylston streets, Berkeley and St. James avenue in the Back Bay, and Boylston street and Mass. avenue.

The police will use loud speakers to explain to both pedestrians and motorists the "do's and don'ts" of crossing the street, and women school traffic supervisors will distribute leaflets dealing with the subjects.

The campaign is being carried out to familiarize both pedestrians and motorists with jaywalking regulations which will go into effect November 1. After that date, violators will be issued tickets.

Traffic and Parking Commissioner Thomas F. Carty, commenting on the campaign, said:

"A thousand pedestrians are injured and 40 killed in Boston every year. We are now launching an all-out drive to reduce these injuries and deaths. Similar campaigns have cut deaths in half in other cities." Commissioner Carty pointed out that the drive has a two-fold purpose—first, to make people aware of their unsafe walking habits, and second, to emphasize proper procedures so that pedestrians and motorists can take turns using intersections.

"We have extended the start of enforcement until November 1," he said, "so that we will have time to explain thoroughly the new regulations to the thousands of students who will return to Boston schools and colleges after Labor Day."

Typewriting Classes For Youth Initiated

Special classes in typewriting will be started at the Boston School of Business for youth eligible for the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

The program has been set up by the Action for Boston Community Development, Incorporated, and the School Department.

Early operation of the Neighborhood Youth Corps in schools and in various community agencies indicates there is a great demand for workers who can type. Many youth eligible for Neighborhood Youth Corps have not yet acquired this skill. Director Charles E. Schroeder of Adult Education in Boston Schools, has organized beginning classes in typing at the Boston School of Business to train girls for opportunities in the Neighborhood Youth Corps and in private business. He points out that this is an unusual opportunity. Afternoon classes of this type for youngsters still in high school have never been offered before in the Boston Schools.

Miss Margaret Carroll, head of the Boston School of Business, has offered the facilities of that school to carry out the program. A six-week course, two hours a day, should enable many of the students to develop their typing skill to the point that they can perform routine office work.

The classes are held every school day from 3 P.M. to 5 P.M. at the Boston School of Business, Warren street, Roxbury. The classes are open only to students who are in school and who are eligible for the Neighborhood Youth Corps. The Youth Corps guarantees work assignments to those who successfully complete the course. High school youth who may be qualified should consult the Work-training Counselor in their own school.

Apartment Complex Planned on Dock Site

The historic National Docks property located on Boston Harbor, has been purchased by two Boston Real Estate investors, I. Wasserman and Richard Robie, Jr., combined as the Marine Realty Trust.

The unusual 15 acre property consists of 58 buildings containing approximately 750 thousand square feet of rentable area.

It is located at the Maverick MBTA station and extends to the harbor with several thousand feet of dock area. The buildings are currently being used as warehouse facilities for many national companies and is used as home base for the Pilot Ship for Boston Harbor.

The geographic location is unique in that it is only five minutes to the Government Center or Logan International Airport and permits a spectacular view of the ever changing New Boston Skyline.

In an interview printed in the April 16 issue of the New England Real Estate Journal Wasserman gave the following reasons for purchasing the property "There has been much excitement over the fantastic proposed waterfront development in Boston to include apartments, restaurants, recreation facilities and motels which would have no particular view other than water and older industrial properties.

"We are planning an apartment complex of 1,000 units with a marina, a high rise motel, a restaurant and a neighborhood shopping plaza with open landscaped area and ample parking which would have a breathtaking view of the city including $3 billion of new construction as well as the harbor with a variety of passing yachts and ships."

The development of the property will be handled by State Properties of New England. State Properties well-known office building managers include in their immediate plans over 400 acres of industrial development and several shopping Centers along with this waterfront development.

The medal is framed and under glass and a parchment will detail the hero's Fire Department history. A poem written by the late Henry Gillen, an editor of the old Boston Post, was also inscribed.

Other highlights of the ball were the presentations to this year's winners of the John E. Fitzgerald Medal for a Most Meritorious Act; the Walter Scott Medal for Valor; the Patrick J. Kennedy Medal of Honor and the citation of five firefighters to the Roll of Merit.

13-1593, Sheraton Boston Hotel Garage, 39 Dalton street.

Company commanders will add above boxes to assignment cards. The circuit numbers will be announced when the boxes are installed.

III. HIGH COMMENDATIONS.

At 10.45 P.M., March 27, 1965, the department responded to Box 7415 (3 alarms) for a fire at Marian Manor, a home for elderly people, located at 40 Old Harbor street, South Boston.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 1, the first company, at the location, members brought a line over the stairway to the fourth floor where there was a severe concentration of heat, smoke, and gases. Fire Fighter Thomas S. Lydon of that company, upon hearing moaning from somewhere ahead, left the other members with the line and groped his way forward in the direction of the sound. After covering some distance, he came upon an unconscious man lying on the floor of the hallway. He dragged the man back towards the door leading to the stairway where other members brought him to the street.

Fire Lieut. Richard A. Kemp of Engine Company 43 and Fire Fighter Charles E. Graul of Engine Company 1 were assisting in the advance of the hose line of Engine 43 and upon reaching the fourth floor they heard moaning. They groped their way down the hallway to a room where Fire Lieutenant Kemp found an unconscious man on a bed. In the meantime, Fire Fighter Graul entered another room off the hallway and found a man leaning out a window. They removed both victims to the stairway and thence to the street.

Fire Fighters Henry J. Miller and James J. Mahon of Engine Company 43, who were assisting in the running of a 2½-inch line over the stairway to the fourth floor, also heard moaning coming from one of the rooms on that floor. They groped their way down the hallway and found two unconscious men in the room. One man was sitting in a chair and the other was lying unconscious on the floor. Fire Fighter Miller aided in placing one man on the shoulders of Fire Fighter Mahon who carried him out of the building. Fire Fighter Miller was unable to lift the other man and dragged him out of the room, along the corridor and to the stairway where other members assisted in removing him to the street.

Fire Fighters Charles P. McNally and Francis X. McDonnell of Ladder Company 19 went over a ladder to the fourth floor, accompanied by Fire Capt. Thomas F. Bohan of that company. Fire Fighters McNally and McDonnell entered through a window into a room where they found the occupant. They brought him to the ladder where Fire Captain Bohan removed him to the street.

All the foregoing rescue work was performed without the aid of gas masks, before hose lines were placed in operation, and before ventilation had been accomplished. All members concerned in the rescue work suffered severely from inhalation of smoke and heat and physical exhaustion.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend highly the following-named members of the department who performed their duty with complete disregard for their own safety, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Fire Lieut. Richard A. Kemp, Engine Company 43.

Fire Fighter Charles E. Graul, Engine Company 1.

Fire Fighter Henry J. Miller, Engine Company 43.

Fire Fighter James J. Mahon, Engine Company 43.

Fire Fighter Thomas S. Lydon, Engine Company 1.

Fire Fighter Charles P. McNally, Ladder Company 19.

Fire Fighter Francis X. McDonnell, Ladder Company 19.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WIDOW'S RETIREMENT

ADDITION, GROVER CLEVELAND SCHOOL.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve my selection of Mr. Mario V. Caputo, 100 Arlington street, Boston, Mass., as architect for the construction of an addition to the Grover Cleveland School, Dorchester, Mass., at a total estimated construction cost of $900,000.

Your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising in the award of this contract is also requested. The architect's preliminary basic fee taken from the "B" rate of the Massachusetts Association of Architects 1951 recommended schedule of minimum rates and based upon an estimated cost of construction of $900,000, shall be at 7.6 percent of said estimated construction cost. The architect's final basic fee, however, shall be founded upon the actual total construction cost of the work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined from the Massachusetts Association of Architects schedule of fees which shall be set forth in the contract, provided, nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $16,000, for supplementary services, by the architect, exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $88,000.

In my view, since the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids therefor would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM A. MCPHERSON,
Superintendent of Construction.

GOVERNMENT CENTER.

NEW CITY HALL.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Government Center Commission of the City of Boston respectfully requests your Honor's authority to dispense with public advertising for proposals in the City Record and to amend the contract with Wes-Julian Construction Corporation, for (Stage-1) construction of the new City Hall, in an amount not to exceed $14,846.42.

The amendments here proposed, four in number, would provide, respectively, for the following work: (a) additional excavation required to remove obstructions to the pile driving work, and to add and relocate certain piles; (b) additional excavation and fill requirements owing to the exact location of the Washington Street subway tunnel as finally determined during excavation; (c) relocation of and changes in lettering on the temporary sign, and (d) additional work, including the furnishing of labor and equipment, necessitated by an order of the commission to stop the "concreting" of piles pending the performance of certain pile load tests. The character and extent of these pile load tests have already been described in detail in the letter to your Honor from the chairman of this commission, dated March 6, 1964. The unit prices per cubic yard of excavation and fill work provided for under the first two amendments just described will, of course, be the applicable unit prices already recited in the contract.

For your Honor's further information, it is the commission's intention at this time also to amend the contract in three additional items, each of which will result in a decrease in the total estimated cost of the work to the City of Boston. These decreases have been brought about by the fact that it was not necessary to reach the maximum estimated quantities recited in the contract for certain items of work, and the net result of all the items of amendment described in this letter will be a reduction of $34,498.34 in the contract price presently provided.

Finally, the commission wishes to state that your Honor's authority to dispense with public advertising may at some future time be requested in connection with a proposed amendment to provide for the necessary splicing and redriving of 63 additional piles over and above the splicing and redriving of the 29 piles referred to and explained in the letter to your Honor from the chairman of this commission, dated May 28, 1964. At the present time, however, agreement has not been reached as to certain ancillary extra costs involved in this additional work.

Accordingly, we did not consider it appropriate to invite proposals by public solicitation for the foregoing work, which is incidental to and of the same character as the work which Wes-Julian Construction Corporation has thus far performed to the satisfaction of this commission. We submit that such a procedure would not avail the City of Boston, and we respectfully request your Honor's authority to dispense therewith and to amend the contract in the amount and manner provided.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT M. MORGAN,
Chairman.

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, March 22, 1965.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President TIERNEY in the chair, and all the members present.

The Reverend John Richardson, Diocese of Raleigh, North Carolina, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE REVEREND JOHN RICHARDSON.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Eternal God, may the labors of this day be in accord with Your holy will. In this moment of prayer help us to realize that no matter how high, how difficult, or how holy, be the duties we face, they can be perfectly fulfilled with Your divine goodness and power working in us. May we walk and work through this day without fear, for Yours is the strength that sustains us, the wisdom which guides us, and the grace which redeems and rewards us.

With all Americans we join in prayer for the courageous American astronauts who prepare for a new adventure into space. Protect them, guide them, reward them for their effort with success for peace in a confused and bewildered world. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

REDIVISION OF CITY INTO WARDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 22, 1965.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen:

As requested by a resolution adopted by your Honorable Body on December 23, 1964, I have caused to be prepared, and submit herewith for your consideration, the draft of a petition for legislation providing for a redivision of the city into wards in 1974 (the earliest year constitutionally permissible) and decennially thereafter.

At the same meeting of your Honorable Body, you accepted a report of your Executive Committee which suggested that the matter of the redivision of the city into wards be referred to me for an opinion as to what is probably the best way to solve the situation and come to an equitable and fair conclusion consistent with the law on both the federal and state levels. It is my opinion that an essential first step is the enactment of current legislation (such as the accompanying bill) clarifying the City Council's power and responsibility with respect to the matter.

Respectfully,

ARTHUR G. COFFEY,
Corporation Counsel.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled.

The undersigned, citizens of respectfully petition for the passage of the accompanying bill and/or for legislation providing for a decennial redivision of the city of Boston into wards, substantially as set forth in the accompanying bill, and for such other, further or similar legislation, if any, as may be necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes and objects referred to.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-five.

An Act Providing for a Decennial Redivision of the City of Boston into Wards.

It shall be the duty of the city council of the city of Boston to exercise, in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four and in every tenth year thereafter, the power vested in it by section one of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws and, by ordinance subject to the provisions of section seventeen D of chapter four hundred and fifty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-eight, make, in conformity with said section one, a new division of said city into such number of wards, not less than twelve nor more than thirty-six, as said council by such ordinance shall determine.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

INTERIM REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. HYNES, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following interim report:

Speaking for the Committee on Ordinances, regarding the Housing Inspection Department, we had a public hearing on March 16, 1965, and I wish to submit the following interim report:

At the hearing, it was suggested that no final action be taken until Judge Langan who represents the Health Department inspectors, had an opportunity to meet with the Mayor to discuss what plans will be used to transfer the people from the Health Department and as to how they will be transferred.

The representative from CORE suggested the ordinance was not broad enough. I was asked to give CORE an opportunity to offer some concrete plans, and they said they would like to suggest a few things.

Mr. Kerr of the Law Department stated that he would need time to research the law to see if this proposed ordinance could be extended.

Accordingly, I am going to schedule another couple of hearings in order to give the interested parties an opportunity to answer the questions of the committee, and that the committee should have the benefit of these answers before we can make an intelligent evaluation of this ordinance.

For the Committee,
BARRY T. HYNES, Chairman.

The interim report was accepted.

Coun. CRAVEN in the chair.

INTERIM MINORITY REPORT ON ORDINANCE CREATING A HOUSING INSPECTION BUREAU.

Interim minority report of Councillor W. J. Foley, Jr.

It has been said that the Modern Theory of Public Relations is that it is of no importance whatever what you do. All that is important is what you appear to be doing. I have this in mind remembering the testimony at the hearing on March 16, 1965, concerning the proposed ordinance on code enforcement.

If a person represented to you that he or she was a professionally trained teacher, you would expect that person to have some idea of what a proper pupil-teacher relation would be in the second grade in school.

If a person represented to you that he was a physician and an expert in public health, you would expect that person to have some faint notion as to how many persons in the community would constitute a proper work load for one general practitioner.

If a person represented to you that he was a Captain of Infantry in the United States Army, you would expect him to know how many soldiers there are in an infantry company under existing standards of organization.

All these simple tests, in essence, were applied to the administration's spokesmen with reference to the code enforcement effort, and the question has been asked by me over and over again, over almost a year's time, of the Building Commissioner, the Director of the so-called Office of Neighborhood Improvement, the Health Commissioner, and at the last hearing, of Mr. Finn, who "I see by the papers" will be the director of this new code enforcement effort, when they all were asked how many units in the City of Boston there are which require an intensive code enforcement effort. Individually, these eminent gentlemen have not the slightest idea, and, collectively, the situation is even worse.

Do we need 40 inspectors? Do we need 400 inspectors? Do we need 4 inspectors? Don't ask the Building Commissioner, the Director of Office of Neighborhood Improvement, the Health Commissioner, or the new director of something or other, they don't know.

The ultimate reduction to absurdity in all this nonsense is the suggestion that the program should proceed by annually inspecting every living unit in the City of Boston. Now, there may be code violations in the $1,000 a month apartments at 330 Beacon street, but I would rather have that inspector's time spent in a rat-infested tenement in Roxbury. I will take my chances on 330 Beacon street.

CONCLUSION.

I suggest as a bare minimum of information for a rational decision in this matter, municipal officials who allegedly have had cognizance of this area of activity under the present administration for the past five years, should provide us with some estimate as to the number of truly substandard living units requiring intensive treatment there are in the City of Boston, some reliable percentage as to health violations as against structural violations, and some fairly firm idea as to how much of a work load each inspector can reasonably be expected to shoulder. At that point, by the application of some elementary school mathematics, one may be able to determine whether 40 Health Inspectors is a reasonable work force to apply to this problem.

Or is this, simply, one more public relations gimmick.

Mayor Hails Celts As Boston Cheers 7-Time World Champions

Shoppers and office workers, newsboys and just plain strollers in the rain, got a chance to get a closeup look, a big smile, and a hand wave from the greatest sports team ever assembled, on the late afternoon of April 27.

Late that afternoon at the express invitation of Mayor John F. Collins, the team headed by Arnold "Red" Auerbach was brought to City Hall and then in a cavalcade of cars they moved through the downtown streets.

Mayor Collins and "Red", coach and general manager of the team which smashed all kinds of records into smithereens during the past season, were greeted by thousands along the route.

At the Mayor's office they were presented by the Mayor with wrist charms.

Officially it was "Salute to Celtics Day" in Boston. And Boston loved the off-beat chance to salute the champs.

Following is the Mayor's declaration naming the day:

"Whereas, They have worn the mantle of Champions of the World with rare distinction over a longer period than any other major sports team in history; and

"Whereas, Their unparalleled success has served to burnish and enhance the name of Boston in every city and town where a basketball court exists and in continents across the seas; and

"Whereas, They have been a principal factor in catapulting the game to its present status as a major sport enjoyed by millions; and

"Whereas, While offering the youth of America a sterling example of the will-to-win, they have maintained a selfless devotion to team play and uncompromising integrity of spirit and action; and

"Whereas, From their brilliant coach to the newest rookie they are worthy representatives of the great city which aspires only for the best in every worthwhile avenue of endeavor and achievement; and

"Whereas, For years they have made the name of Boston and Celtics synonymous with victory; now therefore

"I, John F. Collins, Mayor of the City of Boston, by virtue of authority vested in me, do hereby declare Tuesday, April 27, 1965, as 'SALUTE TO CELTICS DAY' in the City of Boston and ask their fans and admirers to pay them the appreciative adulation which is their due."

JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor.

To August A. Busch, St. Louis brewer, owner of the World's Champion Cardinals of baseball who sponsored the away-from-home games for Celtics fans in New England, the Mayor gave the following citation:

Loyalty Day

Loyalty Day will be observed at the Common's Parkman Bandstand at noon, May 1, for the 36th consecutive year, under the auspices of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

The auxiliary will assemble at Beacon and Park streets and march to the bandstand for patriotic services.

Mrs. Charles Clark of Weymouth is general chairman of the program and Past State Commander Joseph Scerra of Gardner will be master of ceremonies.

Jaywalk "Scheeling" Now Under Way

At 10.30 on the morning of April 27 Mayor John F. Collins touched a button at Tremont and Winter streets, activating the busy intersection's "Walk—Don't Walk" signs.

The touch put into operation a five-month educational campaign designed to prove to Boston pedestrians the foolhardiness of jaywalking on the streets of a modern city. The drive is aimed at teaching the jaywalker that he can earn himself not only a quick trip to the hospital but even a swift appointment with death.

At campaign's end on November 1 it will cost surviving jaywalkers $1 for their first three violations and $2 for subsequent attempts to cross against "Don't Walk" signals.

Aiding Mayor Collins in getting the educational period under way were James H. Fairclough, Jr.,

"Whereas, True champions from time immemorial are wont to share their hard-won glories at the heights; and

"Whereas, His St. Louis Cardinals now rule the world of baseball, even as our Supreme Celtics once again reassert their long-established right to rule the basketball world; and

"Whereas, We extend to him an invitation to bring his champion Cardinals to Boston in a not too distant October, so that future occupancy of baseball's throne room may be equitably decided in contest with our Red Sox; and

"Whereas, Throughout 1964 and 1965 he made the lives of thousands of devotees of our great Celties in Boston and throughout New England more happy when he sponsored the TV telecasts of their games, culminating in their playoff deeds on the foreign courts of Philadelphia and Los Angeles; and

"Whereas, He is the type of true sportsman Boston always takes to its heart, now therefore

"I, John F. Collins, Mayor of the great City of Boston, do hereby present this citation to August A. Busch, Jr., with heartfelt thanks of every Bostonian."

JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor.

chairman of the Citizen's Traffic Advisory Committee and Boston Pedestrian Livesaving Campaign, who is director of Jordan Marsh Company, and Thomas F. Carty, Commissioner of Traffic and Parking.

At the same time, police traffic instructors, armed with bullhorns, took up posts at three other "class-room" intersections, Boylston and Tremont streets, Berkeley street and St. James avenue, and Boylston street and Massachusetts avenue.

Also on hand at the demonstration intersections were women school traffic supervisors in their police uniforms to hand out leaflets which set forth the do's and don'ts for pedestrians and motorists.

The fines after November 1 will be $1 for the first three offenses, and $2 for each subsequent offense.

In commenting on the campaign, Mr. Fairclough said:

"I can think of no other activity in Boston which will mean so much to so many people as this anti-jaywalking campaign. Every person— young or old, driver or pedestrian who lives, works, shops, or visits in Boston will be directly affected."

Arts Festival On

The Boston Arts Festival which has become as much a part of the summer scene in Boston will definitely go on this year, Mayor Collins announced on April 27.

Health Department Ball

The Boston Health Department Association, led by its president Dr. John T. Foley, Health Commissioner, held its annual ball at Hotel Madison on the night of April 28. Some of the participants passing the old Haymarket Relief Hospital, site of the department's offices for many years, got their first look at what's left after the demolition crews finished their work. The department's offices are now located in the South Department at Boston City Hospital.

Hippocrates Favorite Tree To Grow Here

An oriental plane tree will soon be growing in Boston. And therein lies a tale!

Two trees (undoubtedly among many others) are said to have flourished in the small compound on the Greek island of Cos in the Aegean Sea where Hippocrates, the father of medicine, first studied, then practised and taught. Cos, located off the southwest shore of Turkey, was Hippocrates' birthplace.

One of the two trees was a palm that shaded an inner garden in the compound.

The second was an oriental plane tree (similar to the American sycamore or buttonwood) that grew in a corner of the outer portion of the compound.

In the shade of the broad, spreading branches of the plane tree, supposedly in the later afternoon or early evening hours, Hippocrates gathered together his staff and the young Asclepiads who were his students and held forth his new principles of medical science while conducting what now would be considered his "grand rounds." Patients undergoing treatment in the compound were brought to the shaded area beneath the plane tree. There Hippocrates discussed their ills and the treatment he prescribed for them.

ABCD's Director Slavet Tells Senate Committee of Stepped-up Aid to Youth

(Following is a continuation of a presentation made recently before Senate subcommittee in Washington by Executive Director Joseph S. Slavet of Action for Eoston Community Development, Inc. Director Slavet offered before the important committee the arguments of Mayor Collins and Boston for the continuation of vital aid to youth in the present anti-poverty war.)

School Programs

Four programs designed as experimental projects became operative in 1964. They are jointly financed by the Eoston School Department and funds from the Ford Foundation. The programs extend from pre-kindergarten through the ninth grade. Their total three-year cost will be about $874,000.

Our prekindergarten classes are designed to help children from low-income, disadvantaged backgrounds acquire the skills necessary to keep pace during the first few years in school. Emphasis is placed on developing the child's verbal skills, auditory and visual discrimination and motor coordination. Two classes of 20 children each are conducted in a public school in the South End and two classes are conducted in a public housing project in Roxbury. The children range in age from 3½ to 4½ years old.

Most of the children in the program live within walking distance of their classrooms but it has been necessary to provide transportation for some. The teachers maintain close contact with parents through home visits and day-to-day contacts when the mothers bring the children to school.

To determine whether the pre-kindergarten program improves subsequent school performance, a control group has been set up, consisting of children of similar background who do not take part in the program. Tests will be given to both groups at the beginning and at the end of the prekindergarten year and at regular intervals through the third grade. Test results will be compared to see whether there is evidence that this program of preparation for school makes a significant difference in the school performance of disadvantaged children.

One problem in the South End School is the presence of Spanish-speaking and Chinese-speaking bilingual children. The teachers are trying to help these youngsters develop proficiency in English.

The developmental reading programs has as its objectives increasing general reading vocabulary and improving reading comprehension. Large blocks of time in each school day are devoted to instruction in reading. Specially trained reading consultants are assisting teachers to improve their teaching of reading in three elementary schools and in three junior high schools. The program served 2,500 youngsters in 1964 and is reaching 3,100 in the current school year. The consultants also work with small groups of the most able students in an enrichment class in literature.

The experimental guidance program is designed to reduce academic failure and increase the number of pupils entering and completing high school. The program stresses improvement in students' knowledge of occupations, in choosing their occupational goals, and in making decisions about their present school performance in the light of their plans.

Guidance advisors are assigned to the experimental schools to conduct individual counseling, small group counseling, and a supportive classroom program. The program is being carried on in both elementary and junior high schools. A total of 750 students are expected to be served through this program in the 1964-65 school year.

The Pupil Adjustment Counseling program concentrates on identifying and treating behavioral and personal problems which interfere with a child's learning and with his

Good Sign

The Hotel and Restaurant Show held at the Boston War Memorial Auditorium on April 27-29, offered an idea of what Boston may expect convention-wise in the years ahead.

This year's Hotel and Restaurant Show was the largest in the history of New England. More than 10,000 members of the allied industries registered in advance, a 700 percent increase over last year's figure.

The square footage occupied by the show was virtually doubled, from last year's 55,000 square feet to this year's 90,000 square feet. The number of booths has increased from 350 to 392 and the number of exhibiting firms has jumped from 218 to 271.

Not to be overlooked is the fact that what began 40 years ago as a show for purely local firms has become a showcase for national manufacturers. More than half of the 271 exhibiting firms bore the "national" imprint, coming from as far as the West Coast.

Late BFD Officer's Daughter Promoted

Miss Eileen R. Donovan, American Consul General for Barbados and the British Windward and Leeward Islands and formerly of Boston, has been promoted to Class II in the Career Foreign Service.

She is the daughter of the late District Fire Chief William F. Donovan of Jamaica Plain.

The promotion brings her to the second highest class in the U. S. Foreign Service, short only of career ambassador or minister.

Miss Donovan is a graduate of Girls' Latin School and Boston Teachers College. She is a former member of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff in Japan, and for many years served as a Foreign Service employee in Asia and the Pacific. In 1960 she was assigned as Consul to the Barbados.

classmates' learning. The program provides a school adjustment counselor for each of three elementary school districts and for a junior high school. It is estimated that some 600 pupils will be given individual attention by the counselors during this school year. Teachers and other school personnel refer children to the counselor, who makes an assessment of the problem and works with the child, his parents and other community agencies to resolve the difficulties.

Camp Programs

Five programs conducted during the summer of 1964 to improve school performance and reading ability served 466 youngsters. One hundred fifty-six boys took part in a camp program in Maine which combined summer recreation with formal instruction in remedial reading one hour a day. Boys in this demonstration project comprised only part of the total camp population and participated as regular campers in all other camp activities. The boys were between the ages of 9 and 13, had an I. Q. score of between 75 and 100, and a reading score of one year or more below grade level on a standardized reading test.

The Boston Young Men's Christian Association conducted an experimental project to test whether academic skills could be woven into the recreational activities of a boys' camp. Fifty boys participated in the program. Archery, riflery, campcraft, nature, weather, astronomy, conservation and arts and crafts were used to develop skills in reading, language arts and arithmetic.

Seventy boys from Boston's low-income areas attended a college campus enrichment program at Brandeis University during the summer of 1964. Under the guidance of a director and two Master Teachers, ten group leaders each worked with a group of students in a program designed to improve school achievement and to increase motivation to seek post-high school training.

At Boston College High School, 44 boys living in the Columbia Point Housing Project and nearby parts of Boston attending both public and parochial schools participated in a six-week summer enrichment program taught by five Jesuit theological students.

The program consisted of two weeks of intensive personal counseling regarding school achievement and career opportunities, followed by four weeks of instruction in reading, language arts, social problems, and mathematics. Cultural and physical development activities were also included.

A week-end work and recreation camp in New Hampshire was in operation last spring and again this fall and winter, serving some 70 teen-age boys. The most recent operation of the program included only boys who had been adjudicated delinquents and who were recruited through the cooperation of probation officers. Activities consisted of work projects, such as forestry conservation and camp maintenance, warm weather and winter sports, and group discussions on topics of concern to the boys.

Youth Training and Employment Program

The Youth Training and Employment program, financed by the U. S. Office of Manpower, Automation and Training of the Department of Labor, has reached 2,000 young people who were out-of-school and out-of-work during the first year of operation.

Special attention has been given to severely disadvantaged youth whose inadequate education, dropout status, minority group status, economic dependency, and lack of marketable skills made their entry into employment especially difficult. The principal thrust of the program has been on the improvement of employability rather than on simple job placement. Early in the program it was recognized that some registrants had extreme economic needs which had to be faced before counseling and training could be undertaken. Some youth lacked money for carfares and lunches, and some were completely homeless. The close ties that ABCD had developed earlier with the Boston Public Welfare Department made it possible to establish cooperative arrangements to solve many of these pressing needs.

The intensive and extensive health problems of an exceptionally large proportion of the applicants also had to be dealt with. ABCD's working relationship with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health facilitated the establishment of a screening program for the diagnosis and follow-up treatment of medical and dental problems.

Another important alteration of the original program involved the addition of an On-the-Job Training Program through which ABCD could contract with employers to provide skill training to selected youth. One of the largest and most important changes in the over-all program was the addition, in the fall of 1964, of a Pre-Vocational and Work Crew Program to offer to selected youth an exposure to employment on various community projects sponsored by public agencies or nonprofit community agencies, together with basic education and vocational counseling.

As with any attempt to break with traditional approaches to complex social and economic problems, the Youth Training and Employment Program has faced a number of difficulties. As a demonstration the project may have been too ambitious; it opened its doors before it was fully prepared to do so, and it should have been scheduled over a much longer period of time. Some difficulties stemmed from our inadequate understanding of the many facets of the youth problem. It is possible, for example, that the program should have provided more counseling and more training over longer periods of time, considering the extreme hard-core youth that the project deliberately set out to serve, and that the program should have provided for psychiatric and other services beyond the purely vocational. With 75 percent of registrants nonwhite, the program was bucking the status quo on several fronts. The fact that 66 percent of our trainees were age 18 or younger, that 75 percent were school dropouts, that 25 percent had correctional histories, and that 30 percent came from families of public assistance indicate the multiple problems of the group that was served.

Nevertheless, by mid-March, 1965, the program had registered approximately 3,000 youths, most of whom conformed to the patterns of hard-core youth originally intended as the target group. Approximately 50 percent of all registrants have been moved into a job or into training opportunity through MDTA courses or on-the-job training.

(Mr. Slavel's presentation will be concluded in next week's issue of the "City Record.")

Jim Travers Gets AMVET Service Award

The Massachusetts Department of AMVETS recently honored seven outstanding Bay Staters for distinguished service to the community.

Award recipients included James A. Travers, Director of the Boston Youth Activities Bureau and Secretary-Treasurer of Youth Educational Assistance.

Travers' citation read in part:

"James A. Travers has been the guiding light and initiator of the programs and policy of the Boston Youth Activities Bureau which have made it the pride of our community and envy of other metropolitan areas throughout the country. This Bureau has been dubbed the "Hub's Own Peace Corps," by Frank Buccini, columnist for the Boston Traveler. Travers' work is well known throughout the country and used as a model of enlightened approach to the over-all program of juvenile delinquency and rehabilitation of not only dropouts but juvenile offenders.

James A. Travers is a humane, unselfish, dedicated worker in behalf of the Youth of Boston and the State of Massachusetts regardless of their race, creed, or color. He is richly deserving of the "Special Pilgrim Award for Youth Activities."

Travers, in accepting the award said, "In presenting this citation to me you are actually honoring those primarily responsible for the success of the Youth Activities Bureau, namely, Mayor John F. Collins, the staff of the Youth Activities Bureau, and all those who have contributed to the program's success.

"In all humility and on their behalf, I accept this award with profound thanks."

Also receiving Pilgrim Awards from the Department of Massachusetts AMVETS were John T. Starrett, Jr., for Rehabilitation; Robert C. Hagopian, Watertown Town Treasurer for Public Service; John Hancock Mutual Insurance Company for Americanism; William H. "Bill" Sullivan, president of the Boston Patriots Football team, for sports; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson of Watertown for Child Welfare.

government made a gift of several cuttings taken from a large plane tree on the island of Cos, a tree believed to be the same under which Hippocrates taught.

(As Hippocrates was believed to have been born in 460 B.C. the plane tree would be on the order of 2,400 years old.)

In March, 1962, Mr. Ralph Esterquest, Librarian of the Harvard Medical Library, made arrangements with the National Medical Library to turn over to Harvard three "spare" cuttings from the Cos plane tree. The "spare" cuttings were turned over to Harvard's Arnold Arboretum in Jamaica Plain. All of the three cuttings, under the ministrations of the Arboretum's Plant Propagator, Mr. Alfred J. Fordham, have survived and are thriving.

The select cutting, now grown to a height of 7 feet ("we're running out of height in the greenhouse," says Mr. Fordham), will soon be planted near the front entrance of the new Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine located adjacent to the Harvard Medical School in Boston's Back Bay. The Countway Library of Medicine, to be dedicated in late May and opened in mid-June, will house the combined collections of the Boston Medical Library and the Harvard Medical Library.

Thus, during the warm months of Boston's spring, summer, and early fall, medical students and physicians who will use the Countway Library, may pause, reflect, even study in the shade of a not-so-plain plane tree.

The story of the Hippocratic plane tree should end here, but there is a bit of sequential information.

The oriental plane tree is not one that adapts itself to Boston's long, cold winter. In the fall it must be moved to a cold storage area and maintained at an above-freezing temperature so that its buds may form for next year's leaves. Further, it cannot be permitted to attain its full size, a size that approximates the North American sycamores.

In Boston then, in the years to come, the Hippocratic plane tree will lose some of its resemblance to the tall, spreading, deep shade-producing tree on the island of Cos. It may instead take on the shape of a somewhat larger version of a Japanese Bonsai creation—those somewhat oddly-shaped dwarf trees in which growth is limited by pruning and by confining the roots to small areas. Grown in this fashion the arboreal transplant from the Aegean Sea may continue to survive.

Left to its own growth pattern the plane tree would soon outstrip all standard cold storage facilities.

FAST ONE

President John F. Kennedy was receiving a Republican business tycoon at the White House. "You know," he said sociably, "if I weren't President, I'd be buying stocks now."

"I know," said the businessman. "If you weren't President, I'd be buying them, too."

WELFARE COSTS FOR MARCH

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department for March:

The March caseload figure of 33,256 and an expenditure of $4,979,890, represent an increase of 7.2 percent and 18.5 percent respectively over the same month one year ago. An unusual aspect of the caseload this month is the parallel between the number of approvals, 1,592, and closings, 1,553, for a net gain of merely 39 cases. Voluntary withdrawals and excessive resources continue to lead the causes for rejection, accounting for 35 percent of the 407 applications turned down during March.

Old Age Assistance: Activity in this category involved 235 applications with 186 persons meeting eligibility requirements and 49 failing to qualify. In addition 248 cases were closed, 62 percent of the closings because of death or transfer to the Medical Assistance for Aged Program. The $1,097,314 spent in behalf of Old Age Assistance clients represents 22 percent of the total budget.

Medical Assistance for Aged: Analysis of the statistics of this category is a constant reminder of the important role it plays in the lives of those residents of the community who have reached what is known as the Golden Years. Twelve months ago 6,274 clients were eligible for this program's benefits; today the figures read 7,133, a 13.7 percent increase of 859 persons, nearly 100 of whom were added since last month. To provide proper care and services, $1,234,996 was expended in their behalf.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children: Although January and February saw a caseload rise of 183 cases, a leveling off has occurred this month. The 433 approvals, two-thirds of which were due to marital estrangement and unemployment, were offset by 414 closings for a modest gain of merely 19 cases. Total caseload figures, however, remain impressive, involving in excess of 8,000 families with more than 25,000 children. Why the category requires $1,756,384, 35.3 percent of this month's budget is readily apparent.

Disability Assistance: Loss of employment due to illness continues to be the leading cause of Disability Assistance applications accounting for 58.6 percent (88) of this month's 150 approvals. Failure of 45 applicants to meet the medical standards set by the State Medical Review Team led the reasons underlying 96 rejections. An appropriation of $639,655 provided necessary maintenance and medical care to 3,767 qualified recipients.

General Relief: Of 499 applications serviced this month, 446 (89.4 percent) were given approval while 53 were disallowed chiefly because the applicant had resources in excess of eligibility requirements. The advent of mild weather with consequent availability of outdoor employment finds 141 of 493 cases closed due to return to employment. Total monthly expenditures for the category amounted to $251,541, 5.1 percent of the total budget.

FAIR ENOUGH

Church Unity Week, as celebrated in Sheboygan, Wis., included an unexpected development. The sermon of the Rev. T. Parry Jones, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was delivered to the congregation at St. Peter Claver Roman Catholic Church. The Rev. Robert Hoeller, pastor at St. Peter's, said that through some electronic quirk the public-address system at the Catholic church picked up Dr. Jones' sermon.

"I'm delighted that I had an opportunity to preach to Father Hoeller's congregation," said Dr. Jones. "I will be happy to give him equal time."

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 13.

Personnel Order No. 691.

The following reassignments are hereby ordered to take effect Wednesday, April 14, 1965, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman William J. Tierney, from District 11 to Criminal Investigation Division (District Attorney's Office).

Patrolman William F. Donga, from District 4 to Hackney Carriage Unit.

April 14.

Personnel Order No. 692.

Patrolman Anthony W. Nalen, District 11, is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 5.12 P.M., Wednesday, February 3, 1965, Patrolman Anthony W. Nalen responded to a radio call informing of three boys having fallen through ice into water in the rear of 80 Monticello street, Dorchester. Upon arrival Patrolman Nalen observed three youths in water approximately 150 feet from the shoreline attempting to stay afloat. He immediately crossed the ice into open water at which point he waded, neck deep, to the location of these youths, later identified as Kevin Gibson, 10 years, of 115 Monticello avenue, Dorchester, Stephen Whitley, 10 years, same address, and Lawrence Allston, 8 years, of 5 Blair street, Dorchester. With the assistance of two civilians, Vincent Jedeikis of 22 Telegraph street, South Boston, and Fred Loud of 22 Orton-Marotta Way, South Boston, who had entered the water to form a lifeline to Patrolman Nalen, rescue operations were achieved.

The last-mentioned boy, Lawrence Allston, had been floating face down in the water and immediately upon removal to the safety of the shore, mouth to mouth resuscitation was administered for revival, after which, all three were removed to the Boston City Hospital for treatment.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt response of Patrolman Nalen to the scene of a near tragedy and the immediate, intelligent and courageous action performed by him which undoubtedly resulted in the saving of the lives of these three youths.

April 14.

Personnel Order No. 693.

Patrolman Robert F. Gately, of District 13, is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 9.55 P.M., Tuesday, March 9, 1965, Patrolmen Robert F. Gately and Christy Guerriero in the 13-0 ambulette were dispatched to the dwelling house at 169 Chestnut avenue, Jamaica Plain, on a report a child had drowned.

Upon entering the premises at this location Patrolman Gately found the occupant Joseph Bickford, Sr., bending over his son, Joseph, Jr., 3 years, who was lying on the staircase in an unconscious condition. Observing the boy's graying color and mucus flowing from the nose, Patrolman Gately immediately administered direct mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, which after several minutes of application resulted in hesitant and weak breathing. At this point Chief Paul Robinson, Boston Fire Department, Ladder Company 10, who had also responded to a call, and Fire Fighter Mathy Hill attempted to fully revive the child by means of mechanical resuscitation. Patrolman Gately seeing this attempt was fruitless, again applied the mouth-to-mouth method and again weak breathing was restored.

The child was then carried by Patrolman Gately, continually applying this method of resuscitation, to the 13-0 ambulette for transportation to the Children's Hospital, accompanied by Fire Fighter Hill. En route to the hospital another attempt for full revival by means of the mechanical resuscitator was made to no avail. Patrolman Gately then resumed the mouth-to-mouth operation and just prior to arrival at their destination the child began to breathe strongly and commenced crying. Upon examination at the hospital the boy was found to be out of danger of death.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the ability of Patrolman Gately in applying this method of resuscitation in such a proper and efficient manner, that through his persistent efforts the life of this child was saved.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 21.

General Order No. 14.

I. FIRE LIEUTENANT EDWARD T. SCANLAN.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death on April 13, 1965, of Fire Lieutenant Edward T. Scanlan of Ladder Company 7. Fire Lieutenant Scanlan was appointed to the department on August 23, 1950, and was promoted to the grade of fire lieutenant on October 21, 1959.

The funeral was held from the Doran & Doran Funeral Home, 1632 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, at 9 A.M., Friday, April 16, 1965, followed by a blessing in St. Mark's Church, Dorchester, at 10 A.M.

The Chief of Department made the customary detail to act as funeral escort, and members of Ladder Company 7 and Engine Company 17 were excused from duty to attend the funeral services.

A Pro-Burial Mass was held in St. Mark's Church at 9 A.M., Monday, April 19, 1965.

II. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement in accordance with section 7, as affected by section 94 of chapter 32 of the General Laws will become effective at 8 A.M., May 1, 1965:

Fire Fighter David F. Sheehan, Engine Company 16.

Fire Fighter Sheehan was appointed to the department September 1, 1943, and he leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

III. CHANGE IN TIME.

Sunday, April 25, 1965, is the date required by law to make a change in clock time. In order to conform with the law, clocks in department stations will be set ahead one hour at 2 A.M. All tower clocks maintained by the department will be set ahead one hour at 6 A.M., or as soon thereafter as is practical by the men regularly assigned to wind clocks.

IV. HOUSE JOURNALS.

Company commanders shall forward to Headquarters on Form 5A on or before April 30, 1965, a request for the number of house journals which will be required for use at the patrol desk in their respective quarters for the year beginning June 1, 1965.

V. BOSTON FIRE DEPARTMENT MEDAL FOR VALOR.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to announce the establishment of the Boston Fire Department Medal for Valor.

The medal will be awarded posthumously to members of the fire fighting force of the Boston Fire Department who are killed, or who die from injuries received while in the performance of their duties. Presentation will be made to the next of kin of the deceased fire fighter by the Mayor of Boston on recommendation of the Fire Commissioner.

The medal depicts, on the front side, the Angel of Death guiding the fire fighter to his reward in heaven. On the reverse side, surrounded by a wreath, will be engraved the man's name, date of appointment to the department, his last assignment, the number of the box and the date of the incident resulting in the member's death.

The medal will be encased within a frame, under glass, backed by an engrossed parchment bearing the member's history within the department and giving information concerning the manner in which he met his death. At the bottom of the parchment, under the medal, the following impressive inscription (modified for the individual) from the pen of the late Henry Gillen, a prominent Boston newspaperman, shall appear:

*"All honor unto gallantry
In reverence we pay
That others might have days to be
He gave his life away
Now glory shall enshrine his name
And time his deeds defy
Since humble men who sought no fame
Have taught us how to die"*

VI. APPRECIATION.

At this time, the Fire Commissioner wishes to express to Fire Fighter Robert G. Brady of Ladder Company 4, Fire Fighter Harold A. Carle of Ladder Company 30, and Murray Young, a civilian in no way connected with the department, but one of our most loyal supporters, the sincere thanks of the department for their efforts in the execution of the "Medal and Citation for Valor."

These three men gave unstintingly of their own time, effort, and artistic talent for this endeavor. We are truly very grateful to them and feel that their names should be recorded for posterity. Therefore, their names will be recorded in the 1965 Annual Report of the Boston Fire Department as the men responsible for executing the Medal and Citation.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

AUDITORIUM COMMISSION. GUARD AND PATROL SERVICE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Auditorium Commission respectfully requests your Honor's authorization to enter into a contract, without public advertising, to Joseph D. Horgan, Inc., 51 Gloucester street, Boston, for the furnishing of guard and patrol service at the city's municipal Auditorium at 900 Boylston street, Boston, for the period commencing at 8 A.M. on March 17, 1965, and expiring at 8 A.M. on April 1, 1966. Under this contract, the city would pay Horgan for each competent operative kept by Horgan at such Auditorium pursuant to this contract, at the rate of $2.15 for each hour of guard and patrol protection by such operative at such Auditorium during such period, including hours on Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, provided that the liability of the city under the contract shall in no event exceed nine thousand dollars ($9,000) during any of the four quarter periods in said year, or fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) between 8 A.M. on March 17, 1965, and 8 A.M. on April 1, 1965.

The basic provision would be for Horgan to keep at such Auditorium at all times between 12.01 A.M. and 8 A.M. and also between 4 P.M. and 12 midnight every day during the aforesaid periods including Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, and at all times between 8 A.M. and 6 P.M. every Saturday, Sunday, and legal holiday one competent operative and in addition thereto such additional operative or operatives, if any, as the Auditorium Commission shall from time to time direct. Our one month's experience in operating the Auditorium has indicated that from time to time it may well be advisable to have on as many as two operatives around the clock every day including Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

The work is of a quasi-professional nature and so does not lend itself readily to public bidding. During the past month the Auditorium has engaged Joseph D. Horgan, Inc., on a service order basis so as to ascertain the character of service rendered and has found it to be satisfactory. Accordingly we trust that your Honor will grant the authorization requested.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT C. NORDBLOM, Chairman.
Auditorium Commission.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

POLICE TOWING.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request permission for the Boston Police Department to enter into a written lease with the Massachusetts Parking Authority, without publicly advertising for bids. The purpose of the lease is to utilize the "convenient" facilities of the Boston Under-Common Garage for police-towing operations. Section 2 of chapter 263 of the Acts of 1929, as amended, directs that all towed vehicles be removed "to some convenient place."

The lease will cover the rental of twenty-four (24) car spaces at the Boston Under-Common Garage where the Boston Police Department, on their own initiative, will tow the more flagrant violators of the traffic laws. The City of Boston will pay to the Massachusetts Parking Authority a monthly rental of $720, namely, $30 for each of the twenty-four (24) car spaces per month, plus $1 per day for each car stored on the premises.

The Boston Police Department will issue a parking ticket for each car towed; also collect a tow fee of $8 per car towed; and further collect storage fees at the current off-street parking rate, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 474 of the Acts of 1946.

The lease is to take effect April 1, 1965, and run to March 31, 1966.

A lease is presently in effect, which became effective January 1, 1965, and which will expire March 31, 1965.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

ON THE LEVEL

To me, the essence of American democratic feeling is expressed in the story of the transcontinental-train conductor who was told that Lord Halifax would be traveling on the train, and that he would find the ambassador very democratic and easy to get on with. To which the conductor replied, "Well, he'll find me just the same."

SALUTE TO BOYS' CLUBS OF BOSTON AND BOYS' CLUBS OF AMERICA.

Coun. TIERNEY offered the following:

Whereas, The week of April 4 to April 10 marks the National Boys' Club Week;

Whereas, The Boys' Club National Movement was founded in the City of Boston in 1906 and is now an organization of national and international prominence and influence;

Whereas, These clubs do outstanding work not only in strengthening of bodies and betterment of minds of our young Americans, but also in teaching them the true meaning of democracy and preparing them, through competition and brotherhood, to be responsible, honest, self-reliant leaders of the future; and

Whereas, The theme of National Boys' Club Week will stress the often forgotten fact that the great majority of American boys are essentially decent youngsters; that the objective of the Boys' Clubs of America—as a weapon in the prevention of juvenile delinquency—is to provide constructive guidance when and where it counts and “to give him the lift he needs” to be tomorrow's responsible citizen.

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, salutes the Boys' Clubs of Boston, and the Boys' Clubs of America for the splendid work they have done in the past, and are now doing, in molding the boys of today, to become good citizens of tomorrow.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

CONSULTATION WITH MAYOR ON TAX SITUATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1965.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I am forwarding to you herewith a communication from the Supervisor of Budgets which outlines, in detail, the information requested in a resolution passed by your Honorable Body on the present financial condition of the city and further the wisdom of enactment of a limited sales tax or some other source of new revenue.

There is no doubt that the financial condition of Boston dictates a substantial tax rate increase.

Under existing legislation it is not possible for Boston to institute any new tax which would relieve the burden currently borne by the homeowner. In addition, any new local tax program would unquestionably place a further burden on the economic climate of the community which could result in financial disaster to the city.

You are all aware of my support of the Governor's program. It is my sincere belief that your Honorable Body will recognize the financial problems of Boston and its citizens and take affirmative action to support any tax proposal which will grant relief to our city.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Administrative Services Department,
March 29, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

In reply to the resolve by the City Council requesting information on the current tax situation I am submitting herewith the pertinent data available at this time.

The city budget for 1965, after passage by the City Council, represents an increase over the 1964 appropriations of $9,150,222. The major increases are reflected in the welfare and Veterans' Services Departments of $7,484,000. Personal Services, $941,000; Contractual Services, $800,000; in addition to an appropriation for the War Memorial Auditorium in excess of $300,000.

County budgets have risen another $300,000; principally for personal services.

Supplementary appropriations to date, to be raised by taxation, amount to $4,193,886. The individual departments involved are:

Police (pay raise).....	$2,640,000
Fire (pay raise).....	1,295,886
City Council.....	23,000
Welfare.....	170,000
Housing Inspection.....	65,000*
	$4,193,886

Payments for principal and interest on debt will rise $1,200,000 in 1965 and the State-Boston Retirement System reflects an increase of $1.5 million, also the 1965 overlay account which is used to meet tax abatements will be $1,000,000 greater.

Another major set-back to the city was the so-called "Cherry Sheet" for 1965. In the year 1964, Boston received as its share of the accelerated Income Tax Collections, $4 million and was led to believe that about half or $2 million could be expected in 1965. Instead the City of Boston received absolutely nothing from this source.

The one remaining budgetary item to be resolved is the school budget. Preliminary estimates by the School Committee indicate an increase over 1964 appropriations of $6,200,000. An analysis of this budget is presently taking place and the conclusions will be presented upon completion.

A summary of the above follows:

Supplementary appropriations.....	$4,193,000
City budgets.....	9,450,000
County budgets.....	300,000
Debt.....	1,200,000
Retirement system.....	1,500,000
Overlay.....	1,000,000
Income tax loss.....	2,000,000
Schools.....	6,000,000
	$25,643,000

There is little hope for an appreciable gain in valuations so that the "rule of thumb" application of 70 cents being required for each million dollars expended still applies. Boston is facing a possible tax rate increase of $18 in 1965.

The fiscal picture of Boston is further complicated by the "Free Cash" of the city as of January 1, 1965. The unofficial computation indicates the sum of $1,094,000 this year as against $6,292,000 for 1964.

The development of "Free Cash" becomes increasingly difficult due for the most part to the ever-increasing problem of the railroad companies not being able to meet their tax obligations. To illustrate: the total outstanding taxes on December 31, 1964, amounted to $20,440,000, of this amount $9,687,944 was owed by railroads. The 1964 tax levy amounted to $2,295,000 for railroads.

It is noteworthy that the major increases the city is faced with in 1965 in every instance, is the result of obligations over which the City of Boston has little or no control. Preliminary estimates for 1966 indicates that the picture will be every bit as bleak with a second substantial tax rate increase inevitable without relief from the state level.

The City of Boston, like every other major community in Massachusetts, is faced with a greater financial burden each succeeding year. The local government tax structure is not equipped to meet the financial needs demanded of it at the same pace as is required. It is therefore imperative that a new form of revenue must be realized from the state level. The method of obtaining these funds rests with the members of the General Court and the Governor and they will be considering the alternatives in this session of the Legislature. It should be borne in mind, however, that any legislation passed in the present session would not relieve the tax burden for the year 1965.

The proposal of the Governor presently before the General Court would offer some relief to Boston. The delinquent obligations of the state for welfare will amount to close to $20 million.

Assumption of court costs in 1966 would mean a savings of $4.5 million annually. New revenue under the Educational Aid formula would amount to $10.2 million. To summarize, Boston in 1966 could receive additional funds of $34.7 million.

It should be noted however that the $20 million due from the Commonwealth would be a "wind-fall" type of revenue and would not reoccur. Also the limitations on school spending would delete the Educational Aid in less than five years. The only areas in which Boston could receive permanent relief would be in the state assuming the court costs and in 1966 it is expected the Legislature would assume the welfare costs of all cities and towns, which would relieve a burden of the city amounting to $12 million annually. This latter program could not become effective until 1967 and would be desperately needed at that time.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY T. BRENNAN,
Supervisor of Budgets.

Placed on file.

RESOLUTION APPROVING CHARLESTOWN URBAN RENEWAL PLAN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1965.
The Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen:

On March 25, 1965, the Boston Redevelopment Authority approved the Charlestown Urban Renewal Plan. This approval, together with other findings and determinations required under Chapter 121 of the General Laws was made by the Authority after consideration of staff reports, and of the statements, views, and opinions expressed at a public hearing held by the Authority on March 14, 1965, in Charlestown, to consider the plan.

Under the provisions of Chapter 121 of the General Laws and Title I of the Federal Housing Act, the Authority must secure approval of the plan by the Mayor with the approval of the City Council. This approval must include certain findings and is to be made after due notice and a public hearing. Federal requirements specify that such notice should be published at least once a week for two successive weeks with the first notice to be published not less than 10 days prior to the date of the hearing.

Accordingly, the following documents are submitted herewith for your consideration:

1. Resolution of Boston Redevelopment Authority authorizing submission of Urban Renewal Plan and supporting documentation to Mayor of the City of Boston, City Council, and State Division of Urban Renewal.
2. Resolution of the Boston Redevelopment Authority that the Charlestown Project Area is an eligible urban renewal area.

Charlestown Urban Renewal Area Project Area Report.

3. Resolution of the Boston Redevelopment Authority finding that the removal of the elevated mass transit structure is essential to the Charlestown Urban Renewal Project.
4. Resolution of the Board of Directors of the MBTA to the effect that the elevated mass transit facility in Charlestown would not have been removed in the foreseeable future without Urban Renewal Administration participation in the cost thereof.

5. Resolution of the Boston Redevelopment Authority approving the Urban Renewal Plan, conditions under which relocation payments will be made, and the fixed relocation schedule for the Charlestown Urban Renewal Project No. Mass. R-55.

6. Charlestown Urban Renewal Plan.
7. Relocation Program.
8. Proposed Cooperation Agreement by the City of Boston and Boston Redevelopment Authority with respect to the Charlestown Urban Renewal Project.

9. My statement endorsing the finding of the Authority that removal of the elevated mass transit structure is essential to the Charlestown Urban Renewal Project.

10. Proposed resolution for adoption by the City Council after due notice and public hearing.
11. Form of notice of City Council public hearing.

The Urban Renewal Plan transmitted herewith is a result of many months of intensive effort in the Charlestown community and represents, I believe, a consensus of the reasoned views, and aspirations of the community. The inclusion in the Housing and Home Finance Agency's approval of the Plan of $12 million for the relocation of the elevated rapid transit structure provides the only way in which this long-standing blighting influence will be removed from Charlestown streets in the foreseeable future. Including this cost the gross project costs total approximately $40 million. Land disposition proceeds are estimated at just under $2 million. Thus, the net cost of the project will be approximately $38 million of which two thirds will be paid by the Federal Government in the form of a capital grant and one third locally in the form of so-called non-cash local grants-in-aid, consisting of project improvements and supporting facilities. No direct cash expenditures by the city to the project are contemplated. Moreover, one half of the local expenditures are eligible for reimbursement by the Commonwealth. The Authority is requesting a temporary loan of $28,909,491 from the federal government to defray project costs until the federal grant has been earned and all the land conveyed.

In view of what took place at the public hearing on this project held by the Boston Redevelopment Authority, March 14, 1965, at the Charlestown Armory, I would think it appropriate to make some comments and suggestions about the public hearing process.

It is my own view that the purpose of the public hearing is to give those who are for or against a particular proposal an opportunity to present their views as to why the proposed public action should or should not be taken.

One cannot expect unanimity either for or against any proposal as complex as an Urban Renewal Plan affecting the welfare of a community of 18,000 people.

However, I do view with some concern the development of the concept that a public hearing is to be a test of strength, or of endurance, or vehemence. If the public hearing is to degenerate into a contest between those in favor and those opposed, a contest not only of numbers but of endurance and one in which restraint is absent, then we have embarked on what I would consider a very unfortunate path in the making of wise public decisions.

I would most respectfully, therefore, urge that the Council and its Urban Renewal Committee give serious consideration to a format for the public hearing which would eliminate the necessity for a direct and immediate confrontation between those in favor and those opposed. Specifically, I would urge that you give consideration to setting a date for those in favor and a separate date for those opposed. This will give both proponents and opponents an opportunity to state their reasons for or against the plan while eliminating the aspect of a major public contest.

It is my own judgment that some such procedure would ensure due process and assure a fair and impartial hearing for all concerned.

I have been urged by the citizens of Charlestown and by the Boston Redevelopment Authority to recommend favorable action on this plan to you at the earliest opportunity. I do so with the conviction that this plan is in the best interests of the City of Boston and the people of Charlestown. They are entitled to timely action on it. I fully recommend it to you and request your approval.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor.

STATEMENT OF THE MAYOR OF BOSTON, THE HONORABLE JOHN F. COLLINS, ENDORSING THE RESOLUTION OF THE BOSTON REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY FINDING THAT REMOVAL OF THE ELEVATED MASS TRANSIT STRUCTURE IS ESSENTIAL TO THE CHARLESTOWN URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT.

After careful review of the Charlestown Urban Renewal Plan and studies and reports respecting the blighting effects of the elevated mass transit structure upon the Charlestown area, I concur with and endorse the resolution of the Boston Redevelopment Authority made March 25, 1965, which finds that the expenditure of $12 million for the removal of the MBTA facilities is essential to the development of the Charlestown Urban Renewal Project and that the project cannot proceed nor can its purposes be accomplished unless such MBTA facilities are moved.

JOHN F. COLLINS,

Mayor, City of Boston.

RESOLUTION OF BOSTON CITY COUNCIL APPROVING URBAN RENEWAL PLAN FOR PROJECT No. Mass. R-55

Whereas, Under the provisions of Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, the Housing and Home Finance Agency (hereinafter called the "HHFA") is authorized to provide financial assistance to Local Public Agencies for undertaking and carrying out urban renewal projects;

Whereas, It is provided in such Act that contracts for financial aid thereunder shall require that the Urban Renewal Plan for the respective Project Area be approved by the governing body of the locality in which the Project is situated and that such approval include findings by the governing body that: (1) the financial aid to be provided in the contract is necessary to enable the Project to be undertaken in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan; (2) the Urban Renewal Plan will afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the locality as a whole, for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the Urban Renewal Area by private enterprise; (3) the Urban Renewal Plan conforms to a general plan for the development of the locality as a whole; and (4) the Urban Renewal Plan gives due consideration to the provision of adequate park and recreational areas and facilities, as may be desirable for neighborhood improvement, with special consideration for the health, safety, and welfare of children residing in the general vicinity of the site covered by the Plan;

Whereas, The Boston Redevelopment Authority (hereinafter called the "Authority") has entered into a planning contract for financial assistance under such Act with the HHFA, acting by and through its Administrator, pursuant to which Federal funds were approved for the Urban Renewal Project (hereinafter called the "Project") identified as "Charlestown Urban Renewal Project No. Mass. R-55" and encompassing the area (hereinafter called the "Project Area") described in Exhibit "A", which is a part of the Charlestown Urban Renewal Plan hereinafter referred to;

Whereas, The Authority has applied for additional financial assistance under such Act and proposes to enter into an additional contract or contracts with the HHFA for the undertaking of, and for making available additional financial assistance for, the Project;

Whereas, The Authority has made detailed studies of the location, physical condition of the structures, land use, environmental influences, and social, cultural and economic conditions of the Project Area and has found and determined that the character and conditions of the Project Area as described in the Project Area Report submitted herewith do exist; that the Project Area is detrimental and a menace to the safety, health, and welfare of the inhabitants and users thereof and of the City of Boston as a whole; and that the Project Area is at present a decadent area in that it is an area which is detrimental to the safety, health, welfare and sound growth of the community because of the existence of buildings which are out of repair, physically deteriorated, unfit for human habitation, obsolete, in need of major maintenance or repair, because of much of the real estate in recent years has been sold for nonpayment of taxes or upon foreclosure of mortgages, because buildings have been torn down and not replaced and which, under existing conditions, it is improbable that the buildings will be replaced, because of a substantial change in business and economic conditions, because of inadequate light, air and open space, because of excessive land coverage, and because diversity of ownership, irregular lot sizes, and obsolete street patterns make it improbable that the area will be redeveloped by the ordinary operations of private enterprise; and further that the Project Area is at present a substandard area, wherein dwellings predominate, which by reason of dilapidation, overcrowding, faulty arrangement or design, lack of ventilation, light or sanitation facilities, and a combination of these factors, are detrimental to the safety, health, welfare and sound growth of the community;

Whereas, The Authority has found and determined that the elevated mass transit facility operated by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (hereinafter called the "MBTA") located within the Project Area has a major blighting effect on the Project Area;

Whereas, There has been prepared and referred to the Boston City Council for review and approval an Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area, dated February 25, 1965, and consisting of 53 pages of text and 8 maps, duly approved by the Authority on March 25, 1965, as evidenced by the copy of the Authority's duly certified resolution attached hereto, and submitted to the City Council by his Honor the Mayor;

Whereas, The Mayor has submitted to the City Council with the Urban Renewal Plan, but not as a part thereof, the following documentation:

- (1) Charlestown Urban Renewal Area Project Area Report;
- (2) Relocation Program;
- (3) A resolution of the Authority finding the Project to be eligible;
- (4) A resolution of the Authority approving the Urban Renewal Plan and approving the Relocation Program;
- (5) A resolution of the Authority finding that the removal of the elevated mass transit facility is essential to the Project;
- (6) A statement of the Mayor endorsing the finding of the Authority that the removal of the elevated mass transit facility is necessary;
- (7) A vote of the MBTA Board of Directors that the elevated mass transit facility would not have been removed in the foreseeable future;
- (8) A proposed Cooperation Agreement between the City and the Authority;

Whereas, A general plan entitled "1965-1975 General Plan for the City of Boston and the Regional Core" (hereinafter called the "General Plan") has been prepared and was duly approved by the Authority on March 11, 1965, and is recognized and used as a guide for the general development of the City of Boston as a whole;

Whereas, The Authority, pursuant to Chapter 652 of the Acts of 1960, has been granted the powers and shall perform the duties conferred on planning boards of cities in Massachusetts by general laws applicable to Boston, including Section 70 of Chapter 41 of the Massachusetts General Laws, and has also been granted the powers and shall perform the duties conferred by statute or ordinance on the former City of Boston Planning Board, and in such capacity, has found that the Urban Renewal Plan conforms to the General Plan, and the City Council has duly considered said findings;

Whereas, The Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area prescribes certain land uses for the Project Area and will require, among other things, changes in zoning, the vacating and removal of streets, alleys, and other public ways, the establishment of new street patterns, the location and relocation of sewer and water mains and other public facilities, and other public action;

Whereas, Under the proposed Cooperation Agreement by and between the Authority and the City of Boston wherein the city agrees to make local grants-in-aid, as defined in Section 110(d) of Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, in accordance with said Title I and in accordance with a plan and grant contract to be entered into by and between the Authority and HHFA, which local grants-in-aid are to equal at least one third of the actual net project cost for the Project Area as finally determined and approved by HHFA in accordance with said Title I, Cooperation Agreement, and loan and grant contract;

Whereas, The Authority has prepared and submitted a program for the relocation of families that may be displaced as a result of carrying out the Project in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan (referred to as the Relocation Program and is contained in the documentation submitted herewith);

Whereas, As part of such Relocation Program there is additional supporting information and data respecting said program which has been prepared by the Authority as a result of studies, surveys and inspections;

Whereas, The members of the City Council have general knowledge of the conditions prevailing in the Project Area and of the availability of proper housing in the city for the relocation of families that may be displaced from the Project Area and, in the light of such knowledge of local housing conditions, have carefully considered and reviewed such proposals for relocation;

Whereas, A public hearing on the Urban Renewal Plan was, after due notice thereof, held at which time the City Council received evidence and heard extensive opinions from residents of the Project Area and other persons with respect thereto, and all persons desiring to be heard on the Urban Renewal Plan were so heard;

Whereas, It is necessary that the Boston City Council take appropriate official action respecting the relocation program and the Urban Renewal Plan for the Project, in conformity with the contract for financial assistance between the Authority and the HHFA;

Whereas, The members of the City Council have carefully considered and reviewed the Urban Renewal Plan in the light of (1) the supporting documentation submitted herewith as aforesaid; (2) the proceedings at the aforesaid public hearing; and (3) the general knowledge of the City Councilors with respect to conditions prevailing in the Project Area and in the City of Boston as a whole; and

Whereas, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and the regulations of HHFA effectuating that Title, provide that no person shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination in the undertaking and carrying out of urban renewal projects assisted under Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended; now therefore, it is hereby resolved:

1. That it is hereby found and determined that the Project Area is a decadent and substandard area and qualifies as an eligible Project Area under Chapter 121 of the Massachusetts General Laws, as amended.

2. That the Urban Renewal Plan is hereby approved and the City Clerk is hereby directed to file a copy of the Urban Renewal Plan with the minutes of this meeting.

3. That it is hereby found and determined that the objectives of the Urban Renewal Plan cannot be achieved through more extensive rehabilitation of the Project Area.

4. That it is hereby found and determined that the Urban Renewal Plan conforms to the General Plan of the City of Boston.

5. That it is hereby found and determined that the financial aid provided and to be provided pursuant to said contracts for Federal financial assistance pertaining to the Project is necessary to enable the Project to be undertaken in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan.

6. That it is hereby found and determined that the Urban Renewal Plan will afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the city as a whole, for the urban renewal of such areas by private enterprise.

7. That it is hereby found and determined that the Urban Renewal Plan gives due consideration to the provision of adequate park and recreational areas and facilities, as may be desirable for neighborhood improvement, with special consideration for the health, safety, and welfare of children residing in the Project Area.

8. That it is hereby found and determined that the program for the proper relocation of the individuals and families displaced in carrying out the Project in decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings in conformity with acceptable standards is feasible and can be reasonably and timely effected to permit the proper prosecution and completion of the Project; and that such dwellings or dwelling units available or to be made available to such displaced individuals and families are at least equal in number to the number of displaced individuals and families, are not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and public and commercial facilities than the dwellings of the displaced individuals and families in the Project Area, are available at rents or prices within the financial means of the displaced individuals and families, and are reasonably accessible to their places of employment.

9. That in order to implement and facilitate the effectuation of the Urban Renewal Plan hereby approved it is found and determined that certain official action must be taken by the City Council with reference to said Plan, and accordingly, the City Council hereby (a) pledges its cooperation in helping to carry out the Urban Renewal Plan; (b) requests the various officials, departments, boards, and agencies of the city having administrative responsibilities in the premises likewise to cooperate to such end and to exercise their respective functions and powers in a manner consistent with the Urban Renewal Plan; (c) stands ready to consider and take appropriate action upon proposals and measures designed to effectuate the Urban Renewal Plan; and (d) authorizes the Mayor of the City of Boston to execute and deliver in the name of and on behalf of the city, a Cooperation Agreement substantially in the form of the one presented to this meeting.

10. That additional financial assistance under the provisions of Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, is necessary to enable the land in the Project Area to be renewed in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan and accordingly, the filing by the Authority of an application or applications for such financial assistance under said Title I is hereby approved.

11. That the resolution of the Authority, the statement by the Mayor of the City of Boston, and the resolution of the Board of Directors of the MBTA to the effect that the expenditure of $12 million for the removal of the MBTA elevated mass transit facility is essential to the development of the Project, that the Project cannot proceed, nor can its purposes be accomplished, unless the MBTA facility is moved, and that the MBTA will not be in a position to agree to the removal of such facility from the Project Area in the foreseeable future without Urban Renewal Administration participation in the cost thereof are hereby ratified and confirmed.

12. That the United States of America and the Housing and Home Finance Administrator he, and they hereby are, assured of full compliance by the City Council with regulations of HHFA effectuating Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

(The plans referred to in the foregoing communication are annexed hereto.)

Referred to the Committee on Urban Renewal;

MBTA BUSES FROM SPRING STREET TO FOREST HILLS STATION.

Coun. CRAVEN offered the following:

Resolved, That the MBTA be requested to reaffirm their original intent to run a bus from Spring and Centre streets in West Roxbury down Centre street to Stimson street, thence to Washington street and then to Forest Hills, which was to have been run for the benefit of the residents of the Centre-Grove Street area of West Roxbury and is in keeping with the promise of the MBTA Trustees for improved passenger service.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

CONGRATULATIONS ON 144TH ANNIVERSARY OF GREEK INDEPENDENCE.

Coun. G. F. FOLEY offered the following:

Whereas, The people of Greek ancestry recently celebrated the 144th anniversary of their independence;

Whereas, Those of Hellenic origin were the forebears of much of the culture and thought which constitute the basis of our "ethos";

Whereas, The contemporary Hellenes have fought in a not unlike way from that exemplified by all who love freedom; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of Boston commend all these Americans who have a dual celebration of independence.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

LEGISLATION APPROVING PAYMENT OF SUM OF MONEY TO WILLIAM H. KELLEY, JR.

Coun. W. J. FOLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the consideration by the Great and General Court of "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston To Pay a Sum of Money to William H. Kelley, Jr.," now held by the joint committee on Rules under Joint Rule 7B, provided further that said legislation provides a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

ACQUISITION OF SURPLUS GOVERNMENT LAND FOR RELOCATION OF WHOLESALE FRUIT AND PRODUCE MARKET.

Coun. LANGONE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council request his Honor the Mayor of Boston to contact the appropriate officials of the U. S. Government and request that the government delay the sale of 42 acres of surplus government land bounded by Summer, E and West First streets, South Boston, to the Massachusetts Port Authority; further, That the City of Boston initiate a request to the federal government that this land be sold to the City of Boston for the relocation of the Wholesale Fruit and Produce Market.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

REORIENT PLANNING FOR SOUTH COVE AREA.

Coun. W. J. FOLEY offered the following:

Whereas, It has been reported in the press the projected net increase in annual tax revenue to the city from the 96-acre South Cove project area is $100,000; and

Whereas, The South Cove project area is 96 acres in extent, well serviced by rail, mass transportation and highway; and

Whereas, The revenue need of the City of Boston is increasing annually; and

Whereas, The urban renewal program so far has manifestly failed to increase the revenue position of the City of Boston; and

Whereas, Boston must so conduct her affairs, particularly the federally subsidized urban renewal program, as to maximize the net increase in taxable revenue from her urban renewal effort; and

Whereas, A primary, if not the primary objective of the urban renewal program should be the increase in taxable revenues from those project areas peculiarly located and situated so as to make such increase possible; be it

Resolved, That the City Council invites the attention of his Honor the Mayor to the fact that the Boston Redevelopment Authority is planning the South Cove project area in such a way as to provide an almost negligible increase in net taxable revenue to the City of Boston; be it further

Resolved, That as the fiscal situation is now developing in Massachusetts, it is imperative that cities conduct their affairs so as to maximize tax revenues from all activities; be it further

Resolved, That the City Council calls upon his Honor the Mayor to direct the attention of the Board of the Boston Redevelopment Authority to the necessity of reorienting planning for the South Cove project area (96 acres in extent) so as to increase many-fold the projected net taxable revenue from the area.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

Coun. HINES requested that the record show he voted no on the foregoing resolution.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE DEALERS TO DEVELOP OWN AREA.

Coun. G. F. FOLEY offered the following:

Whereas, The plan espoused by Boston Harbor Industrial Corporation is not in the best interest of the city and less for the to-be relocated produce dealers;

Whereas, The Boston Produce Dealers Corporation is in a better position to aid the city and protect themselves; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of Boston urge the Port Authority to rescind the prospective paper agreement with the Boston Harbor Industrial Corporation and urge the produce dealers to develop the area more equitably; and be it further

Resolved, That the City Clerk forward a copy of this resolution to the Boston Harbor Industrial Corporation, the Boston Produce Dealers Corporation, the Massachusetts Port Authority, and the Administrator of the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned at 6.52 P.M., on motion of Councillor Kerrigan, to meet on Monday, April 5, 1965, at 2 P.M.

Research Bureau Finds School Hikes Possible Within Available Cash

(The following analysis of the Boston School Department's budget insofar as it concerns pay increases is contained in a report by the Boston Municipal Research Bureau.)

There is a gap of over $1 million between the proposed school budget and available funds.

The major cause is that salary increases for school personnel were voted without consideration of available funds.

New salary action must be taken by the School Committee.

The Mayor's allowance permits substantial academic salary hikes.

Rescission of nonacademic raises and realistic calculation of payroll slack are two of the actions which would permit academic raises within available funds.

Adoption and adherence to a budget by the School Committee is a necessity.

The Boston School Committee and Mayor are in disagreement over 1965 school appropriations. The Committee is planning to spend $45.8 million for general school purposes this year. But the Mayor has notified the Committee that only $44.8 million is available. The $1 million gap must be resolved either through readjustment by the Committee of its budget or by additional appropriations by the Mayor.

The major cause of the impasse is that the Committee voted salary increases without carefully considering how much money had been made available. The majority now contends that it cannot both meet the budget allowance and pay adequate salaries.

Increases Possible

Despite this contention, the Mayor's allowance would permit an academic salary increase which would be significant and competitive. This could be accomplished if the School Committee calculated payroll slack more realistically, rescinded academic and nonacademic salary raises voted, voted academic salary raises of a financial dimension indicated below, controlled the hiring of temporary teachers, and then for the remainder of the 1965 year adhered to an adopted budget.

The recently voted salary raises have been declared illegal and void by the city's Law Department. Thus, new salary action must be taken. Moreover, rescission of the nonacademic raises would still leave the pay level for the School Department's nonacademic personnel far above that of those performing similar duties at City Hall and elsewhere in the state.

The Committee also should adopt a budget which fits available funds and then stick to it. School Committees of late have been reluctant to adopt budgets until quite late in the year. In fact, some have not adopted budgets at all, but instead hoped that expenditures and available funds would come out even at the end of the year. The result is that controls over spending are almost impossible.

Keep Boston Clean

John F. Collins, Mayor of Boston, has designated the month of May as "Help Keep Boston Clean Month."

Anti-Litter signs are being installed on Public Works equipment and billboards and in MBTA cars and trains. Many civic organizations are cooperating with the Public Works Department in plans for cleaning vacant lots on weekends in the older sections of the city.

Actually, Mayor Collins said, these activities are just part of the year round educational program designed to enlist the cooperation of all citizens to assist us in keeping the city streets clean, by keeping their premises and sidewalks free of litter and using the proper receptacles for the disposal of their refuse.

During May, householders are requested to clean the debris from their yards and other open areas and place out on collection day their discarded furniture and appliances for disposal. If there is a large amount of this material, residents are requested to spread the putting out of this material over the four refuse collection days during this one-month period. It should be remembered that no building or remodeling materials will be collected and to remove the door from any refrigerator put out for collection. Materials not included are brick, stone, earth, and plaster.

The assistance of all our residents in our campaign to "Help Keep Boston Clean" will be most sincerely appreciated, the Mayor concluded.

Rental Adjustments of BHA Tenants, June 1

The annual review of incomes of families residing in the housing developments under the management of the Boston Housing Authority for the purpose of establishing adjusted monthly rentals beginning June 1, has been substantially completed, it was announced by BHA Chairman Jacob I. Brier.

The study, conducted in accordance with federal and state housing laws, involved 14,397 families with an estimated population of 49,000 residing in 21 federally-aided and 12 state-aided developments.

A tabulation of 11,689 of the total number of tenant families re-examined on a city-wide basis, indicated no change in rental for 9,018 families or 77.2 percent. Downward rent adjustments were given to 3.3 percent or 391 families because of decreased family incomes. Rental adjustments upwards, resulting from aggregate family income increases, affected 19.5 percent or 2,280 families.

The income of all members of the families are used in determining the rents to be paid. The incomes of minors are excluded in determining the eligibility of a family to remain in residence.

The city-wide change in rents for tenants averages an upward revision of 58 cents a month in the federally-aided developments and $1.27 a month in the state-aided developments.

Adjusted rentals are expected to average about $60.83 per month in the federally-aided developments and $72.30 per month in the state-aided developments.

Monthly rental charges are gross rent and include the cost of all utilities such as heat, hot water, gas, and electricity, with the exception of the Gallivan Boulevard housing development.

Each of the single and duplex houses in Gallivan Boulevard has its own individual heating plant. Tenants pay for all of their own utilities and a different schedule is used to reflect the charges paid by the tenants.

UCS Praise for Park Commissioner Devine

Boston Mayor John F. Collins discloses that the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, in its newly released annual Red Feather report, has paid a singular compliment to Hub Parks and Recreation Commissioner William J. Devine and his city-wide staff.

"Our new Parks and Recreation Commissioner, appointed by me in April of 1964, has been singled out in complimentary manner in the annual UCS report signed by the Red Feather organizations' general president, Robert H. Gardiner," Mayor Collins stated.

The pertinent section appears on page three of the 1964 UCS report under the heading of "Public Recreation" and reads as follows:

"For many years UCS worked with the City of Boston to achieve a reorganization of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department. Now, under Mayor John F. Collins, a real break-through has been made. A very able Commissioner of Parks and Recreation has been appointed and the battle for a better public recreation program in the city shows signs of being won."

Washington Conference

Boston Mayor John F. Collins and a group of city officials went to Washington on April 30 to meet with former Governor Leroy Collins, Director of the U. S. Department of Commerce Community Relations Services.

Accompanying the Mayor were Deputy Mayor Henry A. Seagnoli, ABCD Director Joseph Slavet, Welfare Director William Lally, Salvatore Messina, Director of the Office of Neighborhood Improvement, and Thomas Francis, Executive Secretary of the Committee for Civic Unity.

The meeting of Governor Collins with Mayor Collins is one of a series being held by the Community Relations Director with Mayors of major cities focusing on urban problems.

Among the subjects discussed were manpower retraining, the Federal Job Corps, and the anti-poverty program.

The Boston group also met with representatives from the U. S. Department of Labor, Health, Education, and Welfare, the Office of Economic Opportunity, and the Attorney General's Office.

Newest Fire Station

Boston's newest fire station was dedicated on May 6 on Cambridge street, West End, at the foot of Beacon Hill.

The new $354,000 station replaces the old Bowdoin Square station razed for the state office building skyscraper now under construction in Government Center.

Mayor Collins and Fire Department and civic officials participated in dedication of the new station which will house Fire District 3, Ladder Company 24, and Engine Company 4 now temporarily housed at the Fort Hill Square station.

The new station will be the first responding to any alarms in the Government Center and surrounding area, with property valuations totalling over a half-billion dollars.

Salary Schedules

The academic salary schedule recently declared illegal would have gone into effect in September and cost about $3.5 million in 1966. It is shown below. This schedule also reduces the number of steps from minimum to maximum from 12 to 10.

Degree	Minimum	Maximum	Cost, Sept.-Dec. 1965
			Teachers Only	All Academic
Bachelors	$5,400	$8,910	$884,000	$1,150,000
Masters	5,880	9,390

The following are examples of the type of competitive schedule which could be adopted within the Mayor's allowance. The first three are 11 step schedules while the last is 10 step.

Degree	Minimum	Maximum	Approximate Cost, 1/3 Year
			Teachers Only	All Academic
Bachelors	$5,200	$8,340	$463,000	$567,000
Masters	5,680	8,820
Bachelors	5,200	8,400	502,000	619,000
Masters	5,680	8,880
Bachelors	5,340	8,400	567,000	684,000
Masters	5,820	8,880
Bachelors	5,220	8,420	578,000	737,000
Masters	5,700	9,060

The above schedules are offered only to show that substantial teacher raises are possible. One of the Committee members has another schedule within the same general cost limits which provides extremely high minimum salaries to attract new teachers into the system.

Attracting new candidates to Boston under such schedules should not be a problem. Indeed, last year's lower scale drew a record number of applicants for the Boston teacher examinations in December. Moreover, the claim that Boston teacher losses are due to salaries is questionable. In 1963 there were 40 resignations while 78 resigned in 1964, both low rates of resignation. In fact, according to a report of the National Education Association published last August, Boston had the lowest rate of teacher resignation among 43 reporting school systems with enrollments of between 50,000 and 100,000.

Most of the school systems in this area which are generally considered excellent, and with which Boston believes it is competing, have set their new salary scales. Bachelor minimums in these so-called good systems this year run between $5,200 and $5,300. Masters minimums cluster around $5,700, a few will go higher.

A maximum salary is a method of rewarding teachers with long-term service. The last proposed schedule would place Boston about 12th highest in the area. The others would be lower but still competitive—median masters maximum salaries in the state will probably not exceed $8,000 this year.

Another for Boston

Another nationwide business concern will establish its national headquarters in Boston when Howard Johnson's coast-to-coast restaurant and lodging firm will move its administrative executive offices to the sixth floor of the chain's new $2 million motor lodge here.

The lodge will be located adjacent to the present Johnson restaurant at the Boston Street exit of the Fitzgerald Expressway. Construction is due to start in June and completion is expected by March, 1966. The company's division offices will remain in Wollaston.

The first five floors of the new structure will contain more than 100 rooms.

The lodge also will have a 74-seat cocktail lounge, sauna baths, function rooms and, on the two-acre site, an olympic-size swimming pool.

Mark Hotels Corporation, a Boston company which operates hotels in Virginia and Pennsylvania, will own and operate the new facility, Johnson's will rent the space.

This will be the first Howard Johnson's motor lodge in Greater Boston.

The world's largest roadside restaurant and motor lodge chain, Howard Johnson's, includes more than 720 restaurants and 215 motor lodges.

Open Saturdays

The Registry of Motor Vehicles will conduct a one-year experiment in Saturday morning business hours at eight regional Registry Branches, including Boston, beginning May 8, Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin announced recently.

This increased Registry service was designed to help eliminate loss of work and pay experienced by many drivers who have been unable to get to Registry offices during their lunch periods or after work hours during the week, McLaughlin said.

The offices will be open from 9 A.M. to 12 noon for processing license and registration applications and renewals.

Other Personnel

Personnel in the various academic ranks above teachers would also get a raise under any new academic schedule. Salaries for these groups, however, are a different problem since competition with other systems is not an important factor.

The suggestion that a management survey of the academic ranks above teacher is needed has not been heard for about two years. This does not mean that the need no longer exists. The classification system, and the placement of job titles among the pay groups change almost every other year. This is not consistent with good personnel practice. A professional analysis of the workloads of these positions should be undertaken to give the Committee solid information on which to base a classification system that can last for more than two years.

Mrs. Beryl Robinson will be the principal speaker at an Open House and Tea, in honor of the Spring Book Festival, to be held at the Lower Mills Branch Library on Tuesday afternoon, May 11, from 2.30 to 4.30. Mrs. Robinson's topic will be "Spring Books for Children." She will not only talk about the new books for youngsters, but will also describe some of the factors involved in choosing a children's book for the Library. It is not as simple as it may seem, and the processes should be of interest to all who work with children.

Ten-Year Record

No one gets a bigger kick out of Red Auerbach's practice of lighting up a cigar every time he scents another win ahead for his Celtics than Bob Cousy. Sometimes Red applies the match with many minutes to go. Sometimes he's obliged to wait until only a short time remains. "There isn't a coach in the league," says Cousy, "who wouldn't be willing to part with his first string venter or his first draft choice to beat Auerbach after that cigar has been lit. However, in 10 long years no team has been able to do it."

ABCD Coordinates Active Social Services In Roxbury, South End, and Charlestown

(The following concludes the series of articles based on a paper submitted to an important U. S. Senate subcommittee by Executive Director Joseph S. Slavel of Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. ABCD has been named by Mayor Collins as the coordinating agency of Boston's anti-poverty war.)

Action for Boston Community Development, in cooperation with other social service organizations, has set up multi-service centers in Roxbury and Charlestown and is participating in a neighborhood service center in the South End. The centers, a new concept in social service, have three objectives: (1) to provide health, welfare, and related services that are visible and accessible on a neighborhood or district level; (2) to make available a battery of services that can be coordinated around the family as a unit; (3) to develop effective techniques for bringing services to families and individuals who are not reached by the present system of services.

The centers include legal aid, family, and employment services and the services of neighborhood workers. ABCD designed programs for the centers, helps finance them, and evaluates their effectiveness.

The Roxbury Multi-Service Center has opened in a four-story building which is being renovated as the Center facility. A cadre of staff is being trained. Negotiations are under way with several social welfare organizations to contribute such specialized services as mental health and child welfare, which, added to regular Center programs, will meet the needs of families and individuals.

The Center recently has been accepted as a member of United Community Services, which has allocated $30,000 to its first-year budget.

In Charlestown, the John F. Kennedy Family Service Center, Inc., has begun operations. An Older Workers Training and Employment Program, being conducted under a contract with the U. S. Department of Labor, is one of the major projects. Other services, such as legal aid, have been launched.

In the South End, ABCD is assuming the cost for the services of one Neighborhood Worker at the Shawmut Neighborhood Service Center operated by United South End Settlements, Inc. This Center is giving special attention to identifying families with problems and providing some direct services. It is also making arrangements with other agencies to handle health, financial, and other problems which the Center is not equipped to solve.

Legal Service Program

ABCD is sponsoring a Unified Legal Service Program in cooperation with local agencies and law schools which is one of the most far-reaching and ambitious projects of the kind in the country.

The program includes strengthened defender services, new approaches to legal aid in civil matters, a bail experiment, a post-adjudication program for prison inmates, a working relationship between legal and social services, and law school participation.

Neighborhood law offices offer preventive advice and legal counsel to low-income individuals. Legal and social welfare personnel in the program are being trained to recognize related problems, and a system of cross-referral among legal, social welfare, employment, health, and other agencies will be established. Law schools are encouraged to expand their programs and courses dealing with the problems of the poor.

A Legal Service Program Committee, representing each participating agency and law school and responsible to the ABCD Board of Directors, supervises and coordinates the program. The committee consists of one person from each of the governing bodies—ABCD, the Boston Legal Aid Society, the Massachusetts Defenders Committee, the United Prison Association of Massachusetts, and United Community Services, one member of the Massachusetts Senate, one member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, one member of the Massachusetts Superior Court, and one law school dean.

Legal Service Director Joseph F. Dee is carrying out the coordinating function on behalf of the Program Committee. He also supervises the bail program and the social welfare referral process.

The Model Defender Project offers to poor people who are charged with felonies or misdemeanors the services of an adequate number of qualified counsel in the district courts of Suffolk County. The project is being financed on a three-year basis by a $320,000 grant from the National Legal Aid and Defender Association, which supports similar projects in other parts of the country.

The Boston project has a downtown office staffed by eight attorneys and two investigators who are assigned to district courts. ABCD will conduct a full-year evaluation of all systems of defense counsel in all Suffolk County courts and will make recommendations for their improvement.

The five Boston area law schools—Boston College, Boston University, Harvard, Portia, and Suffolk—are participating in the Student Defender and Legal Aid Programs. Practicing attorneys supervise the law students.

The largest student program, under way since December, 1964, is being conducted by Boston University Law School in the Roxbury District Court, where 30 third-year students are acting as defense counsel in less-serious misdemeanor cases. Law school students from Harvard, Portia, and Suffolk will serve in all of the other courts of Suffolk County. In addition, the Harvard Law School will supply six students on a full-time basis for ten weeks during the summer to assist defenders in the district courts.

Social Services . . .

For ABCD's bail experiment, defendants are investigating to determine whether recommendations should be made for their release on personal recognizance in lieu of bail. Since defendants without funds to arrange for bail are detained in jail to await trial, the existing bail system causes a loss of potential earnings in many cases and imposes financial hardships upon families.

The bail project is now located in the Roxbury District Court; later it may be extended to other courts of the county. Third-year students from Boston College Law School assist probation officers of the courts selected for the demonstration program.

Another part of the Unified Legal Service Program makes free legal aid in civil matters more accessible to the poor and offers advice designed to prevent legal difficulties before they occur. While legal aid has been available to Boston's poor since 1900, it could be obtained only by a trip to the downtown office of the Boston Legal Aid Society. Under the new system, neighborhood law offices are being opened in Roxbury, the South End, Charlestown, and South Boston. The program is starting with five attorneys assisted by law school students who will handle investigative and other work.

ABCD and the United Prison Association of Massachusetts—a private agency—are cooperating to form the Post-Conviction Program. This state-wide program, using a panel of 70 volunteer attorneys plus law school students under UPA direction, will provide counsel for prison inmates, handle legitimate inmate complaints, and try to eliminate "jailhouse lawyers." Cases will be referred to defenders and legal aid attorneys when they come within such jurisdiction.

Since the Unified Legal Service Program will be testing new approaches, it will undergo intensive evaluation by ABCD research staff through a grant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The Ford Foundation's $431,000 grant for the three-year period represents the major source of financing for the $983,000 program.

Other Programs

Other programs—for tutoring elementary and junior high school students, for providing scholarships as incentives, for combining work and study for dropout prone youngsters—are now being readied for implementation. These and the programs described above form the battery of demonstrations designed to reduce and prevent delinquency.

ABCD will be receiving information on juveniles from the Police Department and from the Massachusetts Board of Probation. The number and seriousness of delinquent acts committed by individuals who have been exposed directly or indirectly to these programs will be measured against comparable individuals who have had no contact with the programs in order to determine what effect there has been on delinquent activity.

Benefits of Grants

As we look back over the past two years, the grants from the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime have provided Boston with the machinery, the know-how and a head start in launching a large-scale war on poverty in our community. Many of the community action programs now going into operation are expansions or modifications of the demonstrations made possible under the 1961 delinquency control legislation. This is clearly the case with the prekindergarten program, with the youth employment and training program, which was the prototype for the Neighborhood Youth Corps, and with the neighborhood-based service programs.

But the opportunities and responsibilities generated by the juvenile delinquency grants to Boston are by no means at an end. Extension of support for the Boston Youth Opportunities Project is needed to carry out our commitments to complete a three-year demonstration and to reap the results of evaluation of our programs. The finding that emerge from our demonstrations will be valuable for reviewing anti-poverty programs both in Boston and in other communities across the country.

Atlantic Ave. Project Advanced by BRA OK

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has approved a letter of intent from the Theodore W. Berenson & Associates real estate firm which proposes to build a multi-million dollar development in the Atlantic Avenue waterfront project area.

Approval of the letter paves the way for the developers to begin the architectural phase. The letter of intent spelled out the firm's plans to construct at the outset of its large-scale development two 34-story apartment towers—each containing 300 apartments and a 1,200-acre parking garage.

The letter states construction would begin on a third 34-story tower after 50 percent occupancy in the first two. Also in the first phase will be construction of a 250-room motel, which may be expanded later by another 150 rooms.

Construction would be on the India and Central Wharf areas. The motel would be constructed on the present Quincy Market Storage Warehouse foundation.

But construction would not have to get under way until the developer is "satisfied that New Atlantic avenue is, or is imminently to become, available for use for traffic in replacement of Old Atlantic avenue."

Construction of the apartments could start, according to Development Director Edward Logue, between June and September of 1967, when Atlantic avenue will be re-located entirely.

DIRECTIVE NO. 15 SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

To All Department Heads.

As you have already been informed, there shall be no summer employment made available during the current year from current appropriations. The necessity for this ruling is obvious. His Honor the Mayor has made it clear that due to the impending increase in the tax rate that it is his responsibility as well as yours and mine to see to it that every precaution is taken to curtail and reduce expenditures in every category but more especially in those areas where the least hardship will result.

It has been customary in the past to place high school and college students on the municipal payroll to receive training in various municipal activities or to substitute for employees on vacation leave. There are two areas that can be utilized to alleviate requests for summer employment this year:

(a) The availability of young men and women enrolled in the Neighborhood Youth Group under title IB of the Economy Opportunity Act (ABCD) will go far to meet the needs of departments for supplementary assistance of varied kinds during the summer period.

Under the so-called Out-Of-School Program, young men and women meeting federal requirements as to eligibility, who are school dropouts or have graduated from high school and are unemployed, will be available for assignment beginning in the middle of May.

Under the In-School Program the youths who are eligible and presently employed on a part-time basis under school auspices will be available to work on a thirty-two-hour basis for a ten-week period beginning June 28.

The Out-Of-School boys and girls who are eligible may be continued beyond the summer period and for a reasonable time thereafter.

In the above ABCD Programs, counselors will keep in touch with department heads and supervisors concerning the individual's progress, attitudes, and needs. Further information will be supplied to department heads on a continuing basis by Mr. Frank Moloney, Coordinator, City of Boston, ABCD, whose office is located at 18 Tremont street, Boston, Telephone RI 2-4210.

(b) Arrange for vacation schedules within your department so that each division is covered at all times by experienced employees and this can be effected by not allowing more than two weeks' vacation at one time to employees entitled to three or four weeks. Vacation schedules for such employees should be staggered so that vacations extending beyond the two-week period will be taken in the fall and winter months.

If a position requiring a licensed employee is necessary to be filled, a request for such employment is to be forwarded to his Honor the Mayor and a copy of same forwarded to me for approval. Under no circumstances shall such a position be filled without prior approval by this office.

Circumstances beyond your control and mine demand that the provisions of this directive be complied with to the letter.

HENRY A. SCAGNOLI.

DIRECTIVE NO. 16 OVERTIME PAY

April 29, 1965.

To All Department Heads.

Effective as of this date, all city departments shall be required to secure prior written approval from this office before overtime pay shall be authorized or paid in the future. This procedure is simple—requests for permission to authorize payments for overtime pay should be forwarded to me, including the reason for such request, names of employees involved, and the estimated cost or duration of such overtime.

Overtime authorizations shall accompany each O. T. payroll prior to submission to the Payroll Division of the Auditor's Office; otherwise, such rolls shall not be processed, compensation of employees may be in jeopardy and the department head involved placed in an embarrassing position.

For your information, prior to the general reorganization of the city government in 1954, it was mandatory for department heads to secure the approval of the Mayor in writing before a department head could legally sign an overtime payroll.

Compliance with this directive becomes effective immediately.

HENRY A. SCAGNOLI.

Prudential Flags

The official flag of Massachusetts will be flown every Wednesday over Boston's $150 million Prudential complex.

The Commonwealth's flag will join the flags of six other states of the northeast as part of a special rotation program. The company's northeastern regional home office, headquartered in the first 18 floors of the 52-floor Prudential Tower, focal point of the project, services 4.5 million policyholders in upstate New York and the six New England states.

The seven state flags are being flown along with the American flag and the flag of the City of Boston on both the north and south plazas of Prudential Center. In order of their admission to the Union, the state flags will be flown one day a week.

The Massachusetts flag will also be flown at Prudential Center on special state holidays.

New Parking Meters Going Into Operation

Installation of Boston's good new vandal-resistant parking meters began May 3 in the North Station and Charles Street areas.

They are the first of some 6,500 dime-an-hour meters to be installed from downtown to Back Bay and on Commonwealth avenue to Brighton avenue.

Later, another 2,500 nickel-an-hour meters will be installed in several neighborhood business centers in suburbs within Boston.

First meters were installed even while cars parked free at the curb-side parking spaces—as they have been for almost a year.

Each new meter, upon installation, was set for two hours, giving the occupant free time. Automobiles still standing after the red flags showed on meters were subject to tagging for overtime parking.

The meters will be installed by M. H. Rhodes Company of Hartford, Connecticut, between now and September 1, according to Parking Meter Supervisor Frank Jacobs of the Boston Traffic Department.

Traffic Commissioner Thomas F. Carty said he plans to ask assignment of 10 women as special police "meter maids" to tag illegal parkers in metered areas. The legislation permitting this was signed last week by Governor Volpe and needs Mayor Collins' assent.

Cancer Drive

To All Department Heads.

His Honor, the Mayor, John F. Collins, has designated me as Chairman of the City Employees' Group for the Annual Drive of the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society.

I would greatly appreciate it if you would assign a co-chairman in your department for this most worthy cause and forward the name of the employee to this office at your earliest convenience.

The material for your department is being forwarded to you by the American Cancer Society.

Kindly make returns to Miss Katherine Donovan, Room 50, City Hall, who has been designated by me to make all collections for the city.

Very truly yours,

DUNCAN T. FOLEY,
Supervisor of Personnel.

Day square on Chelsea street. The officers pursued this vehicle along Chelsea street to Saratoga street to Putnam street at which point the vehicle was abandoned, the operator arrested and brought to District 7.

Intensive investigation by the officers revealed the prisoner to have a lengthy criminal record including car thefts, breaking and entering, and larcenies, as well as being directly responsible for numerous car thefts in various sections of Boston, Chelsea, Revere, Everett, Winthrop, and Lynn.

The prisoner was arraigned before the court being charged with larceny of motor vehicle, using without the authority of the owner, larceny, and forgery and uttering. After hearing all evidence presented Judge Thomas Key ordered the defendant held for the grand jury in $5,000 bail.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the tireless effort and alert sustained police work performed by these officers which brought about the arrest of a car thief and the solution to a number of others, at a time when national attention has been focused on the increase in such crimes through news media.

April 28.

Personnel Order No. 705.

Detectives Francis E. Creamer, John P. Regan, Patrolmen Michael G. Davis, John C. Ghilardi, and Robert W. Tonsberg, presently of District 4, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty, while assigned to District 16, and each granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2 a.m., Sunday, November 22, 1964, the above-named officers responded to a holdup in progress radio call at the Hotel Somerset, 400 Commonwealth avenue. As Patrolman Tonsberg in the 16-6 car converged on the scene he observed a Chevrolet Convertible, Mass. 439-412, race from the side entrance of the hotel. He immediately notified the dispatcher and gave pursuit. The dispatcher in turn alerted other cars responding to this call. Patrolman Ghilardi in the 16-3 car and Detectives Creamer and Regan in District 16 unmarked car joined in the pursuit which lead inbound in Storrow Drive. While in the Arlington Street underpass the operator of the Chevrolet Convertible lost control colliding with the side wall of the underpass completely turning the vehicle in the opposite direction of travel, at which time he proceeded to travel against on-coming traffic. In an attempt to avoid head-on collisions, the vehicles operated by Patrolman Tonsberg and Detective Creamer were forced against the curbing and tunnel wall. Patrolman Ghilardi was able to negotiate a U turn and continued the pursuit in Storrow Drive against traffic to a point near Fairfield street where the occupants abandoned the Chevrolet Convertible.

Patrolman Davis in the 16-2 car meanwhile had set up a road block on Back street and upon observing the above notified the dispatcher and gave chase on foot joined by Patrolman Ghilardi. After a short chase and brief struggle one of the occupants was apprehended. Upon returning to the abandoned vehicle, officers found on the floor and seized as evidence, a .22 caliber Savage revolver and a black snub nose .38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver, both fully loaded.

The apprehended man was confronted by the desk clerk at the Hotel Somerset who identified him as one of the men who had robbed him of $200 a short time prior.

At 10 A.M., on that same date, on information received, Detectives Creamer and Regan apprehended a second man who also was identified by the desk clerk as a participant in the robbery.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the courage and devotion to duty displayed by these officers in effecting the arrest of two dangerous criminals who are presently serving long sentences in the Massachusetts Correctional Institute, Walpole.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 23.

General Order No. 16.

BOARD OF MERIT.

The Board of Merit consisting of the Chief of Department, the Chief of Staff, the Assistant Fire Chief, and the Deputy Fire Chiefs, has considered all meritorious acts referred to it for the year 1964. After careful consideration and study, the Board submitted the following recommendations which are hereby approved by the Fire Commissioner.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER FRANCIS A KANE, LADDER COMPANY 3.

At 8.43 A.M., January 15, 1964, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1642 for a fire in the dwelling house at 254 Shawmut avenue. Upon arrival of Ladder Company 3 at the scene, fire and heavy smoke were issuing from windows on the third floor, and a man and woman were seen leaning from a window on this floor.

The members of Ladder Company 3 raised a 40-foot ladder to the window where the people were seen, and Fire Fighter Francis A. Kane of that company ascended the ladder, pulled the man out of the window onto the ladder where he was assisted to the ground by other fire fighters. The woman refused to be taken down the ladder and fell backwards into the room. Fire Fighter Kane entered the room and after a struggle was able to place the woman on his shoulders and carry her to a stairway and down three flights to the street, where she was removed to the Boston City Hospital. The room from which she was rescued, and the stairway were heavily charged with heat, smoke and gases, and the rescue work was performed before complete ventilation was accomplished and while hose lines were being laid. Fire Fighter Kane suffered from severe exhaustion, but he refused to go to the hospital and was given first aid at the scene.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was performed by Fire Fighter Kane under most difficult conditions and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 3 of 1964.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Francis A. Kane of Ladder Company 3 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT LEO J. FAMA OF ENGINE COMPANY 21.

At 12.33 P.M., February 19, 1964, the department responded to a still alarm, followed by Box 2236 (four alarms), for a fire at 6-6A Sumner place, Roxbury.

Upon arrival of Engine Squad 14, members of that company assisted occupants from the building. A woman informed Fire Lieutenant Leo J. Fama of Engine Company 21, who was detailed to Engine Squad 14, that her four-year-old child was still in a crib on the third floor of the building. Fire Lieutenant Fama went over the front stairs to the third floor, broke open a locked door, went to a rear bedroom, found the child and returned to the street by way of the stairway and turned the child over to her mother.

Fire Lieutenant Fama performed the rescue work under severe conditions of heat and smoke, without the protection of gas mask and hose lines. It appears that by his prompt action, Fire Lieutenant Fama saved the life of the child, as moments after he had removed her from the building, an explosion occurred and fire enveloped and gutted the third floor.

Because of the great risk to which he exposed himself, without regard for his own safety, the Fire Commission commended him highly in General Order No. 10 of 1964.

The Board recommends that Fire Lieutenant Leo J. Fama of Engine Company 21 be awarded the John E. Fitzgerald Medal for Most Meritorious Act.

CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT JOHN E. CAMPBELL OF LADDER COMPANY 15.

At 2.05 A.M., March 23, 1964, the department responded to Box 1584, three alarms, for a fire in an apartment building at 384 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

During the fire, two women were seen at a window on the top floor of the six-story building directly over the fire which was burning on two lower floors. Due to the layout of the courtyards, an aerial ladder could not be raised to the floor, which was out of reach of ground ladders.

Fire Lieutenant John E. Campbell and Fire Fighter Robert F. Murphy of Ladder Company 15 entered the building and ascended to the sixth floor via the front stairway. They encountered heavy smoke and heat on the stairs at the fifth and sixth floors as at this time there were no hose lines in operation above the fourth floor. On the sixth floor they groped their way down a long hall and entered a number of small rooms before they were able to locate the two women, who were near collapse and hanging out of a window to escape the severe heat and smoke. Fire Lieutenant Campbell and Fire Fighter Murphy each carried a victim down the stairway. Upon reaching the street, Fire Fighter Murphy collapsed and was taken to the Boston City Hospital along with the two rescued persons who were in critical condition from inhalation of heat and smoke. Fire Lieutenant Campbell received oxygen at the scene.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was accomplished by Fire Lieutenant Campbell under very hazardous conditions and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 14 of 1964.

The Board recommends that Fire Lieutenant John E. Campbell of Ladder Company 15 be awarded the Walter Scott Medal for Valor.

When Atlanta's long-time mayor, William B. Hartsfield, was criticized for wasting a million dollars on monkeys and a monkey house at Atlanta's Grant Park, he replied, "I didn't spend a million dollars on the monkeys. I spent it on the children. The monkeys just happen to work there."

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 28.

Personnel Order No. 706.

Patrolman Samuel Curtis, District 6, is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2:20 A.M., Monday, February 15, 1965, while patrolling East Broadway and when trying the right side door of the South Boston Courthouse, he heard a noise coming from within the building. Further investigation disclosed a wire grating covering a second floor window in the rear of the building had been removed, a light of glass above the lock broken and entrance apparently gained. Patrolman Curtis observed an open door on the left side of the building and entered through this door with his service revolver drawn.

While conducting a search of the building, Patrolman Curtis heard noises emanating from both the washroom and the probation office. Patrolman Curtis waited in the darkened hallway until a man emerged from the washroom, whereupon he ordered this man to lie on the floor. He then ordered the second man to come out of the probation office. He placed both under arrest. They were identified as Albert Whalen, 21 years, of 202 M street, and Francis Farrell, 22 years, of 9 Pacific street, both of South Boston. Further investigation resulted in the arrest of one Edward Yalmoskas, 20 years, of 15 Linley terrace, South Boston, on the same charge.

A check with the Department of Probation revealed that the subjects arrested all have long criminal records.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty and alertness displayed by Patrolman Curtis in discovering this burglary and apprehending the felons.

Personnel Order No. 707.

Patrolmen John McDonough, James F. Nolan, and James Donovan, District 10, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2:06 A.M., Sunday, April 11, 1965, Patrolmen McDonough and Nolan assigned to the 10-1 sector car while en route to the Boston City Hospital observed smoke pouring from the windows at 1118 Harrison avenue, in District 9.

Patrolman McDonough immediately notified the dispatcher of the fire and sounded an alarm from the nearby fire alarm box. Patrolman Nolan entered the building and in an attempt to rescue the second floor occupants was driven back by the flames and heavy smoke. He collapsed after making his way back to the street and was removed to the Boston City Hospital for treatment, suffering from smoke inhalation.

Patrolman Donovan who was dispatched to the scene and while on the sidewalk observed one of the second floor occupants about to jump from the sill. Patrolman Donovan ran beneath the window and succeeded in breaking the fall of this occupant one Latina Bailey, 19 years, thus saving her from possible death or serious injury.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness, courage and devotion to duty displayed by the officers in the performance of their police duty.

April 29.

Personnel Order No. 708.

Capt. Daniel J. Moynihan, Traffic Division, is hereby detailed to the Bureau of Field Operations, Patrol Division "A", effective at 7:45 A.M., Sunday, May 2, 1965, for duty until further orders.

April 29.

Personnel Order No. 709.

Patrolmen Daniel M. Boyle and Joseph Pazzanese, District 2, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2:35 A.M., Monday, March 8, 1965, the above-named officers responded to an alarm of fire in a four-story brick dwelling house at 11 Revere street, Boston. While engaged in establishing and maintaining fire lines at this fire, they observed two persons gesturing with flashlights from the fourth floor rear of 57 Myrtle street, Boston, the rear of which faces the scene of the fire. In order to determine what information these persons were attempting to convey, they both responded to 57 Myrtle street, a five-story brick dwelling house, and upon entering the front door, found the inner hallway and stairs leading to the upper floors on fire and burning fiercely, with no signs of any of the occupants.

Patrolmen Boyle and Pazzanese, at once, attempted to rouse the occupant of the first floor apartment without success. Patrolman Pazzanese battered in the only accessible door, the other two being on fire, entered the apartment, and after searching through smoke-filled rooms, found and led to safety a woman and child. In the meantime, Patrolman Boyle alerted the Fire Department and returned to the building, where he proceeded up the burning stairway and roused the other occupants of the building, including two elderly women and led them down the stairway to the safety of the street.

As the result of their exertion and exposure, Patrolman Boyle and Pazzanese both collapsed and were removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital, whereupon examination they were found to be suffering from smoke inhalation.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and devotion to duty displayed by these officers, who, through their immediate and positive action and without regard to their own personal safety, prevented a tragedy with a resultant loss of life.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

NEW POLICE STATION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As your Honor is aware, we envision the construction of a new police station within the City of Boston Government Center Project Area.

It is my purpose, therefore, and contingent upon your Honor's prior written authorization for the same, to award a contract for the preparation of the plans and specifications for the subject new police station, as well as to supervise its construction, to Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson and Abbott, a Massachusetts partnership and architectural firm with local offices at 1 Court street, Boston, Mass.

The architect's basic fee as taken from the American Institute of Architects 1951 recommended schedule of minimum rates and predicated upon the new police station's estimated construction cost of $1,200,000 shall be seven and thirty-six one-hundredths (7.36) percent of said cost. The architect's final basic fee, however, shall be based upon the actual total construction cost of the subject project and the fee percent applicable thereto as arrived at from the aforementioned fee schedule; provided, nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the City of Boston under the terms of the proposed contract as of the date of its execution including currently estimated expenditures of $31,680 for supplementary services by the architect exceed in the aggregate the sum of $120,000.

I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written permission to forego the customary public advertising in this city's official chronicle, the City Record, inviting competitive bids for these services.

In view of the circumstance that the proposed contract is to be one for the carrying out of services of a professional nature, a public solicitation for proposals for the same would not, in my opinion, be of avail to the City of Boston.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

NEW TRAINING SERVICE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The International Association of Chiefs of Police, Inc., have developed a new training "service" for law enforcement agencies.

This "service" consists of a semi-monthly receipt by each member of our department of a publication the contents of which encompass the treatment of various police problems, procedures and practices and would, therefore, immeasurably assist in the training, guidance and instruction of our personnel.

The cost per year for this "service" will not exceed forty-six hundred and fifty (4,650) dollars. Because of the uniqueness and character of the text of this publication entitled the "Training Key" edited solely by the above-named association, it will not be possible to obtain competitive bids. It will assist this department in furnishing a more intelligent and efficient police service in this community.

Therefore, I respectfully request your concurrence in dispensing with public advertising, pursuant to section 30 of the City Charter, and with your Honor's approval to award to the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Inc., Washington, D. C., a contract in the sum of forty-six hundred and fifty (4,650) dollars to provide the above-named service for the period April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

ENGINEERING SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Public Works Department, in order to properly control the quality of the materials used in the work performed under construction contracts, requires the supplementation of its own material testing with the services of a private testing laboratory. In addition to plant and laboratory material testing, we require continuous professional field inspection and supervision of the placement of the various materials of construction.

Our department requires both professional and subprofessional work and, in my opinion, the best subprofessional work requires constant professional supervision; but it is not customary to select professional engineering assistance by public bidding.

After most careful consideration, I have selected the firm of Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., 8 Alton place, Brookline, to perform this work. Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., under the direction of Miles W. Clair, not only operates a complete testing laboratory, but maintains an excellent staff of professional engineers capable of furnishing complete materials testing and engineering services to this department.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract, at this time, to the Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., 8 Alton place, Brookline, in the amount of $35,000 for this work. It has been agreed that the engineering services will be paid for on the basis of a schedule of hourly rates that will be set forth in the proposed contract and will include Social Security, Unemployment Compensation, Insurance, Payroll Costs, Overhead and Profit. It is understood and agreed that the total fee will be based on the services rendered at the agreed hourly rate with the total fee not to exceed $35,000.

Respectfully,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING DEPARTMENT.

PARKING METERS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Boston Traffic and Parking Commission caused to be printed in the January 23, 1965, and January 30, 1965, issues of the City Record an advertisement inviting proposals for furnishing and installing 9,000 parking meters in the City of Boston. On Wednesday, February 3, 1965, the bids submitted pursuant to the advertisement were publicly opened and read aloud. The following three bids were received:

M. H. Rhodes, Inc., $465,930; Middlesex Equipment Company, Division of W. J. Manning, Inc., $477,000; Rockwell Manufacturing Company, $584,000.

On February 8, 1965, after a full hearing and demonstration, the Boston Traffic and Parking Commission voted to authorize the chairman, on behalf of the commission, to enter into a contract with M. H. Rhodes, Inc., for the acquisition and installation of 9,000 parking meters.

Therefore, following your Honor's approval of the proposed action, I will enter into the $465,930 contract with M. H. Rhodes, Inc., for the subject 9,000 parking meters, in the usual manner.

For your Honor's further information, the contract will provide for payment by the City of Boston to be made from the fees received for the use of the parking meters under the authority of section 22A of chapter 40 of the General Laws, as amended.

Respectfully,

THOMAS F. CARTY,
Commissioner of Traffic and Parking.

Henry Selvitella

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 30.

Personnel Order No. 710.

Detectives First Grade John V. Nee and Joseph G. Cunningham, Criminal Investigation Division, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted two days' additional vacation.

On Thursday, February 25, 1965, the above-named detectives, upon learning that one William E. Powers, Jr., known to them through a previous arrest, had escaped from the East Cambridge Jail, believed this man might return to a familiar area in the Uphams Corner section of Dorchester. About 7.05 P.M., the same date, while cruising in Magnolia street, they observed Powers, walking in front of 20 Magnolia street, carrying a coat over his left arm and what appeared and believed to be a revolver clutched in his hand. The officers alighted from their car, Detective Nee approaching this man from the side and Detective Cunningham approaching from the rear. As they neared Powers, he turned and they were recognized as police officers. Detective Nee fired one round from his service revolver into the air as a warning, and when Powers attention was drawn to Nee, Detective Cunningham also fired a warning shot into the air, calling for this man to surrender. At this point, Powers made a lunge in the direction of Detective Nee, whereupon Detective Cunningham discharged a second round from his service revolver striking Powers in the upper left buttock, causing him to fall to the ground. The officers arrested Powers as an escapee from a penal institution.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and devotion to duty displayed by these officers and the efficient manner in which they brought about the apprehension of this dangerous escaped felon.

April 30.

Personnel Order No. 711.

Patrolmen Robert E. Stearns and Peter A. Emanuel, District 15, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted two days' additional vacation.

About 3.10 A.M., Saturday, March 27, 1965, while assigned to radio patrol car duty, the above-named officers responded to investigate a burglar alarm ringing at the Rapids Furniture Company Warehouse, 44 Charles River avenue, Charlestown. Upon arrival they heard the sound of breaking glass, and Patrolman Stearns ran to cover the west side of the building, while Patrolman Emanuel ran to cover the east side. While Patrolman Emanuel was investigating, he observed two men hiding in the bushes adjacent to the building, and he fired one round of his service revolver, into the air to alert Patrolman Stearns.

The two suspects tried to escape when they broke, running into opposite directions. However, after a short chase Patrolman Emanuel overtook and arrested at gunpoint one Richard S. Coymen, 33 years, married, of 20 Cook street, Charlestown. In the meantime Patrolman Stearns pursued the second man, fired one shot from his service revolver as a warning, but the culprit dove from a pier into the water in an attempt to escape. The Patrol Boat Pierce, responding to the alarm located and pulled from the water the second man, identified as John J. McCormick, 25 years, single, of 2 Wallace court, Charlestown.

The suspects were arraigned in the Charlestown District Court before Judge Frank Cavanagh on charges of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime with intent to commit larceny, and after hearing the evidence they were held in bail of $2,500 and case continued.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the courage and persistence displayed by these officers in effecting the arrest of the felons.

Mayor Unfolds Plans For Unparalleled Municipal Health Service

A new Department of Health and Hospitals, merging the Boston City Hospital and the Boston Health Department, will create an opportunity to develop an unparalleled municipal health service and provide the administrative machinery to run it, according to an expert report released by Mayor Collins.

The Mayor told a press conference he is requesting the General Court to approve a late filing of legislation to implement key recommendations in the report, including the creation of a new Board of Health and Hospitals and the establishment of a new post—Commissioner of Health and Hospitals—to direct the new department. The Mayor added:

"The proposed new department will provide an efficiently operating, integrated pattern of health care linking neighborhood health centers, public health programs, and the world-famed medical school teaching wards of Boston City Hospital. The new legislation is critical to the achievement of this goal and to the establishment of a health service unparalleled in other major U. S. cities and worthy of the new Boston.

"I am therefore asking the support and cooperation of the medical schools, hospitals, and universities—as well as of the general public—for passage of these bills."

Action has already been taken, according to the Mayor and President William H. Ellis, Jr., of the City Hospital Board of Trustees, to carry out recommendations dealing with the selection of the new commissioner, unification of the staff offices of the Hospital and Health Department, and strengthening and unification of laboratory services.

The special report is the result of an intensive eight-month study performed by Dr. Robert H. Hamlin and his associates at the Harvard School of Public Health for Mayor Collins and the Hospital Board of Trustees.

The major recommendations of the report have already been reviewed by the Boston City Hospital Trustees, the clinical chiefs of service at the hospital, the deans of Boston's three medical schools, and other key figures in the management of Boston's health programs.

In addition to twenty major recommendations (see attached list) covering important aspects of the merger and reorganization, the Hamlin report listed six primary purposes of the study:

"1. To relate, in a constructive and visionary fashion, the public health and medical services provided by the City of Boston for its citizens;

"2. To establish an effective decision-making apparatus which will relate the administrative and medical aspects of Boston's municipal health services in order to facilitate their future growth and efficiency;

Operation "Red Broom"

The Boston Fire Department's Fire Safety Cleanup Campaign, familiarly known as "Operation Red Broom," swung into high gear this week with its annual city-wide Fire Safety Contest.

Fire Commissioner Thomas J. Griffin announced that the contest, sponsored by the Fire Prevention Council of Boston, supplements the annual cleanup campaigns held nationally in support of fire prevention activities.

More than 2,000 red-handled brooms, symbolic of cleaning, will be distributed in the city on a daily basis, Monday through Friday.

Each of the red brooms, strapped to a fire alarm box, will bear a wrapper promoting the drive of Freddy Reddy Red Broom. Freddy Reddy is the equivalent of Smokey the Bear. Also included is a contest entry blank.

The finder of the red broom will be permitted to keep the broom and use the attached entry blank to enter the fire safety contest for 150 prizes, including a 21-inch color TV.

Contest blanks will be available at supermarkets and designated gasoline stations, and electric appliance stores in Boston and suburban areas.

Entrants must complete a jingle or slogan of 25 words or less and mail to "Freddy Reddy Red Broom," Boston Fire Headquarters, 115 Southampton street, Boston.

All entries will be judged by a panel from the Fire Prevention Council.

Health Service . . .

"3. To provide to those who receive medical care from the City of Boston a full range of services, including acute, intermediate, long-term and ambulatory care, which recognizes the changing nature of social, economic, and population forces within the city;

"4. To take full advantage of the public and private health resources available in the Boston area in building strong municipal health services;

"5. To establish a clear legal basis for the operation of Boston's public health and hospital programs;

"6. To provide a mechanism for the selection of the most qualified administrative staff, particularly the new Commissioner of the proposed Department of Health and Hospitals."

The report declares that the problems of the City Hospital and the Health Department stem in large part from "an unfortunate legacy compiled through indecision and lack of planning of programs and plant maintenance during the 1940's and 1950's" and notes that major efforts have been made in the last several years by Mayor Collins and the Hospital Board of Trustees to improve the situation, including the provision of $17.4 million for capital expenditures during the last four years alone.

In releasing the full report, Mayor Collins noted that expenditures for health services constitute almost 30 percent of Boston's entire annual budget, including $24.3 million for City Hospital and the Health Department, $17 million for medical services under public welfare, $1 million for school health services, plus other appropriations such as for health services for city employees. The Mayor commented:

"Most people do not realize that such a large share of Boston's budget is utilized for health services. The present report deals primarily with the $25 million in annual expenditures for City Hospital and the Health Department, but contains recommendations to initiate co-operative planning with other agencies, such as the Welfare Department and the School Department, that are involved in much of the remaining share. Thus it touches on every aspect of health service.

"The service that Dr. Hamlin and his associates—and through them, Harvard School of Public Health—have provided represents the type of constructive cooperation between city officials and universities which is vitally needed in the solution of Boston's complex municipal problems. The present report was requested almost a year ago and represents many long months of intensive effort."

A blue-ribbon Selection Committee is already at work seeking and interviewing potential candidates for the post of Commissioner. Its members are: Mr. Carl J. Gilbert, Chairman of the Board of the Gillette Company; Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, Commissioner of Public Health, Commonwealth of Massachusetts; Dr. Philip D. Bonnet, Administrator of Boston University Hospital and President of American Hospital Association; Dr. William B. Castle, Francis Weld Peabody Faculty Professor of Medicine Emeritus; and Dr. George A. Wolf, Jr., Vice-President for Medical and Dental Affairs, Tufts University and President of Association of American Medical Colleges.

Arts Festival

The Boston Arts Festival will feature painting and sculpture this year during a four-week show on the Common, Mayor Collins announced.

Performing arts will be at a minimum, he said, because of insufficient time for planning.

A festival for this year had been in doubt, because of a $187,000 deficit run up by 13 previous festivals.

However, businessmen have agreed to help raise at least $50,000 to reduce the debt.

Mayor Collins said the small festival this July or August would serve as a "bridge" to a bigger and better festival next year.

Housing Inspection

Boston's new Housing Inspection Unit on May 11 started a block by block crackdown on health, fire, and building code violations.

Created by Mayor Collins and the City Council, the four inspection teams of 11 men each launched into a battle against blight on four fronts, Director of Housing Inspection Daniel J. Finn disclosed.

Mr. Finn said one team was assigned to South Boston, the second into middle Roxbury, a third in the Dorchester-Roxbury sector, and the fourth into Jamaica Plain starting at Forest Hills.

A fifth unit will investigate specific complaints as they come into the unit's newly assigned offices on the eighth floor in City Hall Annex. The entire staff, according to Mr. Finn, consisted of 52 persons, including 40 reassigned inspectors from the city's Health Department.

WE DON'T MIND

Lettered on the back of a giant crane razing a building to make way for new construction in downtown Boston appeared this apologetic announcement with a British accent: "Sorry to be making a bit of a mess. Office building coming. Progress, you know," It's signed: Boston British Properties, Inc.

Union Head Challenges Sales Tax Foes To Produce Alternative for State Crisis

Stephen E. McCloskey, legislative agent for the Maritime Trades Department, AFL-CIO, hit out at persons who oppose Governor Volpe's tax program without advancing any alternative proposals.

"This is no time for an ostrich-like, head-in-the-sand attitude," he said. "We're not going to solve the critical financial problems confronting our cities and towns by making believe they don't exist."

McCloskey stressed that his great concern over the steadily rising tax rates in most Massachusetts cities and towns is the number of employment opportunities which are being lost to Bay State citizens.

He said it is virtually impossible to attract new industry to Massachusetts because the tax rates in most communities are out of line with those in other states whose cities and towns have a broader tax base and less of the tax burden is placed on real estate.

"We hear a great deal about the need for broadening the tax base in our cities and towns and providing them with a new source of revenue," McCloskey stated.

"But the very persons who agree that this should be done rise up in protest whenever anyone proposes a way to do it," said McCloskey.

He predicted that the average working man would support a sales tax and pay it cheerfully if he understood the alternatives and consequences if a sales tax is not enacted.

"I am sure the average working man does not favor a do-nothing policy while industries move out of Massachusetts and jobs are lost," McCloskey said.

"I am sure he would rather pay pennies at a time in a sales tax than to pay twice as much state income taxes as he pays now, and we would have to double the state income tax to provide the cities and towns the $150 million which the sales tax would yield them."

McCloskey emphasized that tourists and visitors to Massachusetts would pay the sales tax and would help contribute to the cost of government.

He also pointed out that business concerns which use things subject to a sales tax also would contribute a substantial amount.

"Those who are opposing the sales tax should also state whether they feel nothing at all should be done or whether they favor some alternative method of lowering the real estate tax rates in our cities and towns," McCloskey said.

C. of C. Hails Plan

The president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce gave high praise to Mayor John F. Collins' proposal for the creation of a new Department of Health and Hospitals.

Gilbert H. Hood, Chamber president, called the program "a bold and imaginative concept which could make Boston's municipal health services the finest in the nation."

"The recommendations made to the Mayor and Boston City Hospital Trustees by the Harvard School of Public Health clearly offer a blueprint for improved and specialized health services to all Boston citizens, particularly the aging and the indigent," Hood stated.

The Chamber president called for "quick approval by the General Court of the proposed Department of Health and Hospitals for the City of Boston."

“Project Head Start—Boston” Designed To Aid Youngest Victims of Poverty

“Project Head Start—Boston,” termed one of the most important long-range weapons in the city’s anti-poverty war arsenal gets under way soon with the start of an enrollment of an army of 1,500.

The army will be made up of boys and girls ranging in years from four years and three months to six years and six months. It will be recruited for the most part from the so-called disadvantaged areas of the city.

The project is made possible by a grant of $234,934 by the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity. It will be put into operation this summer under a program coordinated by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., 18 Tremont street. Participating will be 19 sponsoring agencies, one public, four with religious affiliations, and 14 private agencies.

One hundred classes of the child enrollees (each class limited to 15) will be located from June 28 to August 20, in Roxbury, North Dorchester, South End, Jamaica Plain, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, South Boston, Parker Hill-Fenway, North End, Columbia Point, and Brighton.

Places for enrollment will be announced before the actual recruitment gets under way.

Immediate goal of the project is to reduce the impact of early schooling on the children of disadvantaged parents and breaking shackles which educators have found have been a major factor in denying opportunity for even a minimum education attainment by such children.

Hailed By Mayor

Under rules of eligibility the enrollees-to-be must be prekindergartners or children who are to enter school next fall without kindergarten experience. They must come from low-income families.

Mayor John F. Collins hailed Project Head Start as “a tremendous advance in our war on poverty.”

“I have designated this as one of Boston’s highest priority community action programs. I wish to congratulate ABCD and all the public, voluntary, and private agencies participating.

“For too long we have been denying the right to a meaningful education which is the birthright of every American to children such as these. Today as we examine our faults and shortcomings, it is quite apparent that one of the most glaring weaknesses of a system built over the years can be directly traced to the earliest schooling of children in the very-low income and poverty classes.

“Suddenly, an innocent child finds himself thrust into a world he has never conceived. Through no fault of his own he finds himself as a kindergartner or first grader without the preparation of the well-sheltered child. He begins his education with all the disadvantages that poverty can impose. Some few have overcome those handicaps. Far too many do not and cannot.

“Those handicaps, those disadvantages make for failure—a failure in key formative years—a failure that is reflected not too many years later in our so-called school ‘dropouts’ and then a lifetime of the burdens and deprivations that must be carried in today’s world by the grossly undereducated.”

Executive Director Joseph S. Slavet of ABCD revealed that a tremendous amount of research, study, and planning has gone into the preparation of the “Head Start” program.

Highly Qualified Staff

Nearly 600 professional and non-professional men and women will staff the classes located in schools and other carefully selected locales. They will include a qualified head teacher for each of the 100 schools together with 100 trained assistant teachers. There will be 100 teachers’ aides, 10 field coordinators, educational, research, and resource consultants. Scores of mothers are expected to play an active voluntary role. Assisting in the program will be 200 young boys and girls drawn from Neighborhood Youth Corps.

The Boston School Department will play a major role in the program with the assignment of trained teachers and the provision of most classroom locales. It will provide consulting services as well as most of the classroom facilities.

Approximately 20 student teachers will participate in the program. They will come from Tufts University, Training Institute for Disadvantaged Children, and from Garland Junior College Institute for Day Care Aides.

Educators have found that the child entering school for the first time, either kindergarten or the first grade faces handicaps far beyond the traditional “stage fright” if he comes from a disadvantaged household.

His fears are multiple. His handicaps are monumental. Often he cannot identify by name such articles as a table or chair. Often the only toy he has known has been a rusted tin can. More often than not his world is a crowded tenement bedroom and sidewalk out front.

Project Head Start—Boston is aimed at breaking both the psychological barriers which close the world beyond.

The Head Start school day begins at 9 A.M. and ends at 1 P.M., Monday through Friday, during the eight-week period. There’ll be a snack and rest period at 10.30, a lunch at 12. Where necessary transportation facilities will be provided.

According to national guidelines, “Federal assistance is available only for programs which serve neighborhoods with a high rate of poverty and priority will be given to projects serving children in greatest need.”

B. J. C. C. Urges Sales Tax Enactment

The Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce strongly endorsed the limited 3 percent sales tax proposed by Governor Volpe and urged its immediate enactment.

The Jaycees declared that after "studying the plethora of exemptions contained in the Volpe sales tax, one might conclude this tax should properly be termed a 'luxury tax'."

"Governor Volpe's inclusion of numerous exemptions such as food, rent, children's clothing, prescription medicines, and other necessities of life tend to lessen his proposal's effect upon poorer families which must allocate a large percentage of their incomes to such items," the Junior Chamber asserted.

The Jaycees reported that after comparing studies of the amounts of money families in various income groups would spend on goods subject to the sales tax, the conclusion was reached that "at worst, the Volpe sales tax is neither progressive nor regressive. It affects both lower and higher income families about equally."

They also pointed out that the state's large nonresident student population as well as tourists and visitors would contribute to the cost of local government by paying the sales tax.

Massachusetts, the Junior Chamber observed, in stressing the need for a sales tax to broaden the tax base and lighten the tax burden on real estate "has the unfortunate distinction of having the highest per capita real property taxes in the United States.

"Increased state aid to education is a necessity, especially since future federal subsidies will probably be conditioned upon additional community expenditures," the report observed.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce also endorsed Governor Volpe's recommendation for the elimination of federal and state tax deductions from the state income tax return.

The Jaycees said that Governor Volpe "has mitigated his plan's effect upon lower income families by his favorable treatment of married taxpayers with families and also elderly taxpayers."

The Junior Chamber expressed the conviction "that the time is now to revise and reform Massachusetts income tax law."

The Junior Chamber also proposed that the state levy a tax upon interest paid by Massachusetts banks as well as a tax on net rental income, advocating that these two additions be made to the Governor's tax package.

The Jaycees urged Massachusetts residents to inform their legislators what kind of taxes they desire be enacted to meet the present crisis.

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce hopes that the taxpayers of Massachusetts encourage their representatives to enact the Volpe tax package along with revisions and reform of our present tax structure," the statement said.

B. F. D. Breakfast

The annual communion breakfast of the Boston Fire Department will be held on May 16 at old Boston College High School following 9 A.M. Mass in Immaculate Conception Church, Harrison avenue.

The Mass this year will be offered for the five firemen who lost their lives at Trumbull street on October 1. Rt. Rev. John J. McManmon, department chaplain, will be celebrant.

Members will assemble at the quarters of Engine 3 on Harrison avenue at Malden street and march to the church led by the department band and color guard.

Attorney Edward B. Hanify will be featured speaker at the breakfast.

Latest Top Off

Ceremonies "topping off" the first private office building construction in Government Center were held on May 11 with civic, government, and business leaders participating.

An evergreen tree and steel beam were raised to the top of the eight-story structure fronting the Suffolk County Courthouse.

Participants included Norman B. and Robert Leventhal, executives of Beacon Construction Company, developers of the $20 million structure; Mayor Collins; Rt. Rev. Francis J. Lally, chairman of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, and Edward Logue, BRA Administrator.

The structure is being built in three phases. When completed it will curve some 900 feet from Somerset street to a point near 41 Tremont street.

BASKETBALL GAMES

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT

The following is a report of the basketball games played during the 1964-1965 Boston Park Department Association of Basketball Leagues season, together with a list of the officials who participated at these events.

Provisions have been made in our 1965 budget to pay these officials at the rates of $10, $8, and $6 per night game. All officials were required to sign an "Official Assignment Card" for each game he or she officiated. These cards were then countersigned by a supervisor assigned by our Recreation Division.

Approval has been granted for the temporary employment of 158 basketball officials to be paid for the number of games listed opposite their respective names at the rate of $10, $8, and $6 per game, charged to budget Item 11, total amount, $15,696.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

24 Hammond street, Ward 9.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Mystic.—24 Hammond street, Ward 9, $11,500.

Duane.—24 Hammond street, Ward 9, $6,375.

Polcari.—24 Hammond street, Ward 9, $7,200.

John Duane Building Wrecking Company, 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $6,375 to John J. Duane Building Wrecking Company, 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass.

Very truly yours,

R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

TRANSPORTATION OF VOTING MACHINES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Board of Election Commissioners at their meeting held on April 15, 1965, voted unanimously to award the contract for the transportation of voting machines, during the period from May 1, 1965, to January 31, 1966, to P. A. Milan, Inc., of 202 State street, Boston, the only bidder.

Said P. A. Milan, Inc., has served this Board in a very satisfactory manner for over ten years and is well qualified. Public advertising for said transportation was under date of February 27, 1965.

We respectfully request permission to award such contract, the grand total of which amounts to $13,248.

Very truly yours,

BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
GEORGE H. GREENE, Chairman.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE.

To Whom It May Concern.

Pursuant to the power vested in me by section 151 of chapter 140 of the General Laws, as amended, I am this day awarding a contract to the Animal Rescue League of Boston which contract calls for the League to perform the duties required of dog officers in the City of Boston, as set forth in the aforesaid chapter 140, and to receive as full compensation therefor $85 a day (Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays included). The contract, which is for the period from 12.01 A.M. on May 1, 1965, to 12.01 A.M. on May 1, 1966, may be terminated by the League giving written notice to the City of Boston of its intention to terminate this contract on a date which shall be specified in such notice and shall not be less than ninety (90) days after the date of the sending of such notice.

In view of the nature of the work to be performed, the facilities needed and the expert staff necessary to carry out the prescribed duties of dog officer, and of the further fact that the League has performed the duties of dog officer in a most satisfactory manner for many years past, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by public advertising, and I am therefore dispensing with it.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

PAINTING CONCRETE POOL, FROG POND.

DEAR SIR:

On April 3, 1965, the Parks and Recreation Department publicly invited proposals for painting concrete pool at Frog Pond, Boston Common, Boston, Mass., by advertisement published in the City Record. On Tuesday, April 13, 1965, at 2 P.M. the following bids were publicly opened and read:

Dominic A. Gentile, 114 Grove street, Reading, $2,100; R. Tweed & Son, 249 Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain, $2,143; Modern Decorators, Inc., 249 Washington avenue, Winthrop, $3,369; Abbot Building Restoration Company, Inc., 80 Winchester street, Newton, $3,440; N. Gigliello Company, 139 Bradstreet avenue, Brookline, $3,600; G. S. Maloney & Co., 23 St. Mary's street, Brookline, $4,667; Joseph & Nicholas Bello, 91 Florida street, Dorchester, $4,761.

I propose, subject to the approval of your Honor, to award the contract for the painting work to R. Tweed & Son, 249 Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain, Mass., a local firm, for the sum of $2,143.

I am of the opinion that if R. Tweed & Son is awarded the contract for this work, it will be in the public interest to do so, for the reason that R. Tweed & Son has done this work efficiently and satisfactorily every year commencing in 1959 and including 1964, excepting only the year 1961 when we did not find it necessary to have this work performed; and I am confident that this firm would once again perform the work in a most satisfactory and workmanlike manner.

Accordingly, your approval is requested for award of this contract to the second bidder, R. Tweed & Son, 249 Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain, Mass., for the sum of $2,143 to be charged to the Parks and Recreation Department Budget.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM J. DEVINE,
Commissioner.

ABCD Coordinates Plan by Which 1,600 Jobs Will Be Opened to Boston Unemployed Youth Know some young man or woman needing a job?

If the someone is a resident of Boston, 16 to 22 years old, out-of-school, and from a low-income family, there could be one waiting with the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

One of the new phases of Boston's war on poverty has been especially set up for such young men and women under a grant of $868,000 from the U. S. Department of Labor. That grant has opened up 1,600 jobs in Boston for qualified youths, both male and female.

The program for young out-of-schoolers from underprivileged areas has been hailed by Mayor John F. Collins as a "most welcome weapon against poverty and a means by which the hopelessness of jobless youth can be turned to worth-while endeavor."

The Mayor congratulated Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., and its Executive Director Joseph S. Slavet for ABCD's work in carrying out the necessary coordinating work for putting the big program into action.

Jobs are now open to eligible youths in various municipal departments and more than a score of private and nonprofit agencies.

Pay $1.25 An Hour

The jobs will pay $1.25 an hour, for a 32-hour-work week. Positions are open in many diversified work categories.

How do you go about obtaining employment?

Applications are now being received at the following locations:

Norfolk House Center, 14 John Eliot square, Roxbury.

Denison House, 25 Howard avenue, Roxbury.

Jamaica Plain Neighborhood House, Bromley-Heath Housing Project.

South End Youth Training and Employment Center, 48 Rutland street, South End.

359 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury.

Olivia James House, East Seventh street, South Boston.

Massachusetts Division of Employment, Youth Opportunity Center, 255 Huntington avenue, Back Bay.

Soon to be opened will be offices at:

John F. Kennedy Family Service Center, 27 Winthrop street, Charlestown.

East Boston Social Center, Inc., 68 Central square, East Boston.

North Bennet Street Industrial School, 39 North Bennet street, North End.

Trained counselors will be on hand to examine and advise job seekers from the ranks of out-of-work youths faced with the problem of getting a job without previous experience plus the disadvantage of inadequate education.

City agencies opening positions to NYC enrollees are:

Assessing Department
Boston Housing Authority
Boston Public Library
Civil Defense Department
Boston Fire Department
Health Department
Boston City Hospital
Long Island Hospital
Mattapan Sanatorium
Parks and Recreation Department
Public Works Department
Welfare Department

Private Agencies Participate

Private, nonprofit agencies participating in the program and offering positions are:

Action for Boston Community Development, Inc.
American National Red Cross
Associated Day Care Services
Boston Floating Hospital
Boston YMHA Hecht House
Boys' Clubs of Boston, Inc.
Community Work Shops, Inc.
Denison House
Freedom House, Inc.
Jamaica Plain Neighborhood House
Jewish Memorial Hospital

Massachusetts Mental Health Center
Morgan Memorial, Inc.
Museum of Science
North Bennet Street Industrial School
Peter Bent Brigham Hospital
Roxbury Federation of Neighborhood Centers:
Norfolk House Center
Robert Gould Shaw House
Roxbury Neighborhood House
Orchard Park Service Center
St. Mark Social Center
United South End Settlements
Visiting Nurse Association
WGBH-TV
YMCA

Positions are available in many fields. They include clerical, maintenance, mechanical, electrical, medical, social, cultural, inspection, food service, and many other areas.

Basically, the jobs are designed to provide general work experience rather than to teach a specific trade or profession. The jobs are of such a nature that they would not normally be filled through normal employment practices. In many cases, the jobs would simply be added to already existing work loads.

Future Assistance

A 40-hour-week program will be observed by enrollees. However, eight of these hours will be set aside for counseling, training, medical or dental evaluation or treatment, and other supportive services available to Youth Corps members. For these eight hours there will be no pay.

The rate of pay for each position is $1.25 per hour for a maximum 32 hours of actual work. Friday will be payday.

The average length of time spent in the Corps is expected to be 16 weeks, although in some cases some may spend two years as Corps members.

Efforts will be made to place young men and women in regular jobs upon completion of job training in the Youth Corps. This will be in cooperation with state employment services and private agencies such as Norfolk House Center.

Eligibility Criteria

Several criteria have been developed consistent with the philosophy and intent of the Economic Opportunity Act in order to ensure that preference will be granted on the basis of need. Low income will be a primary determinant. Other relevant criteria will be:

1. Children with older siblings with known health and social problems (particularly school failure).
2. Children from one-parent families.
3. Children of parents with low educational achievement.
4. Children of unemployed or underemployed parents.
5. Children living in substandard housing.
6. Children of working mothers.
7. Children with parents in re-training programs.
8. Foster care children.
9. Children from families with multiple problems.
10. Children with a history of frequent diseases and problems but who can function in a classroom setting.
11. Children who can be in the program throughout the eight weeks.
12. Children with health and/or emotional problems which do not impair their normal classroom participation.
13. Children between ages four years and three months and five years and two months, entering kindergarten for the first time in September, 1965.
14. Children entering first grade in September, 1965 and who have not been to kindergarten, between the ages five years and three months and six years and two months.

Food Market

The Post Office Department's reluctance to give up claim to seven acres of land in the 40-acre Navy Annex "E" site in South Boston is jeopardizing plans to build a fruit and produce food market there, Mayor Collins declared on May 10.

The Mayor told the City Council that he is asking Senator Edward Kennedy and the city's recently retained public relations firm, S. J. McDonald and Associates, in Washington, to help the city break the stalemate.

The South Boston site is scheduled to be declared surplus soon and turned over to the Massachusetts Port Authority. The M.P.A. has already negotiated with the John C. Pappas real estate firm to develop the site as a home for the Atlantic Avenue fruit and produce men.

The Post Office, however, has access to the seven acres which it uses as a trucking terminal. Originally the Post Office indicated it wanted the entire area and as a federal agency said it would have priority over local agencies. It later agreed to give up its claim to all but the seven acres.

The Post Office insists it needs the seven acres to replace the facility next to the post office along Dorchester avenue which was destroyed recently by fire.

The Mayor said that if the seven acres were cut out of the food market plan, the entire project would be useless since rail service, a necessity for a modern food market, would be crippled.

Negotiations to make the land available have now been under way for more than a year. The food dealers must move to make way for the $80 million waterfront redevelopment program.

MINK EYELASHES

Every once in awhile the World Trade Center on Atlantic avenue comes up with some beauts in the off-beat items of international commerce. Take, for instance, an export firm in Korea which offers to send to American markets a choice of either human hair eyelashes or mink fur eyelashes. The mink lashes, no doubt, could be delivered to match milady's new stole.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER ROBERT F. MURPHY OF LADDER COMPANY 15.

At 2:05 A.M., March 23, 1964, the department responded to Box 1584, three alarms, for a fire in an apartment building at 384 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

During the fire, two women were seen at a window on the top floor of the six-story building directly over the fire which was burning on two lower floors. Due to the layout of the courtyards, an aerial ladder could not be raised to the floor, which was out of reach of ground ladders.

Fire Lieutenant John E. Campbell and Fire Fighter Robert F. Murphy of Ladder Company 15 entered the building and ascended to the sixth floor via the front stairway. They encountered heavy smoke and heat on the stairs at the fifth and sixth floors as at this time there were no hose lines in operation above the fourth floor. On the sixth floor they groped their way down a long hall and entered a number of small rooms before they were able to locate the two women, who were near collapse and hanging out of a window to escape the severe heat and smoke. Fire Lieutenant Campbell and Fire Fighter Murphy each carried a victim down the stairway. Upon reaching the street, Fire Fighter Murphy collapsed and was taken to the Boston City Hospital along with the two rescued persons who were in critical condition from inhalation of heat and smoke.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was accomplished by Fire Fighter Murphy under very hazardous conditions and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 14 of 1964.

The Board recommends that Fire Fighter Robert F. Murphy of Ladder Company 15 be awarded the Patrick J. Kennedy Medal of Honor.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER WILLIAM H. IRVINE OF LADDER COMPANY 7.

At 10:02 P.M., April 8, 1964, the department responded to an alarm from Box 3151 for a fire in the dwelling house at 22 Draper street, Dorchester.

Upon arrival at the scene, the members of Ladder Company 7 found the first floor front fully involved in fire, with fire coming out the front and side windows and also extending up the stairway to the second floor.

Fire Fighter William H. Irvine of Ladder Company 7, upon being informed that a woman and child were still in the building, ascended a ladder to the second floor rear and entered a bedroom. He made his way along a hallway into a second bedroom where he found the child. Being unable to bring the child down the front stairway because of fire and smoke, he made his way to the rear of the house and down the ladder to the ground.

Fire Fighter Irvine performed this rescue work under severe conditions of heat and smoke, before ventilation had been completed and while hose lines were being laid.

Because the foregoing rescue work was performed at considerable risk and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 19 of 1964.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter William H. Irvine of Ladder Company 7 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER THOMAS J. CALLAGHAN OF ENGINE COMPANY 22.

At 3:07 P.M., July 10, 1964, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1556 for a fire in the four-story dwelling house at 182 West Brookline street, Boston. Upon arrival at the scene, the members were informed that a child was trapped on the top floor of the building where smoke was showing.

Fire Fighter Thomas J. Callaghan of Engine Company 22 went over the front stairway to the top floor which was heavily charged with smoke and heat. He crawled down a corridor past the fire area and into a front bedroom. He ventilated the room by breaking windows with his fire helmet. He then found a thirteen-month-old infant, removed it from its crib and carried the child down the stairway to safety.

The rescue work was carried out before ventilation had begun or hose lines were in operation, and the prompt action of Fire Fighter Callaghan in all probability saved the child's life.

Because he exposed himself to great danger, without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 29 of 1964.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Thomas J. Callaghan of Engine Company 22 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER JOSEPH H. HARDIMAN OF LADDER COMPANY 3.

At about 8:25 A.M., September 4, 1964, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1671 for a fire in the dwelling house at 53 Newland street.

Upon arrival at the fire, members of Ladder Company 3 were informed by District Fire Chief Michael Galvin of District 4 that a woman was trapped on the third floor of the building which was involved in fire and heavily charged with smoke. A ladder was raised to a third-floor window, and Fire Fighters Joseph H. Hardiman and John M. Morrissey of Ladder Company 3 ascended the ladder and entered the third floor to search for the trapped woman. They found her unconscious on the floor and discovered at that time that she was a cripple. With great difficulty, the two fire fighters carried the woman to the ladder and down the ladder to the street.

Fire Fighters Hardiman and Morrissey performed the rescue work before the building could be properly ventilated and before hose lines could be brought into operation on the fire. In as much as neither fire fighter was wearing a gas mask, both of them endured great physical punishment due to exposure to smoke, heat and gases.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was performed at great personal risk and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner highly commended Fire Fighter Hardiman in General Order No. 37 of 1964.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Joseph H. Hardiman of Ladder Company 3 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

146 Camden street, Ward 9; 148 Camden street, Ward 9; 793 Tremont street, Ward 9; 795 Tremont street, Ward 9; 797 Tremont street, Ward 9; 799 Tremont street, Ward 9.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Parkman.—146 Camden street, $666.60; 148 Camden street, $666.60; 793 Tremont street, $666.60; 795 Tremont street, $666.60; 797 Tremont street, $666.60; 799 Tremont street, $667; total, $4,000.

Polcari.—146 Camden street, $1,100; 148 Camden street, $1,100; 793 Tremont street, $1,750; 795 Tremont street, $1,750; 797 Tremont street, $1,750; 799 Tremont street, $1,750; total, $9,200.

Mystic.—146 Camden street, $1,550; 148 Camden street, $1,350; 793 Tremont street, $4,275; 795 Tremont street, $4,275; 797 Tremont street, $4,275; 799 Tremont street, $4,275; total, $11,450.

Duane.—$6,375.

Parkman Equipment Corporation, 42 Sturtevant street, Dorchester, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $4,000 to Parkman Equipment Corporation.

Very truly yours,

R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 30.

Personnel Order No. 712.

Detective Third Grade Anthony C. Antonuccio, Patrolmen James S. Deeb and John F. Hegarty, District 15, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted one day additional vacation.

About 8:35 P.M., Friday, March 19, 1965, the above-named officers responded to a report of a holdup at the Donovan and Fallon Drug Store, 71 Main street, Charlestown. Upon arrival they were informed by the proprietor that he, two clerks, and a customer were threatened by an unknown male, who showed a snub-nosed revolver, and that the culprit then removed moneys from two cash registers and fled.

Obtaining a description from his victims, the officers began an intensive investigation, ascertaining all possible facts, and decided that the description fit that of one Arthur Keigney, 22 years, single of 41 Corey street, Charlestown, suspected of illegal activity within the district. The officers visited the home and other places where he was known to patronize and eventually arrived at the home of his girl friend, where after being admitted, found the suspect hiding behind a bedroom door.

A search of his clothing revealed a pair of sun glasses allegedly worn by the suspect during the holdup. In the room was found a snub-nosed .22 caliber blank cartridge revolver and $138 in U.S. currency, which Keigney admitted had been taken in the robbery.

On Saturday March 20, 1965, Keigney was arraigned in the Charlestown Municipal Court and after hearing the evidence, Judge Frank J. Cavanagh found probable cause on a charge of armed robbery, and ordered him held for the grand jury.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and devotion to duty displayed by these officers, who through their intelligent police investigation brought about the quick apprehension of this dangerous felon.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER JOHN M. MORRISSEY OF LADDER COMPANY 3.

At 8:25 A.M., September 4, 1964, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1671 for a fire in the dwelling house at 53 Newland Street.

Upon arrival at the fire, members of Ladder Company 3 were informed by District Fire Chief Michael Galvin of District 4 that a woman was trapped on the third floor of the building which was involved in fire and heavily charged with smoke. A ladder was raised to a third-floor window, and Fire Fighters Joseph H. Hardiman and John M. Morrissey of Ladder Company 3 ascended the ladder and entered the third floor to search for the trapped woman. They found her unconscious on the floor and discovered at that time that she was a cripple. With great difficulty, the two fire fighters carried the woman to the ladder and down the ladder to the street.

Fire Fighters Hardiman and Morrissey performed the rescue before the building could be properly ventilated and before hose lines could be brought into operation on the fire. Inasmuch as neither fire fighter was wearing a gas mask, both of them endured great physical punishment due to exposure to smoke, heat and gases.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was performed at great personal risk and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner highly commended Fire Fighter Morrissey in General Order No. 37 of 1964.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter John M. Morrissey of Ladder Company 3 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASES OF FIRE LIEUTENANT JOHN J. MCCORKLE, ENGINE COMPANY 24; FIRE LIEUTENANT JOHN J. GESWELL, LADDER COMPANY 26; FIRE FIGHTER FRANCIS L. MURPHY, ENGINE COMPANY 24; FIRE FIGHTER JAMES B. SHEEDY, LADDER COMPANY 4; FIRE FIGHTER ROBERT J. CLOUGHERTY, ENGINE COMPANY 3.

In General Order No. 43 of 1964, the Fire Commissioner highly commended, posthumously, the above-named members of the department who, through devotion to duty, exposed themselves to extreme personal risk which resulted in the loss of their lives at Box 1671, five alarms, October 1, 1964.

The Board recommends that their names be placed on the Roll of Merit, and that they be awarded posthumously the Boston Fire Department Medal for Valor.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

D.C. TO A.C. CONVERSION.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

After public advertising, on July 18, 1961, a contract in the sum of $848,000, which was revised to $929,475.87 by contract amendments dated April 23, 1962, May 15, 1962, July 17, 1962, October 31, 1962, January 23, 1963, and June 28, 1963, respectively, was entered into by the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department, and M. B. Foster Electric Company, 368 Congress street, Boston, Mass., for D.C. to A.C. conversion (Phase 2), Boston City Hospital.

Your authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising at this time, and to further amend the aforesaid contract in the sum of not to exceed $45,056.79 to cover the cost of the following changes and additions in and to the contract work, all of which are incidental to the principal project:

1. Change from surface mounting to flush mounting and concealing of conduit and wire, not in the original contract, for the Pavilion III Building and provide access manhole in switchboard room floor slab for ready access to steam lines running under the floor.

2. Additional conduit, wire and relocation of elevator controller, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power demand for new enclosed walkways.

3. Provide new sump pump and controller together with access door to steam tunnel, at the Administration Building.

4. Additional conduit, wire and panelboards, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power demand in Surgical Building.

5. Additional conduit, wire and three-phase power supply, not in the original contract, for increased power demand to X-Ray Annex Building.

6. Additional conduit, wire and power supply, not in the original contract, for new enclosed walkways together with additional operating room ground detector equipment, not in the original contract, due to obsolescence of ground detector equipment initially specified for the Dowling Building.

7. Additional conduit, wire and panelboards, not in the original contract, for increased power demand for Thorndike Building.

8. New power supply breaker, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power requirements for the Medical Building, tenth floor.

9. Changing of load center circuit breaker trip ratings from those included in the original contract to increased ratings for increased building loading throughout the building complex.

10. Additional conduit, wire and power supply, not in the original contract, to supply increased load for the Heart Station.

11. Additional conduit, wire and panelboards, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power demand in Children's Building.

12. Additional conduit, wire and power supply, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power demand for Administration Building.

13. Relocate and furnish additional conduit, wire and panelboards, not in the original contract, to provide for renovations to Gyn and Maternity Building.

14. Additional conduit for wire, not in the original contract, to provide for alterations in the Sears Building.

15. Additional conduit, wire, panelboards and power supply throughout other miscellaneous areas, not in the original contract, to provide for increased power demand and alterations.

The contract as indicated above, has hitherto been amended in the total sum of $81,475.87 to provide for the performance of other necessary additional work, making the present contract price $929,475.87. The proposed addition in the sum of not to exceed $45,056.79 will result in a new contract price of $974,532.66.

The extra work now proposed is not covered by the said contract because the Awarding Authority could not foresee that this additional work would be required.

Public advertising for these enumerated items of added work would not, in the view of the Board, be a practical course to pursue; nor would such procedure be in the best interests of the City of Boston. For your further consideration, the type and nature of the work makes it virtually impossible to prepare plans and specifications upon which open bids could be obtained.

Respectfully yours,

BOARD OF TRUSTEES IN CHARGE OF THE HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,

By WILLIAM H. ELLIS,
President.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, April 5, 1965.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, at 2 P.M., President TIERNEY in the chair, and all the members present.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Wiseest of counsellors, dearest of companions, ever blessed and eternal Lord walk with us through the difficulties and responsibilities of this new week of work. Our minds are fallible and finite and frequently confused and confounded by problems and questions for which adequate solutions and satisfactory answers are not easily found. Without fear or defeatism let us meet and answer all our problems with a firm conviction that what we do is right even if no one agrees with us, and in doing what we know to be right then we shall deserve the guidance of divine wisdom. Tension and frustration disturb our peace and deplete our strength and can ruin our best efforts, fortify us against them by the power of Thy grace. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR W. J. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor W. J. Foley stated that he wished to disassociate himself from the hearing on Wednesday, he considers the hearing illegal, and that a hearing on Wednesday would vitiate the entire matter.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR G. F. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor G. F. Foley stated that the required ten-day notice of publication will be complied with, that this is something over and above what is required by federal law.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR LANGONE.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor Langone stated that in order not to create any confusion or doubt the matter should be discussed in executive session with the full Body to see how the problem should be handled.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR G. F. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor G. F. Foley stated that due to the confusion and uncertainty, this is the reason for the Wednesday hearing, and the people from the Boston Redevelopment Authority will make a presentation and we will have a chance to use this as a sounding board of the ideas.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR W. J. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor W. J. Foley stated that to hold a hearing in any way except in compliance with federal laws is to run the risk that you are not complying with the federal law. He further stated that as an attorney, a member of the Body and as vice-chairman of the Urban Renewal Committee he wished to disassociate himself from a procedural decision in which he did not share.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR G. F. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor G. F. Foley stated that lest there be any doubt among the members, this was not to be a private hearing, it is to be publicly advertised in the newspapers, and everybody who wants to attend has a perfect right to do so.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR G. F. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor G. F. Foley stated that if there were any doubt concerning this public hearing, Corporation Counsel Coffey would be asked to decide if this preliminary hearing was legal.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR LANGONE.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor Langone stated that he wished to disassociate himself from this hearing and he strongly urged the chairman to reconsider his action. He further stated that it was a one-sided affair whereby the redevelopment director presents his side and nobody presents the other side.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR CRAVEN.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor Craven stated that she would take no part in any preconceived hearing on the urban renewal program in Charlestown.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR IANNELLA.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor Iannella stated that as soon as you advertise something of this nature people will attend, but if not given an opportunity to participate will be confused as to whether it is to be considered a briefing to the public or is the Boston Redevelopment Authority to brief the Council. He further stated that possibly the chairman feels that the hearing would be beneficial and put the Council in a position whereby they would understand the subject matter better.

REQUESTING PERMISSION TO MOVE STONE BOUND BETWEEN BOSTON AND NEWTON.

The following was received:

Boston College,
Chestnut Hill, Mass.,
March 30, 1965.

To the Honorable Members,
Boston City Council.

Gentlemen:

One of the stone bounds between the City of Boston and the City of Newton is on the property of Boston College which is to be the site of our new Science Building on campus.

We would like to have permission to move the bound from the site in order to proceed with the foundation for the building. After discussion of the matter with officials of the Building, Law, and Engineering Departments of the City of Newton we have had the enclosed site plan (Sp-A1, March 23, 1965) prepared by our architects, M. A. Dyer Company, showing and describing by note on plan the proposed relocation of the bound.

The existing bound is noted as No. 2 and would be relocated by installing two new site bounds as indicated on the plan.

In accordance with General Laws, chapter 42, section 10, your permission is respectfully requested as soon as conveniently possible in order that we may proceed with construction of the foundation of the building.

Sincerely yours,

THOMAS FLEMING, S.J.,
Financial Vice-President.

WITHDRAWING ORDER FOR SALE OF DISCONTINUED PORTIONS OF FELLOWS, RANDALL AND HUNNEMAN STREETS, ROXBURY, TO GREEN SHOE MANUFACTURING COMPANY AND SUBMITTING NEW ORDER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,

April 5, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

On March 8, 1965, I submitted to your Honorable Body an order proposing the sale of approximately 55,487 square feet of city-owned land at Fellows, Randall and Hunneman streets, Roxbury district, to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company for the sum of $50,000. This order provided that since an eminent domain taking of a portion of the city land by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the Inner Belt Highway was imminent, that the purchaser would convey so much of the land as required to the Commonwealth at ninety (90) cents a foot.

On March 31, 1965, the Department of Public Works for the Commonwealth recorded in the Suffolk Registry of Deeds an order of taking for state highway purposes. This order takes from the City of Boston 18,716 square feet from the lands proposed to be sold to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company. I therefore withdraw my message and order of March 8, 1965, and recommend to your Honorable Body the adoption of the accompanying order which calls for the sale of approximately 36,771 square feet of land to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company for the sum of $33,100.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of approximately twenty-one thousand seven hundred fifty-nine (21,759) square feet of land at Fellows street, Roxbury, held by said city for playground purposes; and

Whereas, The Parks and Recreation Commission of the City of Boston has determined that said parcel of land is no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of two parcels of land being portions of Fellows street discontinued by an order of the Public Improvement Commission dated February 26, 1965; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has determined that said parcels are no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of two parcels of land being portions of Randall street discontinued by an order of the Public Improvement Commission dated February 26, 1965; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has determined that said parcels are no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The Green Shoe Manufacturing Company has offered to purchase the above-described parcels of land for the sum of thirty-three thousand one hundred dollars ($33,100) for the purpose of constructing on the above parcels and on land adjacent thereto owned by the company a structure estimated to cost approximately two million dollars ($2,000,000); now therefore it is hereby Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to sell at private sale, for the sum of not less than thirty-three thousand one hundred (33,100) dollars, to the Green Shoe Manufacturing Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, with a principal place of business at 960 Harrison avenue, Boston, Mass., and to execute and deliver to the purchaser an instrument in writing conveying all the City of Boston's right, title and interest in and to the following:

APPROPRIATION FOR LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith an order requesting an appropriation of $174,299.25 to the Library Department from available funds reserved for library purposes, together with a letter from the Director of the Library Department explaining the reasons thereof.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Library Department, March 26, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In considering the budget for the Library Department for the year 1965 the Appropriations Committee of the City Council reduced the allowance for the purchase of library books in the Library Department's 39 account by the sum of $175,000 in view of the fact that there was on hand and awaiting appropriation the sum of $174,299.25 as a state-aid-to-libraries grant for 1964 which could be used for library purposes. It was the understanding at the time of the hearing that, once the regular budget appropriations had been passed, the City Council would give consideration to restoring to the Library Department's budget allowance this sum of $174,299.25.

The Trustees therefore respectfully request that your Honor introduce into the City Council an appropriation order whereby there will be made available to Item 39 in the Library Department's Budget the sum of $174,299.25, namely, the direct-grant-in-aid paid in 1964 to the City of Boston for appropriations for public library purposes under the provisions of section 19 A and B of chapter 78 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,

MILTON E. LORD, DIRECTOR.

Ordered, That the sum of one hundred seventy-four thousand two hundred ninety-nine dollars and twenty-five cents ($174,299.25) be, and hereby is, appropriated to the Library Department, said sum to be appropriated from the account State Aid for Public Libraries under the provisions of sections 19 A and B of chapter 78 of the General Laws.

1-01-21, State Aid for Public Libraries, to 1-10-11, 39, Library Department $174,299.25.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

ORDINANCE INCREASING FEES FOR SEALING CERTAIN WEIGHING DEVICES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 5, 1965.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

Chapter 55 of the Acts of 1965 increases the fees for sealing certain weighing and measuring devices; but under St. 1949, c. 222, s. 3, these increases will not apply in Boston unless clause (357) of section 1 of chapter 30 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961 is amended to incorporate them.

The changes are shown in the following tabulation:

	Present	Proposed
Scales
Capacity:
Less than 10 lbs.	$0.50	$1.00
"10 lbs. or more but less than 100 lbs.	0.50	2.00
100 lbs. or more but less than 5,000 lbs.	1.00	5.00
5,000 lbs. or more but less than 10,000 lbs.	2.00	10.00
10,000 lbs. or over.	5.00	25.00
Liquid Measuring Meters
Inlet Pipe:
1 inch or less.	1.00	2.00
More than 1 inch but not more than 4 inches.	3.00	5.00
Over 4 inches.	3.00	10.00
Milk and Cream Bottles (a gross)	0.50	2.00
Taximeter.	1.00	2.00
Vehicle Tank (per 100 gallons)	0.50	1.00

Since there is no reason why these increased fees should not apply in Boston equally as much as throughout the rest of the Commonwealth, I recommend adoption of the ordinance transmitted herewith to conform with the applicable provisions of the aforesaid clause (357) to the above-cited 1965 statute.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Five
An Ordinance Concerning the Fee To Be Charged for Sealing a Weight or Measure.
Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston,
as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 30 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961 is hereby amended by striking out clause (357) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:

Project Head Start--Boston To Aid 1,500 Preschool Children in 100 Centers

Project Head Start — designed to give more than 4,000,000 underprivileged children across the nation a chance to “catch up” with their new classmates before they first enter school as kindergartners or first-graders in the fall — will see Boston putting into operation a most comprehensive program.

Between June 28 and August 20, 1,500 boys and girls, ranging in age from four years and three months to six years and two months, will attend “classes” in 100 child development centers.

Each class will be limited to an enrollment of 15 children. Enrollees will come from families of low income.

The Head Start — Boston program has been co-ordinated by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. Participating are Boston public, private and parochial schools, municipal, state and private agencies, institutions of higher learning, parents’ groups and individuals within and outside the principal areas to be served.

The Head Start program here has been made possible by funds totaling $487,281, with $306,130 coming from the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity and $181,151 from local agencies.

While education and social services will be primary concerns of the staffs, all-important emphasis will be placed on health — in the detection of physical ills and handicaps with evaluations to determine correction and treatment.

The centers will be located in Brighton, North End, South Boston, Columbia Point, Parker Hill-Fenway district, East Boston, Charlestown, Jamaica Plain, South End, Dorchester, and the Roxbury-North Dorchester area where 35 will be established.

Columbia Pt. Shopping Center Gets Start

Mayor Collins joined business and legislative representatives of South Boston and Dorchester in ground-breaking exercises for a 27-acre shopping center at Columbia Point, next to the point’s public housing project.

Mayor Collins hailed the start of what will be a 34-store development as another important step in the development of the New Boston.

The proposed commercial development, to be known as Family City Shopping Center, will be built on a nucleus of three major stores—Zayre’s Department Store, Almy Bigelow-Washburn Store, and Elm Farm Food Supermarket.

Gordon Bloom, president of the shopping center, said construction would take more than a year with opening slated for fall of 1966.

Ground preparation work, including filling in of about 7.5 acres of the bay will take about 90 days and a contract for the building work will be awarded this fall, Bloom said. There will be land left over, he said, for future developments which may include apartments.

A total of 140,000 cubic yards of earth will be moved during the site preparation, work being done by Thompson-New York. A total of 1,000 feet of new shoreline will be constructed during the site preparation work.

The Zayre Store will be the largest with 80,000 square feet of space. The Almy Department Store will occupy 60,000 square feet. Bloom said the Elm Farm will feature the latest ideas in supermarket concepts.

Brighton Development

Construction of a new federally-aided housing development for the elderly will get under way shortly, on Chestnut Hill avenue in Brighton, as a result of a contract signed May 17 by Jacob I. Brier, Chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, and Millard M. Kay, President of the Kay-Locke, Inc., construction company.

The new development will be the tenth of the specialized housing developments for the elderly to be built by the Authority since the construction program for elderly housing got under way in December of 1960.

Housing developments for the elderly in Roxbury, Jamaica Plain, Dorchester, and South Boston now provide a total of 642 apartments for low-income couples or individuals over 65 who are in need of safe and decent housing.

Special features such as safety bars in bathrooms and emergency signal switches in bedrooms and bathrooms, to summon aid when needed, are some of the conveniences which contribute to the comfort and safety of elderly people.

The new Chestnut Hill development also will incorporate these features in the 64 garden-type apartments in two-story row houses which will be built on land fronting on Chestnut Hill avenue. The site adjoins the Veterans of Foreign Wars building and the Wallingford Road properties on either side.

The low bid figure by Kay-Locke, Inc., for the construction of the development was $964,200. The architect was Arthur H. Cohen and Associates.

The development is expected to be completed approximately 15 months after the start of construction.

Fat Envelope

It cost a delinquent taxpayer 30 cents in postage to square his conscience the other day. That's what it cost him to drop an envelope in a box served by the South Postal District.

When Marietta Coffey of the Mayor's Office opened the envelope addressed to the Mayor she found it contained $5,300 in good U. S. banknotes of various denominations.

The money was sent immediately to Edmund R. Holmes in the Treasurer's Office, who applied it to the city's "Conscience Fund," a special account for past tax defaults sent anonymously.

VIII. HIGH COMMENDATIONS.

At 8:41 A.M., April 23, 1965, the department responded to Box 2314 for a fire in the apartment house at 879 Beacon street.

Upon arrival of Ladder Company 15, District Fire Chief William Kennealey ordered the company to get a ladder to the fifth floor window on the alley side of the building where a woman was trapped and threatening to jump because of extreme heat and heavy smoke.

While Ladder 15 was being maneuvered into a position where the aerial ladder could be used, Fire Fighter George E. Thompson of Ladder Company 15 climbed to the top of a 50-foot ladder which was at approximately a 90 degree angle and several feet short of the window. From his position he calmed the woman and kept her from jumping. In the meantime, the aerial ladder was raised to the fifth floor at about a 45 degree angle, despite the interference of a fire escape on an adjoining building. Fire Fighter Thompson climbed from the top of the 50-foot ladder onto the tip of the aerial ladder, assisted the woman out of the window, onto the ladder and down to safety.

Fire Fighter Thompson performed this rescue work under very difficult conditions and without thought of his own safety. The Fire Commissioner, therefore, is pleased to commend him highly, and his name is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

At 4:53 P.M., April 15, 1965, the department responded to Box 1761, two alarms, for a fire in a three-family wooden house at 28 Southwood street, Roxbury, which fire was extending to the house at 62 Edgewood street.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 12, the members were informed by police of Division 9 that children were trapped on the third floor at 28 Southwood street and that they were unable to rescue them because of the fire, heat, and smoke which filled the stairwell. One police officer was treated at the City Hospital as a result of his rescue attempt.

Fire Fighters Fred I. Smith and William P. Kenney of Engine Company 12 proceeded over the front stairs, passing through the heavy smoke, gases, and heat coming from the second and third floor porches and kitchens and began a search for the children. The third floor was heavily charged with smoke, and they groped from room to room until Fire Fighter Smith found a child unconscious on the floor of a front bedroom. He removed the child to the street via the front stairway. Fire Fighter Kenney also found an unconscious child in the front bedroom. He passed the child to members of Ladder Company 4 who had by this time raised a ladder to the third-floor window. Fire Fighter Smith again entered the building and proceeded to the third floor where he found another child wedged between a wall and a bureau. He removed the second unconscious child to the street and aided in administering oxygen to this child while en route to the Boston City Hospital.

The rescue work was performed before any ventilation work had been done or hose lines were in operation.

Fire . . .

Because Fire Fighters Smith and Kenney performed this duty at great risk to their persons and without thought of their own safety, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend them highly, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.
BUILDINGS RAZED.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

173 Quincy street, Ward 13; 175 Quincy street, Ward 13; 183 Quincy street, Ward 13; 185 Quincy street, Ward 13; 187 Quincy street, Ward 13; 189 Quincy street, Ward 13; 191 Quincy street, Ward 13.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Polcari.—173 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 175 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 183 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 185 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 187 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 189 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; 191 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,800; total, $12,600.

Duane.—173 Quincy street, Ward 13, $999; 175 Quincy street, Ward 13, $991; 183 Quincy street, Ward 13, $990; 185 Quincy street, Ward 13, $992; 187 Quincy street, Ward 13, $991; 189 Quincy street, Ward 13, $992; 191 Quincy street, Ward 13, $995; total, $6,950.

Mystic.—173 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 175 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 183 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 185 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 187 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 189 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; 191 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,750; total, $12,250.

Parkman.—173 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 175 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 183 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 185 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 187 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 189 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; 191 Quincy street, Ward 13, $1,300; total, $9,100.

John J. Duane Company, 600 Southern Artery, Quincy, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitation upon awards that can be made, without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $6,950 to John J. Duane Company.

Very truly yours,

R. E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT. ENGINEERING SERVICES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 9, 1964, with the approval of your Honor, a contract for certain engineering services required in connection with the proposed construction of various water, sewer, and drainage systems related to the Washington Park Urban Renewal Area, Project No. Mass. R-24, was awarded to Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, Inc., 11 Beacon street, Boston.

The ceiling for engineering services in connection with the preparation of utility plans, etc., for the streets listed on Page 1 of this contract was $16,000. At the 6 percent fee stated in the contract, the engineer's fee for this work will be approximately $6,120. This leaves approximately $9,880 unexpended in this encumbrance.

To keep pace with rapidly developing needs for utility installations in the Charlamme area and also for proposed widened Warren street, Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, Inc., has to prepare the necessary utility plans and documents for contract work.

It is estimated that the engineer's fee for this additional work will amount to approximately $6,400 which would leave approximately $3,840 unexpended balance.

Therefore, your Honor's approval is respectfully requested to amend the above-referenced November 9, 1964, contract, without public advertising, by adding to the five streets detailed on Page 1, the additional five streets where utility work is required, namely, Charlamme street, relocated Laurel street (part), Humboldt avenue (part), Sherman street (part), and Warren street (part).

Very truly yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REMOVAL AND DISPOSAL OF VEHICLES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Subsequent to my letter to you dated March 11, 1965, requesting the award of a contract for the removal and disposal of vehicles to Arnold Aronoff of 95 Topeka street, Roxbury, the lowest bidder, and approved by you on March 19, 1965, Arnold Aronoff failed to deliver to this office a bond and contract properly executed within the time specified under the contract.

We have been unable to establish on investigation that the second and third bidders are capable of performing the work to our satisfaction. The fourth and last bidder, the J & L Iron Company whose bid was $9 per vehicle has agreed to enter into a contract with the city to do the work at the low bid price of $4.95 per vehicle. This company has had contracts with the city for doing this work over the past two years, their last contract price being $6 per vehicle, and has performed the work in a satisfactory manner.

In view of the above facts, I therefore respectfully request your permission to reject all the bids received on March 9, 1965, and to dispense with further public advertising and enter into a contract with the J & L Iron Company, 70 Park avenue, Cambridge, for the removal and disposal of vehicles for the period May 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966, at the unit price of $4.95 per vehicle removed, the total amount not to exceed $16,000.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PRESIDENT'S PRESENTS

The late Eleanor Roosevelt in McCall's: "Franklin would get so interested in everyone else's presents that it might be four or five days after Christmas before we finally enticed him to open his own."

"Being an orderly person, I would always get mine opened before I went to bed, so I could prepare the list for thanking as soon as possible and get everything put away. My husband was never troubled by any such considerations; when he opened a gift book, he might read it all the way through before opening the next present. You could not hurry him when he had a gift to enjoy."

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, April 12, 1965.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President TIERNEY in the chair, and all the members present.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Gracious and everlasting Father, we pray Thee to summon us today to do our duty and to live always by the law of duty, by the law of self-sacrifice, and the law of love. Life is too short and too sacred for hate, resentment, and bitterness.

As Thou once did hail, herald the renewal of humanity with a sermon from a cross, preaching that sinners, thieves, outcasts are all children of God, lead us to love every man for we are all redeemed by the precious blood of God's own son.

In this week called Holy, in these days sacred to the love of the God made man, teach us all the meaning, the power, the infinite worth of the sacrifice of the Cross.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointments: Weighers of Goods for the term ending April 30, 1966:

Henry T. Smith, 4 Canton road, North Quincy; Samuel J. Smyth, 3 Fortune road, Woburn.

Referred to the Committee on Confirmations.

APPROPRIATION FOR SUFFOLK COUNTY JAIL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 8, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith a communication from the Sheriff of Suffolk County Jail requesting an additional appropriation of $20,000 for security installation at the Jail.

The attached communication explains the purpose of this security installation, and meets with my approval.

I am therefore submitting an appropriation order for $20,000 and respectfully request adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
County of Suffolk,
Office of Sheriff,

April 7, 1965.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request an additional $20,000 to complete additional security installation at the Suffolk County Jail. The general contractors bid higher than was anticipated.

The alternative would be to readvertise the work which would cause added expense in redrawing the plans. To cut further would be an impossibility.

Hoping this request will be approved so we can award the contract as it is and complete the work as soon as possible.

Respectfully yours,

FREDERICK R. SULLIVAN,
Sheriff of Suffolk County.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty thousand (20,000) dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated for the purpose hereinafter specified, said sum to be raised by taxation on the estates of the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore or hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and interest thereon apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

4-08-11, Jail, 2, Contractual Services $20,000.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

APPROPRIATION FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

On February 1, 1965, the School Committee submitted to me preliminary estimates of the proposed budget for 1965, for all school purposes which totaled in the aggregate $50,635,802 or $6,200,825 more than the 1964 appropriations for all purposes.

As Mayor of the City of Boston it is my duty and responsibility to oversee the financial affairs of the city in the best interest of all. After careful review of the proposed school budget the School Committee was advised on March 29, 1965, that the total school budget should not exceed $46,729,688 which would be $2,594,947 greater than the actual expenditures in 1964.

In my letter to the School Committee of March 29, 1965, I made reference to the fact that I had accepted the recommendations of the Supervisor of Budgets, Henry T. Brennan. In arriving at my decision I also stated that I recognize the responsibility of the School Committee in determining how the school funds should be allocated and that I had no desire to interfere with such determination.

The amount allotted to General School purposes was $44,795,688 or $2,279,411 greater than the 1964 allowances. These recommendations also allowed $134,000 for Land and Buildings and $1,800,000 for Alterations and Repairs.

The School Committee submitted their final budget, following a meeting of April 3, 1965, which asked for General School Purposes, $45,848,006; for Alterations and Repairs, $801,747; and for Land and Buildings, $134,000.

The General School Purposes account exceeded the amount recommended by me, by $1,052,318.

Nonacademic employees and administrative personnel in the school system presently are enjoying salaries higher than employees in comparable positions in other city departments. It was regrettable, but necessary, for me to inform the School Committee that these increases could not be allowed at this time.

In the amount allotted for General School Purposes, however, there are funds available which will allow for substantial salary increases for teachers which will place the Boston teacher salary in a comparable and competitive position with school systems throughout the Commonwealth.

It is regrettable that the School Committee reduced the Alterations and Repairs account almost $1,000,000 under the figure I felt necessary to keep our aging schools in repair. It is doubtful that they can find sufficient funds in this account to maintain normal maintenance and possibly better the physical structures. If they should need additional funds at a later date it is the responsibility of the School Committee to request an additional appropriation.

An examination of the annual budgets for schools during my administration reveals that in 1960 the amount allotted for all purposes was $33,856,807. Taking into account this appropriation order and the likelihood of a supplemental request for Alterations and Repairs of School Buildings of $1,000,000 the school budget for 1965 will reach $46,731,435. This allocation of funds in 1965 will be $12,874,628 greater than 1960, or an increase in school costs during the past five years of more than 36 percent.

Under the appropriation limit established by chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, as amended by chapter 117 of the Acts of 1949 and as most recently amended by chapter 786 of 1963, the School Committee is authorized to appropriate $40,599,551.64 for General Purposes. To make available to the School Committee $44,795,688 which I feel is adequate in 1965, the sum of $4,196,136.36 must be appropriated with your approval.

I am submitting herewith an order providing for the additional appropriation amounting to $4,196,136.36 and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of money specified herein be, and hereby is, appropriated for General School Purposes in addition to appropriations previously voted by the School Committee; said sum to be raised by taxation on the estates in the City of Boston; and that all orders heretofore or hereafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes, and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided—$4,196,136.36.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

ACCESS TO CERTAIN PORT AUTHORITY FACILITIES ON SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS.

The following was received:

Massachusetts Port Authority,

April 8, 1965.

Mr. Joseph M. Dunlea,
City Clerk.

Dear Mr. Dunlea:

Our Executive Director, Mr. Edward J. King, has asked me to take the responsibility for the development of public facilities which are covered in your resolutions of February 1, receipt of which is acknowledged.

I trust you are aware that I have only recently joined this Authority and that you will extend to me the courtesy of a late reply.

I am entirely in agreement with the resolutions and feel that the Massachusetts Port Authority will gain very much in a public relations sense from the proper implementation of the resolutions; thus you will be pleased, I am sure, to learn that we have taken steps to engineer a suitable development. This is intended to go hand in hand with the steadily increasing passenger service out of Commonwealth Pier and be of a caliber comparable to airport public viewing vistas. I anticipate being able to forward you more specific details before too long.

I thank you for your patient courtesy and extend every good wish to you and the members of the Council.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS T. SOULES,
Director, Port of Boston.

Mr. J. M. Dunlea,
City Clerk.

Dear Mr. Dunlea:

As a result of your recent communication in relation to the resolution introduced by City Councillor Langone, which was adopted by the Boston City Council on March 8, 1965, I communicated with the General Services Administration. I enclose a letter which I have received from Robert T. Griffin, Assistant Administrator of GSA, which I am forwarding through you for the information of City Councillor Langone and the other members of the Boston City Council. You will note the frank statement made in his letter to me by Mr. Griffin as to the present status of the matter recently acted upon by the members of the Boston City Council.

If a situation develops in the future where I can be of further assistance, please have no hesitancy in contacting me.

General Services Administration,
Washington, D.C.,

April 9, 1965.

Hon. John W. McCormack, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Speaker:

This is in further reference to your continued interest in disposal plans in connection with the E Street Annex property in South Boston. It also replies to your letter of March 26, 1965, transmitting an inquiry from the City Clerk, City of Boston.

Upon determination that no further federal need for the property existed and in accordance with our normal procedures, eligible local governmental units were notified of the availability of the property for surplus disposal. They were invited to participate in the joint development of a comprehensive and coordinated plan for its use and procurement for public purposes to assist us in our disposal planning. In response to such notice, the Massachusetts Port Authority indicated an interest in acquiring the property by negotiated purchase. It subsequently developed that there is a possible federal requirement for the use of the property by the Post Office Department in conjunction with its South Boston facility and further disposal actions were deferred.

At a meeting of March 2, representatives of the Massachusetts Port Authority were advised concerning the possible Post Office requirement. They were also advised that if the Post Office Department is successful in acquiring the bed of Dorchester street from the city for use in conjunction with Parcel 2 of the property, the Post Office would then be able to relinquish its request for Parcel 1 containing approximately 13 acres. At that time, we would be in a position to proceed with the prompt disposal of the 18 acres.

We will notify you of all future developments in the matter.

Sincerely yours,

ROBERT T. GRIFFIN,
Assistant Administrator.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILLOR G. F. FOLEY.

Upon receiving unanimous consent to make a statement, Councillor G. F. Foley stated that there was no authorization from the committee for transportation. He also stated that notices of the hearings were published on two occasions in the newspapers, and the press made it clear that all people would be given an opportunity to be present at the hearings.

OFFER TO PURCHASE VACANT POLICE STATION ON JOY STREET.

The following was received:

Hon. John J. Tierney, Jr., President,
Boston City Council.

Dear Councillor:

The Gen. Casimer Pulaski Post No. 269, American Legion, wishes to purchase the vacant police station on Joy street, Boston, for their post quarters. The police station will also be used as a Community Center for the people who so badly need a place to congregate and meet their friends.

The Polish Church Hall at one time was used as a Community Center on 35 Chambers street in the West End, but sad to say the church and the hall were demolished and the people are left with nothing where they can go to meet their friends.

The Joy Street Police Station would be an ideal location for the people to come and meet again and the Pulaski Post wishes to make this possible by purchasing said property.

The Gen. Casimer Pulaski Post members fully agree to use this as their post quarters and as a Community Center for the people. We also understand and agree to renovate the building in keeping with the decor and harmony of the location.

We wish to offer the sum of $4,500 for the said property and hope that this will meet with the approval of the Boston City Council.

Will you please help us with our problem in asking the Boston City Council to pass the Joy Street Police Station on to the Gen. Casimer Pulaski Post No. 269 so they may purchase it for their post quarters.

For further information the committee will gladly present this matter to the Boston City Council.

Very sincerely,

ANTHONY J. TROTZKY, Chairman.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Coun. IANNELLA, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

Report on the communication from the Corporation Counsel (referred March 22) on legislation for decennial redvision of Ward Lines by City Council—recommending that the communication be placed on file.

The report was accepted, the communication was placed on file.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

The Committee on Ordinances to whom was referred on March 1, 1965, a message of the Mayor and ordinance creating a Housing Inspection Department in the City of Boston and defining its powers and duties, having considered the same respectfully recommends passage of the ordinance as redrafted by the Committee on Ordinances, and rejection of the ordinance submitted by the Mayor.

Your committee held two publicly advertised hearings on March 16 and April 14, 1965, both of which were well attended. Both the proponents and the opponents of the proposed ordinance were given every opportunity to present their views. Interested parties were invited to submit constructive criticism and any amendments which might strengthen the proposed ordinance. It is the considered opinion of your committee that while the proposed ordinance is not the complete answer to all the problems besetting the city in the matter of code enforcements, nonetheless, it is a step in the right direction, and after it has been tried should it be found wanting in various areas it will be possible to implement and strengthen the ordinance by a practical day to day application of the various principles embodied in it. Any deficiency in the practicability of the enforcement of the ordinance can always be remedied by amendments, therefore your committee recommends that the ordinance, as redrafted by the committee, ought to pass.

FOR THE COMMITTEE,

BARRY J. HYNES, Chairman.

South Bend, Ind.

Councillor Peter F. Hines, Vice-Chairman,
Committee on Ordinances, City Hall.

Dear Sir:

Unable to make meeting today.

As chairman on Committee on Ordinances please record me in favor of the bill on code enforcement. Urge passage by members of the committee as this will be a significant step forward in the area of code enforcement.

Sincerely,

BARRY T. HYNES, Chairman,
Committee on Ordinances.

The foregoing report of the committee was accepted and the ordinance as submitted by the Mayor was rejected.

The question came on the passage of the ordinance in the following new draft:

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-five.

An Ordinance Creating a Housing Inspection Department in the City of Boston and Defining Its Powers and Duties.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

SECTION 1. The Revised Ordinances of 1961 are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 16 the following chapter:

CHAPTER 16A.

HOUSING INSPECTION DEPARTMENT.

Section 1. There shall be in the city a department, known as the Housing Inspection Department, which shall be under the charge of a board, known as the Housing Inspection Board, consisting of an officer, known as the Commissioner of Housing Inspection, who shall be chairman of the board, another officer known as the Assistant Commissioner of Housing Inspection, and the building commissioner, ex officio. The commissioner of housing inspection and the assistant commissioner of housing inspection shall each be appointed by the mayor for a term expiring on the first Monday of the January following the next biennial municipal election at which a mayor is elected, and shall devote his whole time to the duties of his office. The commissioner of housing inspection shall exclusively have the powers, and perform the duties, of a department head with respect to the making of contracts and the appointment, suspension, discharge, compensation and indemnification of subordinates for the housing inspection department. In the event of the absence or disability of the commissioner of housing inspection or of vacancy in his office, the assistant commissioner of housing inspection shall act as chairman of the housing inspection board, and shall have the powers conferred, and perform the duties imposed, upon the commissioner.

There shall be in the housing inspection department an inspection division, an enforcement division, and such other divisions, if any, as the housing inspection board shall from time to time adjudge necessary for the proper conduct of the department. The inspection division shall be under the immediate charge of the commissioner of housing inspection; and the enforcement division shall be under the immediate charge of the assistant commissioner of housing inspection, subject to the general supervision of the commissioner.

Section 2. The commissioner of housing inspection shall have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed on a board of health by section 12 of chapter 83, and section 127 of chapter 111, of the General Laws, by sections 122, 123, 124 and 125 of said chapter 111 insofar, but only insofar, as said sections 122, 123, 124 and 125 apply to places of human habitation, and by section 5 of said chapter 111 insofar, but only insofar, as said section 5 relates (a) to enforcing so much of the state sanitary code as concerns standards of fitness for places of human habitation, housing and sanitation standards for farm labor camps, and requirements for the disposal of sanitary sewage in unsewered areas, and (b) to adopting such public health regulations, not inconsistent with the state sanitary code or other provisions of law, as in the opinion of the commissioner of housing inspection may be necessary to make and keep all places of human habitation fit for such habitation. The commissioner of housing inspection shall also have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed upon the board of health of the city, or the health commissioner of the city, by sections 13, 14, 19, 20, 21 and 22 of chapter 382 of the acts of 1885, as amended, by chapter 185 of the acts of 1897, by chapter 219 of the acts of 1897, as amended, by section 128 of chapter 550 of the acts of 1907, as amended, and by section 116 or any other provision of the Boston Building Code. It shall further be the duty of the commissioner of housing inspection: (1) to receive all complaints of violations, in or about places of human habitation, of any and all statutes, ordinances, rules and regulations enacted for the preservation of health or safety in or about places of human habitation; (2) to refer in writing to the building commissioner or the fire commissioner, as the case may be, for investigation and prosecution all complaints of violations of the Boston Building Code and the Boston Fire Prevention Code and to maintain written contact with said commissioners with respect thereto; and (3) to inspect places of human habitation and enforce therein the provisions of law specified in the preceding sentences of this section and all other statutes, ordinances, rules and regulations enacted for the preservation of health in or about such places. It shall remain the duty and responsibility of the building and fire commissioners, respectively, to enforce compliance with the Boston Building Code and the Boston Fire Prevention Code. To aid them in discharging such duty but without any lessening of their respective responsibilities, the enforcement division of the housing inspection department may offer them, and they may accept, assistance designed to unify action upon complaints received by the commissioner of housing inspection.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 5 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961, as amended, is hereby further amended by inserting after clause (11) the following clause:—

(11A) The commissioner of housing inspection, thirteen thousand five hundred dollars; and the assistant commissioner of housing inspection, eleven thousand five hundred dollars.

SECTION 3. The powers and duties of the health commissioner under sections 13, 14, 19, 20, 21 and 22 of chapter 382 of the acts of 1885, as amended, under chapter 185 of the acts of 1897, under chapter 219 of the acts of 1897, as amended, under section 128 of chapter 550 of the acts of 1907, as amended, under section 116 and any other provision of the Boston Building Code, under section 12 of chapter 83, and section 127 of chapter 111, of the General Laws, under sections 122, 123, 124 and 125 of said chapter 111 insofar, but only insofar, as said sections 122, 123, 124 and 125 apply to places of human habitation, and under section 5 of said chapter 111 insofar, but only insofar, as said section 5 relates (a) to enforcing so much of the state sanitary code as concerns standards of fitness for places of human habitation, housing and sanitation standards for farm labor camps, and requirements for the disposal of sanitary sewage in unsewered areas, and (b) to adopting such public health regulations, not inconsistent with the state sanitary code or other provisions of law, as in the opinion of the commissioner of housing inspection may be necessary to make and keep all places of human habitation fit for such habitation, are, together with all appropriations relating to all such powers and duties, hereby transferred to the commissioner of housing inspection, and the bureau of general sanitation in the environmental sanitation section of the health division of the health department is hereby abolished.

SECTION 4. Every person holding an office or position subject to the civil service laws and rules shall, if the office or position is abolished by this ordinance, be reappointed without civil service examination or registration to a similar office or position with similar status in a new department or agency, or division of either, created, or a department or agency, or division of either, not abolished, by this ordinance; and every such person shall, upon each reappointment, retain all rights to retirement with pension that shall have accrued or would thereafter accrue to him; and his services shall be deemed to have been continuous to the same extent as if such abolition had not taken place. As used in this section, the term "agency" shall be construed as defined in section 5 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 as amended by section 1 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1953.

SECTION 5. This ordinance shall be deemed to be made under section 5 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended by section 1 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1953, and shall be so construed that no person holding, whether under general or special law or otherwise, an office or position subject to the civil service laws and rules shall, by reason of the adoption of this ordinance, be reduced in rank or compensation or be without an office or position with identical status and title without impairment or interruption of civil service rights.

On motion of Councillor Hines, the ordinance in the new draft was referred to the Executive Committee.

The New Boston is proud to participate in this significant meeting honoring three great American citizens and sponsored by this distinguished Committee of leading Bostonians.

The New Boston is more than beautiful buildings and plazas, more than facades of glass and concrete and steel, more than Prudential Center and Government Center. The New Boston is more than a renewed vision which looks to the future with the hope and expectation that the enlightened self-interest of the entire Commonwealth and a sense of history and justice will provide Boston with the wherewithal to meet its commitments with financial integrity.

Above all, the New Boston is people, young and old, rich and poor, black and white, Catholic, Protestant, and Jews, bound together by common tradition and common goals and aspirations, to make Boston a city of economic, social, and spiritual progress, where all of its people can live in safety, decency, and happiness.

The New Boston is symbolized by this backdrop of the three chapels at Brandeis University, a project, rich in religious meaning, which grew out of a meeting of this very Committee exactly ten years ago.

The New Boston is the ecumenical spirit of understanding and good will, expressed not just in words, but in private and public conduct throughout the year. The New Boston is the continuous dialogue with all elements of our community, especially with minority groups, conversations with Reverend Martin Luther King and with Negro leaders of our own community, in our common effort to break down ghetto walls and eliminate discrimination, hate, misunderstanding, and racial imbalance.

The New Boston is every force available to our city, hacking away at the jungle of unequal opportunity, of inadequate training, of the roots of poverty. And we use the most effective tools we have, such as ABCD with all of its human and material resources, experts from our Greater Boston universities, the imaginative programs of this Committee and my own Committee on Civic Unity and on Minority Housing.

That is why the New Boston is proud that those honored tonight are symbols of the moral imperative of equal rights and equal opportunities for all people and of the need to live and work together in the Brotherhood of Man.

Senator Jacob Javits wears the Republican label, but his program reads like a Democratic platform. His fight for social justice, his support of all liberal causes, his role in the battle for voting rights—side by side with our courageous Massachusetts Senator Ted Kennedy—his determination that little people shall not be bullied—whether they are Jews in the Soviet Union or Israelis surrounded by the threatening Arab League—all these make us proud that he is one of the great leaders of our nation.

Boston has an especially warm spot for Joe Cronin. We now share him with the nation, because his influence and good deeds span the entire continent. To him, fair play and sportsmanship on the playing fields are the motivating forces for civil rights and equal opportunities in the totality of our lives.

LeRoy Collins is the embodiment of the enlightened South, the New South, and of the determination that this country has a responsibility, after a century of failures and delays, once and for all to eliminate discrimination in jobs, schools, voting and homes, a responsibility which must be fulfilled. The community relations impact of Governor Collins is being heard throughout the land, because of his statesmanship and his leadership qualities. His is a voice of silk and an arm of steel.

Each of these three men shares a common attribute: his concern for his fellow man, whatever his race, creed, or national background. Each is dedicated to the concept of American pluralism: that our nation is great because it is the sum total of all of its component parts; that our strength comes from the very differences in the ethnic and cultural origins of our people, as well as from the unity of our ideals and our unswerving determination that we will prevail over all enemies, abroad and at home; that we must act brotherhood as well as talk it, that understanding and good will must be implemented by action, every day of the week, every hour of the day, with persistence and with courage.

The New Boston is people, and we are delighted to honor these three noble examples of dedication to people, as we honor this Massachusetts Committee of Catholics, Protestants, and Jews, for its programs which implement the concept that all people are the children of God.

Roxbury Defender Project, Backed By ABCD, Hailed By B. U. Law School's "Brief"

The entire May issue of the Boston University Law School's Brief, official publication circulated among alumni and students, is devoted to the unique Roxbury Defender Project.

The project which is attracting national attention has been made possible by a grant of $32,400 from Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. Its purpose is to serve indigent defendants in the Roxbury District Court.

Here is how the project is described in the lead article in Brief:

A new course for law students, which is providing representation for indigent defendants in criminal cases and is considered revolutionary in law school curricula, has been established at the Law School.

Considered to be a pilot study for law schools, the course combines classroom instruction with courtroom work and will bring 30 or more third-year students each year into the Roxbury District Court in Boston to engage in preparation and trial of less serious criminal cases involving indigent defendants.

The program, made possible by an annual $32,400 grant to the School of Law by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., was recently announced jointly by President Harold C. Case of Boston University, the Judges of the Roxbury District Court, and Charles I. Schottland, president of ABCD.

The funds are a part of a larger grant to ABCD from the National Defender Project of the National Legal Aid and Defender Association to provide services for indigent defendants in the District Courts of Suffolk County.

The program was proposed and designed by the School of Law through its Legal Studies Institute.

In stressing the importance of the project, Dean Elwood H. Hettrick of the School of Law said that concern among judges over counsel for indigents has been widespread since the 1963 Supreme Court decision of Cideon v. Wainwright, which decreed that any indigent defendant involved in a serious case must be represented by counsel in criminal proceedings.

Dean Hettrick pointed out that Chief Justice Earl Warren, in his address at the dedication of the school's new facilities, expressed great concern over the problem by declaring that "each year thousands of indigent defendants are being shuffled off to penitentiaries without the benefit of any legal advice whatsoever."

Robert Spangenberg of Marlboro, Mass., Director of the School's Legal Studies Institute, has been named director of the Roxbury Project. Pointing out the uniqueness of the Boston University program, Mr. Spangenberg said, "we hope, through the course, to interest law students in entering criminal trial practice and to change the negative atmosphere of recent years surrounding the practice of criminal law."

The new three-credit, two-semester course involves class lectures in such matters as trial preparation, procedure, practice, evidence, examination, disposition, sentencing, and probation. The classroom portion of the course is being taught by Professor Henry P. Monaghan of Cambridge, Mass., with additional lectures by Presiding Judge Elwood S. McKenney of the Roxbury District Court, assisted by leading members of the trial bar.

The students, who are distributed academically throughout the third-year class, are assigned to actual preparation and trial of cases involving less serious crimes in the Roxbury District Court. They examine the pleadings, prepare necessary pleas and investigate the facts fully, including an interview with the defendant and all material witnesses.

James W. Bailey of Dorchester, Mass., former assistant attorney general for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, has been appointed by Dean Hettrick as the full-time supervising attorney for the project and has also been designated clinical associate professor of law at the school.

Prior to the actual trial, each case is fully discussed by the students with Mr. Bailey, and the necessary preparations made. In each case, Mr. Bailey is the attorney of record and he is present in court at the time of trial.

During the course, its members are taken on field trips to the Deer Island House of Correction and the State Prison at Walpole. In addition, interviews with clients may be held at the Suffolk County Jail or the Youth Service Board Detention Center in Mattapan, as well as at the Roxbury Defender Project Office at 124 Dudley Street, Roxbury.

Mr. Spangenberg says the program is "a true implementation of Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark's hope that we can handle a great part of the indigent problem through the four-part framework built around the judge, the practitioner, the teacher, and the student."

The program has the support of Presiding Justices Charles I. Taylor and Elwood McKenney of the Roxbury District Court, and of Special Justices Samuel Eisenstadt and Philip A. Tracy. In emphasizing the need for such a project, Judge McKenney has stated that over 30,000 criminal complaints are commenced in the Roxbury District Court each year, and that in approximately 70 per cent of the cases defendants are not represented by criminal counsel.

Mr. Spangenberg, who said he hoped the program would "greatly aid the Roxbury community and the indigent defendants," stated that defendants were free to reject student counsel, but said that "we have yet to have this occur."

Faculty Advisor for the Roxbury Defenders is Professor Paul J. Liacos. A 1952 graduate of the Law School and recipient of a LL.M. degree from Harvard, he teaches first year Criminal Law, second year Evidence, and a third year seminar in Criminal Procedure. As a Law School representative in the organization of the Roxbury Project, he has been active at every stage of the program's development.

Tenants-To-Be?

Development Administrator Edward J. Logue told the Boston Redevelopment Board that at least three enterprises are interested in building on top of the proposed $7 million, 2,000-car parking garage in the Government Center.

Logue said suggested enterprises include a restaurant, nightclub, movie theater, or a health club.

He said it would cost at least $250,000 over the bare garage cost to strengthen foundations and other alterations, permitting future business development over the garage proper.

The Real Property Board will construct the garage but must decide soon whether or not it wants to spend the extra money for the type of foundation needed if there is to be further development, Logue said.

Jesse Owens Legs Not Needed To Get Across

Pedestrians aren't required to step like Jesse Owens when they cross on the right signal of Boston's new "Walk—Don't Walk" lights. Mentioning the crossing at Tremont and Boylston streets as an example, an officer of one of the major national automobile organizations claimed pedestrians were given only 11.2 seconds to get across on a "Walk" sign.

Such a scamper isn't necessary says Acting Traffic Commissioner William T. Doyle. Actually the pedestrian has 17 seconds.

Points out Mr. Doyle:

"What he (the critic) is unfamiliar with is the fact that the pedestrian is allowed an additional six-second clearance period indicated by flashing 'Don't Walk' indications during which time no vehicles move making a total of 17 seconds for pedestrians.

"This is a longer period of time than what pedestrians were allowed under the old red-yellow pedestrian indications. The Traffic and Parking Department always welcomes constructive criticism and feels that if this man is sincerely interested in improving the lot of the pedestrian, he should take the time to visit with responsible persons in the Traffic and Parking Department. We have recently embarked on a major re-engineering program for all Boston traffic signals.

"We would like to advise the public that in addition, wherever these 'Walk' lights are installed, in addition to the 'Walk' interval, there is also a flashing 'Don't Walk' pedestrian clearance interval during which no vehicles move."

BHA Bids

Chairman Jacob I. Brier of the Boston Housing Authority, announced the Authority is receiving sealed bids for exterior wood shingling and clapboards to replace vertical siding on fifteen buildings at the Fairmount Housing Development in Hyde Park.

Closing date for all bids, accompanied by a performance bid deposit of $400, is noon of June 10.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file and available at the offices of the Boston Housing Authority, 230 Congress street, Boston.

"SNAP" Organized By South Enders To Build South End Community Action Program

An exciting, broadly-based self-help program with low-income residents themselves playing the leading roles will seek the rehabilitation of Boston's South End economically, socially, and culturally, Mayor Collins announced.

Far-reaching plans coordinated by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., are being activated under the aegis of the South End Neighborhood Action Program, Inc., a new neighborhood-based corporation set up to run this community action program with $236,211 in funds made available under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

All South Enders

The first nine board members of SNAP, the new corporation, are all South Enders. They represent a variety of walks of life and ethnic groups. They are, for the most part, from the lower-income bracket. Three are residents of public housing projects, two are welfare recipients, and one could be classified as technologically unemployed. They were selected upon recommendations of their neighbors within certain broad categories to ensure adequate community balance and representation of major low-income groups. It is now their privilege to expand the board to the full 30 members.

Officers of the corporation are president, Gilbert H. Caldwell, 32 Williams street, pastor of the Union Methodist Church; vice-presidents, George Farrah, 433 Shawmut avenue, and Mrs. Floradaliza Gonzales, 136 West Canton street; treasurer, Roland T. Peters, 1462 Washington street; clerk of board, Attorney Robert F. Corliss, 1 Cazenove street.

Other incorporators are Edgar F. Colson, 24 Yarmouth street; Miss Mary E. Deloach, 10 Greenwich park; Rev. Royden C. Richardson, 158 West Concord street; Mrs. Pearl E. Smyth, 25 Msgr. Reynolds Way; Mrs. Barbara L. Strother, 2 Trotter court.

George Farrah is president of the South End Urban Renewal Committee and one of the original members of the planning committee which drafted the new program. Another incorporator, the Rev. Royden Richardson, is one of the 10 outstanding young men of 1965 named by the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce, for his work among South End youth. The Reverend Caldwell has been active in national civil rights activities and participated in the march on Selma with Dr. Martin Luther King. One of the incorporators, a Puerto Rican, herself, has been active for several years in the effort of finding jobs and housing for other Puerto Rican immigrants.

Blueprint

Broad outlines of the South End Community Action Program include the following areas:

(1) Several neighborhood councils operating in storefront centers in various parts of the South End will be set up. These councils like the over-all board, will be concerned with devising and implementing programs which call for collective neighborhood action to solve serious economic, physical, and social problems.

(2) A "Skid Row" redevelopment program which will deal clinically with the problem of the South End's alcoholics and non-alcoholic transients, individuals, and families, assisting them in procuring jobs, decent housing, and health services. This will be operated by the Boston University Medical Center and the State Division of Alcoholics, under a subcontract.

(3) Self-help programs to assist in the development of small South End businesses and groups of low-income people who would like to develop credit unions and other consumer programs.

(4) Several Boston family service agencies will collaborate in making available in the South End intensive case work with chronic problem families and families with problems centering around home management (housekeeping, budgeting, and child care).

(5) Jobs will be developed by a specialty staff working closely with existing resources to raise the level of employment in the South End and tackle general problems of underemployment of family heads and older persons.

(6) A program development unit will operate on a continuous basis to develop and evaluate programs which are relevant to the grass roots needs of the people of the South End with their active participation.

(7) Many jobs will also be available within the program itself for presently unemployed nonprofessional South Enders.

When the present board of directors is expanded, most of its new members will be residents of the area, and from low-income underprivileged circumstances.

The expanded board will also include representatives from Mayor Collins' office. Action for Boston Community Development, Boston Redevelopment Authority, United Community Services, and the United South End Settlements.

Members of the planning committee which got the ball rolling originally included Executive Director Joseph S. Slavet, ABCD; Program Director Richard Green, South End Redevelopment Project; Executive Director Charles Liddell, USES; Associate Executive Director Campbell Murphy, UCS; Community residents on this committee were Mr. Farrah, Mrs. Cora Schalk, Reverend Richardson, and Mrs. Strother. The joint staff contributed by the several agencies to develop the program included Robert Coard, as coordinator; Gordon Gottsche, and Vincent Ciampa.

GOING UP?

On a trip to Africa, Dr. Elizabeth Fanning of Boston's Forsyth Clinic saw the following sign nailed to a tree to which ladder steps had been attached: "In the event of a rhinoceros charge, climb eight feet. For an elephant charge, 14 feet would be more prudent."

Boston's Neighborhood Youth Corps— What Is It? Who May Join It? Where?

Boston's Neighborhood Youth Corps program is an activity of the City of Boston.

It is administered by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., in its capacity as an agent of the city for the purpose of carrying out the planning and supervision of Boston's Anti-Poverty Program under the U. S. Economic Opportunity Act.

Under direction of Mayor John F. Collins approximately 800 potential "job slots" have been made available by administrative departments of the city in which to provide paid work experience for NYC enrollees. In addition, about 800 others are being made available by private, nonprofit agencies throughout the city.

How does NYC operate? Who may enroll? Where are enrollments received? This and other pertinent information is contained in the following question-and-answer digest released by ABCD's Executive Director Joseph S. Slavet:

1. What is the Neighborhood Youth Corps?

The Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) consists of boys and girls, young men and women, between the ages of 16 and 22, who are members of low-income families and for whom paid work assignments are being created in public agencies or in private nonprofit agencies under the provisions of the U. S. Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

2. What are the objectives of the Neighborhood Youth Corps?

As stated in the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 the purpose of the NYC (Title I B of the Act) is to offer useful work experience for youths from low-income families so that their employability may be increased or their education be resumed or continued.

3. What kinds of jobs are available to NYC members?

Youth Corps members work at a wide variety of jobs in public agencies, especially in administrative departments of the City of Boston, or in such private nonprofit agencies as hospitals, settlement houses, YMCA's, Boys' Clubs, etc.

The law requires work assignments must be designed to keep enrollees occupied with useful work during their time on the job, must be adequately supervised, must be in conformity with applicable federal, state, or local labor standards, must not displace any employed workers, and must not conflict with any collective bargaining agreement.

Furthermore, the work to be done by NYC enrollees is required to be an undertaking or service in the public interest that would otherwise not normally be provided or work which will contribute to the conservation and development of natural resources and recreational areas.

Typical Out-of-School NYC work assignments include the following: Book mover, clerical assistant, custodian assistant, carpenter assistant, garage assistant, gardener assistant, kitchen assistant, laboratory assistant, maintenance assistant, nurse assistant, recreation assistant, stock-room assistant, traffic maintenance assistant, and X-ray technician assistant.

In the In-School Youth Corps, enrollees have the following jobs, among others:

Book room assistants, cafeteria cashiers, clerical assistants, custodial aids, laboratory assistants, library assistants, teacher aids, and traffic aids.

4. How does the In-School NYC program differ from the Out-of-School NYC program?

The In-School NYC program is conducted by the schools under contract with ABCD, Inc. It is designed to help young people from low-income families to continue in school or to enable them to earn needed money. Enrollees work an average of 10 hours per week (maximum 15 hours). Counselors are appointed by the schools. Headquarters of this program are at 45 Myrtle street, Boston. The Project Director is Mr. William J. Reid. The telephone number is CA 7-5500, Ext. 248.

5. Who is eligible to enroll as a member of Boston's Neighborhood Youth Corps?

The main qualifications are those of (a) residence, (b) age, and (c) income status. You must be a resident of Boston, be between your 16th and 22d birthday, and be a member of a low-income family.

6. What is a low-income family?

(a) Any family which is receiving or is eligible to receive financial aid under a public assistance program, such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), General Relief, Veterans' Benefits, Unemployment Benefits, etc., is considered to be a low-income family. (NOTE: The amount of the family's "welfare" assistance is NOT reduced when a young member of the family receives wages as a member of the Neighborhood Youth Corps.)

(b) Any family living in a federally-sponsored low-rent housing development is considered to be a low-income family. These developments are the following:

Bromley Park, Charlestown, Columbia Point, East Boston, Franklin Hill Avenue, Whittier Street, Heath Street, Lenox Street, Mary Ellen McCormack Homes, Old Colony, Orchard Park, and Washington-Beech Street.

(c) Other families considered to be low-income families are those in which the total yearly family income does not exceed the following amounts:

for a family with one dependent	$3,500
for a family with two dependents	$4,000 for a family with three dependents	$4,500
for a family with four dependents	$5,000 for a family with five dependents	$5,500
for a family with six dependents	$6,000 etc.

7. Who decides who is eligible for the NYC program?

The decision as to eligibility is made by NYC counselors, employed by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. (ABCD), in the case of the Out-of-School NYC, or by the Boston School Department, in the case of the In-School Program. The counselors follow guidelines established by the federal government in making their decisions.

8. What other considerations besides income may affect the eligibility of a Youth Corps applicant?

An applicant is not eligible if another member of his immediate family is enrolled in the program, as long as there are other eligible applicants waiting to be placed in work assignments.

Applicants with serious physical or mental disabilities that would make satisfactory work performance impossible will be referred to the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission.

Applicants already enrolled in any other federally-sponsored training or employment program such as MDTA courses, On-the-Job training courses, etc., will not be eligible to enroll in the NYC at the same time.

Applicants will be accepted for enrollment only if suitable work assignments are available for them to fill.

9. What is the pay of NYC enrollees?

Members of the Youth Corps receive $1.25 per hour for work performed. They may work up to a maximum of 32 hours per week. There is no pay for holidays, days of absence, or for work scheduled but not performed.

10. When and how do NYC enrollees receive their pay?

Youth Corps members are paid weekly, by checks, by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. Checks are delivered to the enrollees by their individual NYC counselors.

11. Where do young people go to apply for work in the NYC program?

NYC centers are established at the following addresses. (Applicants should go to the center nearest their homes.)

12. What obligations do members assume when they become enrolled in the NYC?

In addition to time spent at work assignments, for which the NYC member is paid, the member must spend several additional hours per week as a participant in the NYC Program. Some of these hours will be spent in group counseling sessions or in individual counseling sessions with NYC Counselors; some may be spent in the process of receiving medical and dental care, or in remedial education classes, or in other appropriate activities.

An NYC enrollee works 32 hours per week and may expect to spend a total of 40 hours per week, altogether, as a participant in the program, although the additional time will vary with the differing needs of individual enrollees.

Youth Corps members are expected to report for work on time, to work to the best of their ability, to take and follow directions from their supervisors, to get along with fellow NYC members on the job, to maintain proper and courteous relationships with regular employees of the employing department or agency, and to cooperate with the NYC counselor to whom they are assigned.

13. Will enrollees in the NYC In-School program have an opportunity to work on NYC jobs during the summer?

As of the middle of May, ABCD, Inc., is waiting for approval by U.S. authorities of its proposal for a summer program for the In-School NYC group. If the proposal is approved in the full amount requested, it will be possible to provide 10 weeks of summer work at 32 hours per week for all youths age 16 through 21 who are in school and are returning to school.

High School seniors who are graduating in June may continue in the program until June 25. Seniors who are not enrolled or not accepted for enrollment in a full-time educational institution in September are dropped from the In-School NYC program on June 25, but may apply immediately for the Out-of-School NYC program. Seniors who are continuing their education full-time in September, and who have been unable to get a job, may be carried in the summer In-School NYC program, but they will have lowest priority, after other qualified enrollees have been assigned to work stations.

14. How long may an NYC enrollee remain on a work assignment?

In the Out-of-School program the time could be six months, a year, or possibly more, depending on federal appropriations and the needs of the youth.

In the In-School program, the summer period will be ten weeks, beginning June 28 and ending September 3.

15. What will a Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollee be able to do following his or her period of NYC work experience?

This question applies to the NYC Out-of-School program. A young man or young woman who has had an NYC work assignment for a substantial period has several possibilities open. The enrollee might be able to qualify for a regular job, for one thing. Or he might be encouraged to return to school on a full-time or part-time basis. Or he might be given an opportunity to be trained in a basic occupational field of his own choice. Or he might be placed in an On-the-Job Training post in private business. These and other possibilities will be developed as part of the City of Boston—ABCD program, now being planned, for the creation of a new comprehensive training and employment service which will be operated in several neighborhoods of the city in cooperation with the Massachusetts Division of Employment Security, the U.S. Department of Labor, and the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

As provided in Rule 5 (e) of the Compensation Plan for Employees of the Department of School Buildings of the City of Boston,

Mr. Dixon was appointed permanent senior electrical engineer on October 14, 1964, after serving in a provisional capacity in the position from December 5, 1962, to October 13, 1964.

It is requested that, because of Mr. Dixon's qualifications and experience, his 2½- and 3½-year-service step rates in the position of senior electrical engineer be determined as of May 26, 1965, bringing his weekly salary to $155.

Very truly yours,

PERISHABLE FOODS.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On February 25, 1965, your Honor approved a letter of award for perishable food contracts to several companies for the period from April 1, 1965, to March 31, 1966, inclusive.

Authority is requested at this time to award a contract, without public advertisement, to the following-named company for furnishing perishable foods to the various city departments from May 17, 1965, to March 31, 1966, inclusive: Shapiro Beef Company, Inc., 139 Newmarket square, Boston, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT. TECHNICAL AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request for and on behalf of the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department, your Honor's written authorization to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals in the City Record, and to enter into a written agreement with Gordon S. Borek, an engineer, with offices at 80 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., for the preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of proposed repairs to boiler combustion chamber boiler No. 1, Power House, Boston City Hospital, at an estimated construction cost of $13,000.

The engineer's preliminary basic fee taken from the "A" rate of the American Society of Civil Engineers 1959 fee schedule based upon an estimated cost of $13,000 shall be at nine percent (9%) of said estimated cost of construction. The engineer's final basic fee, however, shall be founded upon the actual total cost of the construction work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined by the aforesaid designated A.S.C.E. schedule of fees which shall be set forth in the contract, provided nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $1,000 for supplementary services by the engineer exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of $2,170.

In the opinion of the Board, since the proposed contract entails the performance of technical and professional services, competitive public bidding therefor would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

CONSTRUCTION OF FIVE-STORY WING, MALLORY BUILDING.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On July 14, 1964, your Honor approved a contract dated June 18, 1964, between the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department and Whitney, Atwood, Norcross Associates, Inc., an architectural firm, with offices at 256 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., for the preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of a proposed addition, viz., a five-story wing to the Mallory Building, Boston City Hospital.

The total estimated cost of construction as of the date of execution of the contract was $990,000. The architect was to be paid a fee thereunder equal to 9.52 percent of the actual cost of construction and, in addition, an estimated expenditure of up to $22,000 for supplementary services, but in no event was the maximum liability of the city under the terms of said contract to exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $116,248, all as explained in the letter from the President of this Board to your Honor, dated June 5, 1964, and approved on June 15, 1964.

For your information, the trustees are now of the opinion that the scope of the work should be increased to include a fifth story to the proposed wing and the increased alterations to the existing building necessitated thereby.

For your further information, the proposed new contract will contain a provision whereby the city will receive credit for any payments made to the Architect for work already performed.

It is the present purpose of the Board of Trustees to cancel the contract now in effect, and subject to your Honor's written approval and authorization, to dispense with public advertising and to enter into a new contract with Whitney, Atwood, Norcross Associates, Inc., for architectural services in connection with the proposed alterations and addition, viz., a five-story wing to the Mallory Building, Boston City Hospital, at an estimated construction cost of $1,100,000. The architect is to be paid a fee equal to 9.42 percent of the actual cost of construction and, in addition, an estimated expenditure of up to $19,187 for supplementary services would be authorized, but in no event shall the maximum liability of the city exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $122,807, less a contract credit in the sum of $28,274.40, resulting in an authorized net expenditure under the new contract of $94,532.60.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

Mayor Calls for United Effort for Early Tax Program Adoption

(Following are the remarks of his Honor, Mayor John F. Collins, at Boston College Citizens' Seminar, Boston College, June 1):

I find myself challenged but far from cheerful as we meet here to assess the unfinished business confronting the citizens of our Commonwealth and its cities and towns.

It is customary in discussions of unmet needs and unfinished business to catalogue those tasks requiring public action — either improvement of existing functions or creation of new ones. Here in Massachusetts, the need for balanced transportation, open space, expanded higher education, health and hospital care — there is much we should talk about.

The agenda of unfinished business of course is lengthy as befits a growing and responsible society but our time is limited. If you will, I would like to speak with you about what I consider to be the most urgent and compelling task as yet unfinished in this state.

It should be no surprise to anyone here that I should like to speak mainly of the fiscal crisis and dilemma which threatens the very economic lifeblood of our cities and towns across the Commonwealth. What should surprise us all is that at this late hour, after many years of warnings and of pleadings, the crisis has not yet been met.

We must be very clear that we in the cities of the Commonwealth cannot respond adequately to the pressing needs and demands for improved and new public services until the need for an adequate state revenue system has been recognized and met.

We in Boston have done much working together. There is still much more to do. But the city as I have often repeated cannot absorb the rapidly rising costs of health, education, welfare, with an overburdened and narrow tax base.

The answer must and should come from the state level.

There is no need—I trust—for any detailed presentation of statistical evidence to prove this point. Facts and figures have been so often repeated that perhaps they are beginning to lose their meaning. Suffice it to cite only these grim and stark realities.

Massachusetts continues at this moment to be 49th in general state assistance to local education.

Property tax rates in Massachusetts are the highest per capita in the nation!

The Commonwealth contributes far too small a proportion of rapidly rising local welfare costs.

Twenty-seven industrialized and productive states, some of which are far less prosperous than Massachusetts, pay nearly all of these costs. Faced with this unpleasant but realistic situation we in Boston as in other cities cannot afford funds necessary for the parks, playgrounds, street improvements, and other public services of benefit to every citizen.

Finally, in perhaps the most ironic twist of all, the Commonwealth owes its cities and towns $58 million in delinquent reimbursement for welfare costs—a balance of payments deficit without parallel so far as I am aware.

There are more, many more, but I shall not dwell on them.

I think perhaps we should pause to reflect thoughtfully on the unspoken but clear meaning of these statistics. Too much talk of the needed dollars and cents, the tax rates and the impending deficits may obscure the underlying truth that important and crucial public service needs will be neglected now and in the future without an immediate, satisfactory resolution of this issue.

We cannot hope to provide improvements in our services and programs in all aspects of our life as a Commonwealth including, above all, education, if there is no immediate, satisfactory resolution of this issue.

We cannot provide meaningful equality of opportunity for all if we are unable to maintain an economic framework without an immediate, satisfactory resolution of this issue.

This is the basic message I bring to you. I offer it with the deepest conviction that the Commonwealth, a wealthy and prosperous state, can afford the cost of necessary revenue for these needs. I offer it, too, with the equal conviction that the overwhelming majority of our citizens understand the need for additional revenue and will support a program to raise it.

Hundred Work-Study Students to Spark Washington Park Urban Renewal Drive

One hundred high school and college students will participate this summer in a project which will combine housing rehabilitation with tutoring and youth recreation in the Washington Park Urban Renewal Area from June 28 to August 27.

To be known as the Roxbury Work and Study Project, the program will be the largest of its kind ever carried out in an urban renewal area of Boston.

Participation will be interracial, coeducational, and nonsectarian, and the students have been enlisted from Roxbury, Greater Boston, and across the Commonwealth.

Directing the program will be a committee composed of community leaders and representatives of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the Commonwealth Service Corps, and Northeastern University.

The sponsor of the program will be Freedom House, Inc., of Roxbury, a well-known private, non-profit civic and cultural center founded more than a decade ago to foster community development, interracial understanding, and co-operation.

All participants have been recruited through and will receive preproject training from the Commonwealth Service Corps, and will be Corpsmen for the duration of the project.

A major part of the financial support will be provided by Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) with funds from the Federal Anti-Poverty Program. ABCD has been designated by Mayor John F. Collins to coordinate such programs.

The focus of the housing rehabilitation portion of the project will be the painting of some forty houses to provide a visible example of how an older community can be improved.

The painting will be done by the students working hand-in-hand with local homeowners, and other volunteer participants from the neighborhood.

An equally important part of the Roxbury Work and Study Project will be tutorial and recreational programs which will be carried on simultaneously with youngsters living in the neighborhood.

One primary objective of the program will be to encourage homeowners on adjacent streets to undertake their own programs of home improvement, to broaden the horizons of the youngsters of the community, and to help create a sense of community in the inner city.

Participating students will receive a minimum monthly stipend with a limited number of scholarships provided to needy students. Half of the participants will be college students who will be housed and receive board at Northeastern University on Huntington avenue under adult supervision. The remaining participants will be high school students who will commute daily from their home.

The committee responsible for the over-all direction of the project is composed of representatives from the following:

Residents' Committees, Boston Redevelopment Authority, Charles St. AME Church, Citizens' Urban Renewal Action Committee (CURAC), Commonwealth Service Corps, Dale Area Improvement Association, Emmanuel Temple, Freedom House, Northeastern University, Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, Roxbury Branch YMCA, and St. Mark's Congregational Church.

GOOD DEAL

At a Washington dinner, President Johnson told a group of top business leaders that he planned to treat them all fairly—like the Texas gambler in the story told by former Vice-President John Nance Garner. The gambler said, "No cheating now. I want you to play these cards straight—because I know what I dealt."

City-Wide Street Cleaning Under Way

A one-end-to-the-other program of street cleaning designed to give the city an attractive look to its own people and the visitors and conventioners expected this summer got under way last week.

The big cleanup campaign is getting an assist from the Police Department which has assigned traffic officers to clearing the way for cleaners by halting parking.

"This police effort will be a forceful step in the right direction—tag or tow," declared Public Works Commissioner James W. Haley.

The Boston Traffic Department began posting more than 1,000 signs in districts where the cleanup drive will be concentrated.

Unlike regular traffic signs, the new ones note that a $10 fine will be awaiting unaware motorists who allow their vehicles to impede the work of the cleaners.

The cleanup drive was devised with the assistance of Traffic Commissioner Thomas J. Carty and Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara, Haley said.

The schedule calls for cleaning north sides of main arteries in the Back Bay-Beacon Hill areas on Mondays and Thursdays from 8 A.M. to noon.

The south sides of the same streets will be swept and flushed between noon and 4 P.M. on the same days, Haley said.

Cross streets in these two districts will be cleaned Tuesday mornings between 4 and 8.

The Park square and Prudential Center areas will be done daily between 4 and 8 A.M.

Downtown business district, where no parking is permitted from 1 to 9:30 A.M., will be cleaned nightly, Haley said.

The St. Botolph-street area in the Back Bay, numbering 15 streets, will be cleaned Wednesday mornings.

Commissioner Haley said that plans are being made to start similar cleanup schedules in Roxbury, North Dorchester, South Boston, East Boston, and in local retail districts across the city.

Tax Program . . .

Let me be more specific. Public education in the Commonwealth is in the process of change and of much-needed improvement. We have just recently witnessed a major step in house passage of the Willis Bill. But the Willis Bill, if enacted, is only part of the job. Early enactment of a sound state revenue program to finance these and other educational improvements is an indispensable part of the job. With adequate funding, we can achieve our most significant educational advances of the decade.

And so I say to our educators, put your shoulder to the wheel. The stake of improving educational quality throughout the state is far too important for you to sit on the sidelines. We need here and now a massive and continuing demonstration of support for a tax program that will provide necessary educational dollars.

Not alone in Boston or the metropolitan area, but also throughout the Commonwealth, we also face the urgent need to provide the equality of opportunity to make possible civil rights advances which are meaningful and real. We cannot improve educational opportunities, provide new housing, preserve older neighborhoods or increase job opportunities, in short provide the entire range of necessary civil opportunities without the money to do the job right and do it promptly.

Civil rights leaders and those deeply concerned with civil rights advancement must understand that funds too are necessary to do the job in this vital area. A right to a job is without meaning unless the job is there—a right to better schooling must be backed up by dollars and cents. So I would also say to civil rights leaders and groups, join with us now in the common effort to obtain a just and equitable state tax program this year.

Finally, we must all be concerned about our economy, about attracting new private investment, about jobs for our citizens, about maintaining and increasing our prosperity.

I need not remind this audience of the effect of an outmoded and inadequate tax structure on the business climate and the Commonwealth's ability to compete.

I would remind this audience and other civic leaders in the state that their stake in this tax issue is as important and as vital as any other group or any citizen. And I would remind them that it takes hard work and effort to achieve our common objective. I have been told that there are some business leaders who are sitting on the fence on this issue and I would only say most politely, I think it's high time they got off.

The list of those with special and too often separate interests who need to understand the urgency of getting behind a revenue program and to act upon that understanding vigorously and promptly is not confined to these groups.

The cities and towns with perhaps the heaviest present burden to bear should do more than we already are doing. Those who know well and deeply the needs in physical and mental health need to get involved; those whose interests lie in improving our parks and recreation opportunities, improving and purifying our water supplies and erasing air pollution—all of us should join together, not as partisans but as citizens, to resolve this issue at this session of the General Court. We have no need for competition among public interest groups. We have a compelling need for unity of purpose and for action.

And I might add as an aside, Commissioner Sargent, that the highway program in this state has recently achieved a very enviable funding status, known I believe as the 90-10 principle. I would remind you, however, that federal aid to the state highway program far outstrips state aid for local highways.

Let me also make my own position clear on another point. There is no magic and certain formula for raising the necessary minimum of $225 million in new state revenue.

I believe the sales tax proposal as advanced by the Governor is a sound, effective, and equitable program. There may be room for improvement, there may be alternatives which make equally good sense. What is important is to have a sound program enacted this year. We need not be wedded to any detail but rather to the principle of action and action now.

At the outset I indicated I was far from cheerful as we assay the unfinished business before us and this issue in particular. We have not yet seen enough united effort for early passage of a tax program.

I think it is clear where the main responsibility for action lies.

It lies now with the Legislature. It is also clear who has responsibility for making our views, our support, and our concern crystal clear. We all have that responsibility.

But the situation is by no means without hope. One underlying fact cannot be escaped—the issue must be resolved if our state and our cities and towns are to meet their separate and joint responsibilities for service to the public.

There is still another reason for hope and indeed for confidence. The General Court this year as always has been much in the news.

It should be noted, however, that this year's Legislature, as the one preceding it, has already established a deserved reputation for meeting tough and hard problems head on and for achieving the distinction of passing far-reaching legislation of long-term value to the Commonwealth.

Last year when faced with the responsibility for resolving the Transportation Bottleneck which was surely strangling this metropolitan area and threatening others, the Legislature responded with passage of the MBTA Act, including the means of funding long-range improvements. This act stands as a hallmark for Massachusetts and an example for the nation.

WELFARE COSTS FOR APRIL

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department for April:

Again this month the caseload has remained fairly constant. Only 63 cases were added to a caseload of 33,319 with 1,337 closing offsetting 1,400 approvals. Although an expenditure of $5,077,166 must be considered imposing, since it represents only a 1.9 percent increase above last month, a certain stabilization also appears in April expenditures. Additional activity found 287 applications rejected or withdrawn.

Old Age Assistance: Of 196 new and reapplications, 159 (81.1 percent) were approved, 32 were rejected or withdrawn and action on the remaining five is pending. Offsetting the 159 approvals were 212 closings for a caseload reduction of 53 clients. Due chiefly to an increased outlay for medical services however, the cost of this program rose to $1,179,728 for an over-all 7.5 percent increase above last month.

Medical Assistance for Aged: Death accounted for 55.7 percent of 226 closed cases, which, combined with 292 approvals, resulted in a net caseload gain of 66 cases during the month. Of the approved applications, 275 (94.1 percent) were new and included 60 transfers from other categories. Maintenance and medical services were underwritten in the amount of $1,177,010, 23.2 percent of the total budget.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children: In this category there was not only an 11.8 percent drop in applications below last month, but the 383 which were approved scarcely overshadowed the 375 closings for a net gain of merely 8 cases. Of the 383 approvals, 34.4 percent were based on unemployment due to illness or discharge, while the majority of closings resulted from 134 clients re-entering the job market. A total of $1,848,382, more than one third of the monthly budget was allocated to this program.

Disability Assistance: During the month, 144 first time applicants were among the 176 found eligible for Disability Assistance, 94 requests (53.4 percent) being based on unemployment due to illness; death accounted for 34.6 percent of the 130 closings. The present caseload of 3,858 represents a gain of 479 cases (14.2 percent) during the past year, while the current expenditure of $670,089 is $119,402 above April, 1964, a 21.7 percent rise in costs over the twelve-month period.

General Relief: The trend toward a reduced caseload which began last month due to the advent of good weather and consequent availability of seasonal employment, is again apparent though on a smaller scale. A net reduction of four cases resulted from 390 approvals and 394 closings, one fourth of the latter due to re-employment. At a cost of $201,957, 156 family cases and 2,078 unattached persons were serviced during the month.

Patrick J. Flannery

A Requiem Mass for Patrick J. Flannery, 69, of 8 Bentley street, Brighton, retired Boston police detective-sergeant, was sung on May 26, at 10 A.M., in St. Columbkille's Church.

He served in the Army during World War I and was past commander of Boston Police Post 1018, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He was a member of Brighton Council 121, Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Flannery retired in 1961 after 40 years on the Boston Police Force.

He leaves his wife, Mary (Moynihan); four sons, Joseph P. of Canton, John B. of Chelmsford, Francis X. of Brookline, and Paul D. of Franklin, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary T. Sullivan of Brighton.

$500 Fine

The owner of a two-family house at 299 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, was fined $500 in Roxbury District Court on May 26 for a series of state health code violations.

Presentation of the case was made by the Office of Neighborhood Improvement.

Judge Elwood McKenney levied the fine—maximum allowable under the state code—on these violations:

Broken windows, defective wiring, insufficient garbage receptacles, defective plumbing, rear porches littered with debris, no hot water in one apartment, and defective rear egress.

O.N.I. records show the first inspection was made February 10, 1965. Subsequent inspections took place February 12, March 8 and 25, April 1, 9, 14, and 26 and May 6 and 18.

"Only minor repairs have been made since the first inspection," O.N.I. Director Salvatore J. Messina said.

Judge McKenney ruled the defendant a $100 bail for failing that unless all violations are abated by June 16 an additional $500 fine will be imposed.

Bills Unpaid

Mayor Collins declared the action of the House Ways and Means Committee in reporting out a budget which makes money available to cities and towns for six months only serves to dramatize the serious fiscal situation in which Massachusetts finds itself.

"No responsible legislative committee should ever be forced to take such action as this," said Mayor Collins, "and Chairman Scibelli has admitted as much. It is my earnest hope that every member of the General Court will recognize what has happened here — it is simply a case of the Commonwealth being unable to pay its bills out of current revenues.

"In effect, the state budget now before the House of Representatives is one which proposes to pay only some of the bills which will fall due in the next 12 months," said Mayor Collins.

The Mayor went on to say that the seriousness of the situation has been even more aggravated within recent weeks by still more pressing demands for money for such things as schools and hospitals. "While these demands and costs keep piling up," Mayor Collins said, "we find that the Commonwealth has not reimbursed the city for ADC payments since May of 1964." Other payments are lagging since December of 1964.

Stork Slowdown

Births in Boston hospitals for the first five months of the year are falling behind last year's pace, City Registrar William J. Kane reported last night.

He said a total of 8,126 births were reported through May this year, compared with 8,894 in 1964.

Marriage licenses totaled 2,505 through this month, against 2,523 through last May. Deaths in Boston showed an increase, 5,483 to date this year, against 5,142 last year.

Dairy Festival

Cows—some of them may boast a family record back to the original herds that are alleged to have traced the original pattern of Old Boston's streets—will get taste of New Boston's grass on the Common, June 5-12.

They'll be on hand to help Boston celebrate its 10th annual June Dairy Festival.

They are assured of good audiences but even with top billing they won't steal the show against a sprightly program arranged for the week.

Featured in this season's program opening on June 5 at 1 p.m. will be the new American Dairy Princess, Miss Wilma Lea Blevins, and a 3 p.m. concert by the Spring Street Junior High School Band of Nashua, New Hampshire.

June 8 will mark the dedication of two heifer projects by Rev. Robert Mayhew of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference. Dan Hurd will conduct milking contests.

June 9 is Dairy Industry Day with an annual banquet at the Parker House.

The festival will close Saturday, June 12, with a program featuring the Blue Belle Highlanders, an all-girl bagpipe band from Saugus.

Throughout the festival will be displayed a model dairy farm with cows and calves for children to pet, an antique milk wagon, dairy posters created by Vermont children, and an exhibit trailer of the American Dairy Association of New Hampshire. And as a sort of bonus—for the thirsty there will be free milk.

Memorial Service

The annual memorial services honoring Boston's war veterans were conducted Sunday, May 23, at 11 a.m. in Mount Hope Cemetery, Roslindale.

Mayor Collins gave the memorial address at ceremonies sponsored by the Suffolk County Council, American Legion.

Representatives from the Gold Star Mothers and from five armed forces branches also participated.

Tax Program . . .

This year, the Legislature has already made possible the placement on the ballot in 1966 of a different but important measure—the Home Rule Constitutional Amendment. This amendment, if adopted as I am confident it will be, will enable the cities and towns of our state to organize themselves properly and effectively to carry out their tasks with neither interference from nor undue dependence upon the General Court.

Then, too, the House as I mentioned earlier has moved with dispatch and responsibility in the area of educational improvement.

These three items—and there are many more—make it evident to the careful observer that this is a Legislature which has the leadership and the capacity to act and to act decisively. Surely this is a Legislature which can and will meet the urgent crisis in our financial structure to enable our Commonwealth to move forward. We must raise our sights, we must talk about what can happen instead of what cannot, we must resolve this issue before it is too late.

Head Start To Stress Children's Health

One of the outstanding features of the Head Start—Boston program for prekindergartners will be its attention to the health of the children entering school environment for the first time. Major hospitals and top medical and dental schools of the city will cooperate in this phase of the work.

For the 1,500 children who will participate in the program, an average of $325 will be spent. This is three times the national average and reflects the confidence of the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity in the Boston plans which were coordinated by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc.

On the Head Start health team are: the medical and dental schools of Harvard, Tufts, and Boston University; the pediatric and outpatient departments of Boston City, Children's, Massachusetts General, Beth Israel, and Boston Floating Hospitals.

Others participating are: Forsyth Dental Infirmary, Putnam Child Guidance Center, Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Blindness, the Boston and State Public Health Department, the state Division of Mental Hygiene, and the Boston School Department health services.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

AUDITORIUM COMMISSION.

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As your Honor knows, the new Municipal Auditorium has two Otis electric passenger elevators, two Otis plunger electric passenger elevators, three Otis plunger electric freight elevators, and four Otis escalators. The architects for the Auditorium, Hoyle, Doran & Berry, have recommended that most serious consideration be given to having these elevators and escalators serviced by the manufacturers of the equipment, Otis Elevator Company, at least during the period of the manufacturer's guarantee.

Negotiation with Otis Elevator Company (Service Department), 130 Clarendon street, Boston, has resulted in their offering to make weekly examinations of the escalators and one freight elevator and semi-monthly examinations of the other elevators, including doing requisite oiling and cleaning, and making necessary minor adjustments during the period from May 18, 1965, to and including March 31, 1966, for the sum of $800 a month. The contract would include emergency minor adjustment call back service. So far as the Auditorium Commission has been able to ascertain, the price is reasonable in the circumstances. Accordingly, your Honor's authority is respectfully requested to dispense with advertising in awarding to Otis Elevator Company a contract on the aforesaid basis.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT C. NORDLOM, Chairman.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

TRUCKING SERVICES.

DEAR MAYOR COLLINS:

One of the many facets of the surplus food program is the shipping and transportation of the surplus commodities between the warehouses where the government surplus food is stored and the municipally operated surplus food distribution centers in Boston.

Due to the fact that the demand for certain of the commodities by our clientele will vary during any given week, or month, it will necessarily vary the shipping tonnage during the same period, and therefore the only feasible way to contract for such trucking is on an hourly basis for the actual vehicles needed and used, together with the personnel required to operate them.

Our particular requirements are for 15-ton capacity tractor and closed body trailer units, and 10-ton capacity refrigerator trucks with drivers, and extra man when needed.

On Saturday, May 8, 1965, an invitation for proposals for the aforementioned trucking services for the period from June 15, 1965, through March 31, 1966, was advertised in the City Record. An abstract of said invitation was posted on the bulletin board in the front lobby of Boston City Hall.

Two bids were received and they were publicly opened and read aloud at the Legal Section of the Boston Welfare Department at 43 Hawkins street, Boston, Mass., at 12 noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Monday, May 24, 1965, all in accordance with the advertisement.

Bids submitted were as follows:

P. A. Milan, Inc., Malden; 15-ton capacity tractor and trailer unit with driver (closed body), $8.50 per hour; 10-ton capacity refrigerator truck with driver, $6.50 per hour; extra man, $4.50 per man—$19.50.

Boston and Taunton Transportation Company; 15-ton capacity tractor and trailer unit with driver (closed body), $8.00 per hour; 10-ton capacity refrigerator truck with driver, $9.00 per hour; extra man, $4.50 per hour—$21.50.

It is estimated by this department that trucking services will be required during the contract period for approximately 4,000 hours at a total cost of $40,000.

In behalf of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare in the City of Boston, I respectfully recommend your approval of the awarding of this contract to the lowest responsible and eligible bidder, namely, P. A. Milan, Inc., of Malden.

The funds for payment of the trucking services under this contract are available from the Surplus Foods Commodities Appropriation.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM F. LALLY, Director.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Father of grace and of mercy, we beseech Thee to overrule whatever is imperfect in us as we go forth today as heralds of good will, we public servants, committed to maintain the highest standards of civic government, take our powers unemployed, our ideals unfulfilled, our possibilities unachieved, and use them for Thy glory and for the benefit of our fellowman. As selected servants of the people may we carry the needs of our city in our hearts to be very very sure that we will work to accomplish them, and in the duties of this high office may we find favor in Thy sight and in the judgment of our citizens.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

LAND IN SOUTH BOSTON FOR FRUIT AND PRODUCE MARKET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 10, 1965.

The Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen:

I would like the Honorable City Council to know that I am much concerned with the problems that exist with respect to the claim of the U. S. Post Office for use of the surplus Naval Annex land at E street. We had all been counting on that land to provide a proper site for development of a fruit and produce market, meeting the needs of those dealers who would be displaced from the Faneuil Hall area.

It always has been my policy to do everything possible to see that this land was made available for market purposes at terms that would prove economically feasible for the dealers involved. This is a vital industry that has contributed much to the city and we certainly desire that it be kept in the city, if at all possible.

As the Council no doubt knows, in January, 1964, the city, the FRA, and the Massachusetts Port Authority agreed to work together to obtain from the Federal General Services Administration some 25 acres of surplus land at E street for a fruit and produce market. This approach made sense since the Port Authority was in the process of acquiring, through an act of Congress, a 15-acre parcel adjacent to this and indicated a desire to make the land available for market purposes.

However, in August, 1964, we learned that the Post Office Department, which previously had indicated no interest in the 25-acre site, was then processing a claim with the GSA for the land, in accordance with federal procedures. At my request, BRA staff met with Postal and GSA officials to attempt to resolve this conflicting claim on the E Street property.

After much discussion with local as well as Washington officials, it was agreed by the Post Office Department that their original intention for use of the land—low-cost parking for employees of the South Station Postal Annex—would be abandoned. However, they did indicate that they would require a 7-acre site in the area (including Building 61) for Postal trucking operations for a period of approximately 5 years. This position finally was arrived at towards the end of 1964.

Discussions then were held on the problems of developing a market with proper rail service that would not be interfered with by the Postal operations. After considerable study, it appeared that proper rail service could not be provided unless the Postal operation was discontinued.

I have advised Senator Kennedy of the situation as it now exists and have requested his assistance in resolving this difficulty in the best interests of Boston. I also have instructed the firm of S. J. McDonald & Associates, which was recently hired to represent the interests of the city in Washington, to look into this problem and make recommendations as to how it can be solved.

It should be quite clear that every effort has been and will continue to be made by this office and the BRA to resolve the conflict with the Post Office Department so that a fruit and produce market can be developed within the City of Boston, if that is so desired by the dealers themselves.

Sincerely,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

ABCD, Mayor's Anti-Poverty Coordinator, Moves in Vanguard

Because of the foresight of Mayor John F. Collins, Boston is ranked in the very top echelon of major cities across the nation in the implementation of the broad blueprint of the U. S. War on Poverty.

When the time came to carry the many-phased provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 into action no hastily-drawn plans were necessary.

In being was the machinery provided by Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. What is ABCD?

Action for Boston Community Development, Inc., was formed out of the determination of Mayor John F. Collins, his Development Administrator, Edward J. Logue, and a group of leading citizens to find more effective ways of meeting human needs and problems in Boston. It was their conviction in 1961 that a concentrated effort to strengthen and improve employment, education, health, housing, family life and recreation services must accompany and reinforce the city's urban renewal program.

After two years of operating experience, ABCD reaffirms those purposes and seeks to achieve them in the following ways:

- By developing, in concert with other agencies, new community service programs, with emphasis on the needs of Boston's disadvantaged people, especially in areas where urban renewal is providing new opportunities.
- By reviewing existing services and pressing for a redirection of resources into more effective patterns and instruments for resolving social problems.
- By improving the coordination of services among federal, state and municipal agencies and between public and private organizations.
- By testing and evaluating new methods for reducing social problems.
- By informing and educating the public in areas related to ABCD's programs and objectives.

In 1962 Mayor Collins designated ABCD to coordinate various federal, state, and municipal agencies as well as the public and private agencies devoted to the very problems which the Economic Opportunity Act addressed itself.

Boston through the work of ABCD found itself ready to activate the programs EOA made possible on a broad scale.

Moving Ahead

Today Boston's Anti-Poverty program is moving ahead smoothly. It is eyed favorably in other major cities. Many federal officials feel it offers a model which other communities may well follow.

A problem which other cities have found themselves facing does not exist here. That problem is the indisposition of city officials generally to cede absolute control of the program beyond themselves.

"It is difficult for government officials to turn the reins of policy-making over to somebody for whom government is trying to do something," Mayor Collins told a recent

May Business Good Unemployment Down

Business activity for the month of May in Greater Boston while dropping slightly below record-setting April still recorded a business index at 10.3 percent above normal, reported James G. Kelso, executive vice-president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Citing figures compiled by the Chamber's Research Department, Kelso said department store sales, employment, and bank indicators did not advance as dramatically as in the previous month, but still registered significant gains.

Kelso termed the local unemployment experience "excellent." Less than 4 percent of the labor in the area was unemployed in May, down from a high of 5.8 percent in January, 1964.

Since early 1964, 23,000-plus unemployed have been returned to work. Total employment in the metropolitan area at 1.1 million, is 32,000 more than in the same period in 1964. Significant changes in the unemployment picture are anticipated in June when thousands of students enter the Greater Boston labor market.

The Rev. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., Dean of the Boston College School of Business Administration, was re-elected President of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council at its recent annual meeting.

Boston's Public Library Holds Unique Place Among World's Free Libraries

(The following is reprinted from the summer issue of the "Boston Public Library News.")

The Boston Public Library was the first free, tax-supported public library to be established in any city of the United States, or of the world. Founded in 1852 upon the initiative of prominent citizens and with the support of the municipal government, it first opened its doors to the public in 1854. The first annual report of the Trustees, setting forth what a public library ought to be, quickly became a basic statement of principles for the American public library movement. The institution has always been among the leading libraries of the nation.

The present Central Library building in Copley square, opened in 1895, was the earliest of the country's great library buildings. The first branch library in the United States was the one that was established in the East Boston section of the city in 1870 and opened in 1871.

Library Today

The Library today consists of the Central Library; the Kirstein Business Branch, downtown; 26 branch libraries; a Hospital Library Service at the Boston City Hospital; and three bookmobiles. It has a total of approximately 2,250,000 books; it receives over 2,500 current periodicals and nearly 200 newspapers, including about 50 from foreign countries; and it has many thousands of manuscripts, maps, patents, prints, pictures, music scores, films, recordings, and other library materials.

Each year the Library circulates about 3,300,000 books and some 50,000 recordings. It has approximately 190,000 registered borrowers. Financial support comes very largely from public funds of the City of Boston. The principal of the Library's trust funds stands at about $6,500,000, of which approximately $4,000,000 is reserved for the construction of an enlargement of the Central Library building. The income of most of the remainder is for the purchase of books and other library materials for the reference and research collections.

Scholarly Resources

Apart from its historical significance in the American library movement, the special distinction of the Boston Public Library lies in the unusual range and depth of its collections of scholarly books. About two thirds of the Library's books are in its reference and research collections; about one third are in the collections of its popular library service units, such as the branch libraries and the Open Shelf Department. This proportion of scholarly materials is exceptional among the large public libraries of the country, several of which—larger in population than Boston—have greater total numbers of books. Among municipal public libraries, only the much larger New York Public Library has greater reference and research resources than the BPL.

Especially noteworthy, in addition to the Library's manuscripts and early printed books, are such of its collections as the Allen A. Brown Music Library, the Barton Collection of Shakespeariana, the Bowditch Collection of books on astronomy, mathematics, and navigation, the Prince Collection of Americana, the personal library of President John Adams, the Ticknor Collection of Spanish and Portuguese literature, and many other distinguished collections.

Governing Body

Governed by a five-member Board of Trustees, the Library is at once an administrative agency of the City of Boston and a corporation, empowered by the laws of the Commonwealth to hold property and to exercise other powers not usually vested in municipal officers. The Trustees are appointed by the Mayor, one being appointed each year for a five-year term. Membership on the Board of Trustees is a meeting sponsored by the New England Governors' Conference and the Boston Federal Executive Board.

"Successful public executives like to think that they know what is best for their constituents," the Mayor continued.

"In this respect, the anti-poverty program requires a change of attitude. Nor will letting the poor into the courtyard be enough."

"Whatever our quiet doubts, let us insist that this program give the people for whom it is intended a clear-cut chance to make some decisions themselves."

ABCD's governing board is a 44-member group. It will soon add an additional member. Of the total membership 22 are from the city's public and private social organizations such as public housing, city government, schools, private welfare groups, and the like. The other members come from the target areas of the program, including indigent persons, church and civil rights leaders in the areas and community leaders who make their homes in the affected areas.

In addition, each target area has its own council made up solely of persons living in the area to advise the larger policy making body.

City government is totally divorced from the proceedings as far as policy control is concerned.

Program Outline

A brief review of some of the ABCD-coordinated programs now in operation in Boston is in order here:

(1) The NYC in-school and out-of-school programs. The in-school program places special emphasis upon making it possible for youth to stay in school or to resume schooling, by providing part-time work. Such work is made available to enrollees who attend school full time. Part-time work schedules are arranged so that the school work of pupils is not handicapped. In the out-of-school program, youths who have left school permanently are eligible for full time work-assignments.

(2) Operation Head Start. Designed to prepare 1,500 small children in the underprivileged areas for their first school experience as kindergartners or first-graders. This summer 1,500 will be enrolled in classes limited to 15 boys and girls.

(3) Unified Legal Aid Program. Designed to provide indigent with aid in qualified legal counsel, matters of bail, civil matters, etc. The Roxbury Defender Program in Roxbury District Court, handled by B.U. Law School with the cooperation of the court, has attracted wide attention.

(4) Job Corps. The anti-poverty program places out-of-school, unemployed youth in the 16-21-year group in rural and urban training centers throughout the country. Corpsmen are given a chance to learn skills and receive remedial education which will provide them with greater job opportunities when they leave the corps. Vocational training opportunities include reforestation, surveying, botanical investigation, heavy equipment operation, auto mechanics, clerical and sales duties, data machine processing, electronics and other rural, industrial and business skills.

Corpsmen are furnished with necessary clothing, equipment, room and board. In addition they receive a monthly allowance of $30 plus termination payment of $50 per month which is set aside for them when they leave the corps.

(5) South End Neighborhood Action Program, Inc. (SNAP). This recently incorporated organization offers an example of community action at the grass-roots level. The first nine members and officers of the organization are all South Enders, pledged to the development of the South End. For the most part they are from the lower income bracket.

Three are residents of public housing projects, two are welfare recipients, one could be classified as technologically unemployed. SNAP will attack the multifold many problems of the South End from the community level itself.

Riley Heads Ancients

John J. Riley, World War II Air Force bomber pilot, was elected captain of the 327-year-old Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts after a parade by the 600-member organization through downtown and a colorful drumhead election on the Common.

The new company leader is a real estate broker and appraiser and chairman of the review board of the Assessing Department of the City of Boston. His home is at 275 Parker Hill avenue, Roxbury.

Food Code Checkup

Inspections of food-service operations are now underway in the Boston area to check their compliance with new Sanitary Code regulations, according to the city's Health Commissioner, John Foley.

Mr. Foley explained the regulations contained in Article X of the Code to members of the Greater Boston Hotel and Motor Inn Association at a recent meeting.

The regulations provide new minimum sanitation standards for eating establishments, of which there are over 5,000 in the Boston area. Commissioner Foley said he has 17 inspectors on his staff, and that each operation must be inspected every six months.

Carnival Winners

Winners of awards in the Mayor's Charity Carnival include Rose Gifford, 323 Broadway, Somerville, 1965 Buick sports wagon; Grace E. Kennedy, 46 Duston street, Somerville, 1965 Ford Galaxie; L. B. Mayone, 9 Savin Hill avenue, 1965 Ford Mustang, and Richard Hudson, 81 Bradwood street, Roslindale, 10-day all-expense trip to Hawaii for two.

Keep an Eye on

Give frequent thought to the hazard of home accidents. Keep an eye out for exposed wiring, slippery floors, roving razor blades, rickety stepladders, broken glass, fire hazards. Home accidents rank high as a cause of injury and death.

Boston Makes Ready to Welcome Biggest Influx of Summer Tourists on Record

Mayor John F. Collins is convinced that Boston is moving into a summer which will bring to the city the greatest influx of visitors it has ever known.

It is an opinion not alone shared by knowledgeable experts in the city itself but by outsiders in competing cities as well.

Tourism today is big business.

It's recognized as such in Caribbean ports where Henry Morgan's buccaneers would have scorned to drop anchor a couple of centuries back. It's recognized by a few farms in Vermont which have discovered a nine-hole golf course pays much better than a nine-cow herd in the back pasture. (Of course, most of those good Vermont farms still supply the best milk in the world. This is June Dairy Festival Week.)

What is Boston going to do about getting its rightful share of this lucrative tourist business? If a year of penetrating research and solid planning by those who know the business offers a criterion—it should do very well.

Take a brief glimpse at some of the plans of Paul E. Hood's Visitor Development Program of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and its committee chaired by Steve Sonnenbend, vice-president of the Hotel Corporation of America.

Here's part of a descriptive article appearing in the authoritative Hotel and Restaurant News outlining plans soon to go into high gear:

Members of the committee include Edward V. Hickey, vice-president of public relations and advertising, New England Merchants National Bank; Nicholas V. Polley, president and owner, Nick's Restaurant; Stanton L. Kurzman, president, Garden City Travel; Everett R. Spencer, Jr., executive secretary, Massachusetts Medical Society; Jay W. Powell, vice-president and general manager, Trailways of New England, Inc.; Perry S. Ury, vice-president and general manager, WNAC Radio; Eugene F. Kelly, regional marketing manager, Eastern Greyhound Lines, and Harold D. Harding, New England area manager, Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Key weapon in the battle to reap a larger share of the vacation-travel dollar for Greater Boston will be the widespread distribution of a new package of promotional and informational literature, including:

A hotel-motel guide, restaurant guide, and shopping guide, with the Chamber producing the first two and Boston's Shreve, Crump & Low (jewelers) underwriting the third. Total number of copies for these guides is expected to run about 100,500-150,000 annually.

A quarterly brochure, one for each season of the year, listing both seasonal and permanent attractions and events, with 250,000 copies to be produced annually as a joint venture of Adams & Raymond, Inc., and Parsons, Friedmann & Central, Inc.

"Visitors Guidepost," a new semi-monthly magazine containing news of interest to visitors, with 300,000 copies to be produced annually by Dole Publishing Company.

And a visitors' guidebook and map of the Massachusetts Bay area, with 325,000 copies to be produced and financed partly by the Chamber and partly by private companies interested in boosting the region.

The literature, now either off the press or scheduled to be ready for this summer season, will be distributed by the Chamber to potential visitors and to vacation-travelers already in the area.

In addition to the newly prepared promotional pieces, many visitors also will receive the Freedom Trail brochure underwritten by John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, and the privately-published Panorama magazine.

HOT SERVICE

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick tells the story of two men who were watching their church burn down. One said, "Bill, I haven't seen you at church for a long time. Why don't you come more often?" To which Bill replied, "This is the first time I've seen the church on fire."

prized civic distinction in Boston, and the sixty-one men who have served on it to date include the names of many of Boston's most prominent citizens. The Trustees today, listed in order of their seniority, are Erwin D. Canham, Sidney R. Rabb, Rt. Rev. Edward G. Murray, Augustin H. Parker, Jr., and Lenahan O'Connell.

Among the librarians who have directed the Boston Public Library have been such leaders of the profession as Charles C. Jewett (1858-68); Justin Winsor, the eminent bibliographer and historian (1868-77), later librarian of Harvard University; and Herbert Putnam (1895-99), who subsequently served forty years as the head of the Library of Congress. Director Milton E. Lord, the present executive head of the Library, has served in that position since 1932, longer by far than any of his ten predecessors.

William H. Sullivan

A High Requiem Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Church, Dedham, for William H. Sullivan, 70, of 409 High street, Dedham, retired lieutenant of the Boston Fire Department.

He was a Boston fireman for 47 years and retired five years ago. At that time he was attached to Fire Department Headquarters.

Lieutenant Sullivan leaves his wife, Mary K. (Long) Sullivan; two sons, Patrolman William H. Sullivan, Jr., of West Roxbury, and James D. Sullivan of Westwood; two daughters, Mrs. Marion O'Brien of Dedham and Mrs. Doris McNulty of Roslindale; two brothers, Francis of Winthrop and John of West Roxbury; and four sisters, Mrs. Catherine Beebe of Brighton, Mrs. Anna Kamise of Brighton, Mrs. Mary Flattery of Hollywood, Calif., and Miss Marion Sullivan of Port Charlotte, Fla.

Another Reason

Excessive smoking of cigarettes can damage the sense of smell. The more cigarettes smoked, the less accurate the smelling function, it was indicated by a recent study of 500 industrial workers.

Police Memorial

The annual Boston Police Department Memorial Service was held on Sunday, June 6, at 10 A.M., at Mount Hope Cemetery, Walk Hill street, Mattapan.

Chamber of Commerce Chairman Gilbert H. Hood was the principal speaker.

Others participating in the services included Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara, Superintendent of Police Herbert J. Mulhoney, Rev. James J. Scally, Holy Cross Cathedral; Rabbi Joseph S. Shubow, Temple Bnai Moshe, Brighton, and Rev. Shirley B. Goodwin, executive secretary, Department of Christian Social Relations, Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

Elected to serve on the Executive Committee, in addition to the officers were: Mrs. Louise M. Castle of the Brookline Selectmen; Benjamin R. SCIENCE

The deadline for his term paper was fast approaching, and the nervous Harvard student needed some quick information. His treatise could be polished off nicely with a little tidbit about Enrico Fermi, the physicist, who produced the first nuclear chain reaction. Calls to two Boston newspapers were unproductive. "The Christian Science Monitor," he thought. "Surely they'll know."

The Monitor's switchboard operator wanted to help. "Who?" she asked. "Fermi? What department is he in?"

"No," the student replied. "No, you don't understand. He's a scientist."

"Young man, I'm afraid you don't understand," the woman countered. "We're all Scientists here."

Booth on Common

One or more direct points of distribution—including an information booth at the Boston Common—will be utilized by the Chamber, along with mailings.

The information booth at the Common, which will be a rebuilt kiosk located at the Park Street station of the MBTA, is expected to be in operation this summer. The Chamber will furnish literature and train the personnel manning the booth, but the booth itself will be operated by the Freedom Trail Foundation.

Other potential outlets for information, Mr. Hood pointed out, include the office of the Boston Redevelopment Authority on Cornhill; the new Heritage Center to be set up at the Prudential Center; an information center to be located along the Massachusetts Turnpike (now in the negotiation stage with the Turnpike Authority as are plans for a temporary trailer to be parked along the Pike until the permanent station can be completed); and information centers operated by specific towns in the Massachusetts Bay area—with the Boston booth to handle the promotional literature of those communities on a reciprocal basis.

"Boston and the Massachusetts Bay area are interdependent with respect to attracting vacation-travelers, and seeing to it that they are happy while here," Mr. Hood declared.

"The long-distance traveler usually wants to visit many points of interest within the Massachusetts Bay area. It really boils down to a question of sinking or swimming together."

Mr. Hood said he plans personally to visit travel editors and writers in major cities within a 500-mile radius of Boston to stimulate their editorial coverage of this area and its attractions.

Also hoped for, he added, is a significant increase in the state's budget for vacation-travel advertising and promotion.

Lieut. William H. Costin, Records and Communications Division.

June 1.

Personnel Order No. 735.

First-Grade Detective Emmett F. McNamara, detailed to the Criminal Investigation Division (District Attorney's Office), in accordance with Personnel Order No. 609, dated December 15, 1964, is hereby detailed to report to the commanding officer, District 4, effective Wednesday, June 2, 1965, at 7.45 o'clock A.M., for duty until further orders.

Personnel Order No. 736.

Joseph J. Turner, steam fireman, Building Maintenance Section, Boston Police Department, is hereby promoted to assistant superintendent of police buildings, effective Wednesday, June 2, 1965, at a salary of $109 per week.

June 3.

Personnel Order No. 737.

Detective Third-Grade Frederick D. McLean, District 9, is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 12.54 p.m., Tuesday, April 20, 1965, an alarm of fire was struck for a fire in the lead car of an MBTA two-car train, proceeding towards Forest Hills Station, said fire occurring while the train was on the elevated structure between Dover and Northampton Street Stations. A short circuit caused numerous electrical explosions, resulting in flames and smoke from the burning lead car and oil soaked wooden ties to envelope the car.

The combination of electrical explosions, flames, and smoke caused the passengers in the lead car to panic. They pushed and shoved one another about, screaming and in hysteria, some trying to force open the doors of the train with the intention of jumping to the street, 25 feet below, others trying to jump onto the electrically charged track.

Detective McLean, a passenger in the lead car of the train, knowing that the hysteria could result in death or serious injury to many of the passengers, with his badge displayed on his outer coat, announced himself to be a police officer, and with great difficulty went among the passengers, forcibly restraining those attempting to jump from the smoke-filled car and calming others by his verbal instructions and display of firm authority and confident judgment. Detective McLean restored order and was successful in directing the passengers into the less dangerous second car.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty displayed by Detective McLean, who, at great risk of personal injury to himself, by his courage and judgment in this extremely dangerous situation was of the highest order and reflects great credit to himself and to the Boston Police Department.

June 7.

The following reassignment is hereby ordered to take effect, Wednesday, June 9, 1965, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Kearney, Traffic Division, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty.

About 10.10 A.M. April 12, 1965, radio patrol cars of District 4 and the Robbery Squad responded to a holdup alarm at Huerth and Huerth Furriers, Inc., 376 Boylston street, Boston. On investigation it was ascertained that two men entered the premises, both armed with guns and held four employees at gunpoint, binding their hands with rope and placing adhesive tape over their mouths. The two men had three laundry bags marked "Pilgrim" into which they placed select mink and sable coats and stoles and then left the premises.

Patrolman Scagnoli, District 4, in making inquiries in the neighborhood found a witness in a nearby office who saw two men placing laundry bags in a dark green, late model, Cadillac convertible, registration unknown, but stated that she saw a police officer tag the car for a parking violation.

A check of Traffic Division files revealed that Patrolman Bernard Kearney of the Traffic Division had tagged a Cadillac, Mass. Reg. 409-918, listed to one Nicholas Ventola, 17 Waverly street, Everett. A description of the car was transmitted by the dispatcher to all units.

As Nicholas Ventola was known to officers of the Robbery Squad to operate a business in Revere, Sergt. James Dwyer, Detective Daniel Harrington, Patrolmen John Curtin and Donald Sweeney of the Robbery Squad proceeded to East Boston, where in the vicinity of Vallar road, they observed the wanted Cadillac. After a short chase, the officers apprehended and arrested the occupants, Anthony Zirpolo, 25 years, of 218 Leyden street, East Boston, and Robert Donati, 24 years, of 249 Marion street, East Boston, as suspicious persons, armed robbery of Huerth and Huerth Furriers, Inc.

Sergeant Dwyer with officers of the Robbery Squad obtained a search warrant and on a search of the premises at 249 Marion street, found a shotgun and a .22 caliber automatic Colt revolver.

In the meantime officers of the Robbery Squad, Districts 4 and 7, maintained surveillance of the premises at 199 Faywood avenue, 218 Leyden street in East Boston, and the Ebb Tide Cafe, Revere Beach Parkway, Revere.

Sergeant Corkery and Detective Donahue, District 7, obtained a search warrant and searched the premises at 199 Faywood avenue, where they found three laundry bags with the stolen furs.

The officers on a surveillance at 218 Leyden street were informed by the occupants of 214 Leyden street that a man had just left the rear door of 218 Leyden street and ran through their yard. The officers gave chase and apprehended and arrested one Christopher Brown, alias Frank Scrocco, who was identified by witnesses as one of the two men who held up the fur concern.

All three were arraigned in the East Boston Court and held for the grand jury in $50,000 bail and have since been indicted by the grand jury for the holdup.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty and cooperation displayed by the officers in the apprehension of these felons, and the successful recovery of the furs, valued at about $70,000.

PAYMENT OF SURPLUS FUNDS IN SINKING FUNDS TO COLLECTOR-TREASURER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

When there was a Sinking Funds Department in the city, there was a provision that, whenever the amount of any sinking fund exceeded the entire amount of the debt for the payment of which it was established, the Sinking Fund Commissioners should use the surplus for the purchase and cancellation of any outstanding bonds of the city. Rev. Ord. (1925), c. 30, s. 2. Rev. Ord. (1947), c. 31, s. 2. When the Sinking Funds Department was abolished by Ord. 1954, c. 2, this provision was not re-enacted, presumably because such a contingency was not then foreseeable with respect to any then existing sinking fund and by law no new sinking fund could be established.

On August 1, 1965, however, a surplus approximating $985,000 will exist in the Traffic Tunnel Third Supplemental Sinking Fund as a result of the 1958 act transferring the Sumner Tunnel to the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority. St. 1955, c. 598. Counsel for the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority has advised that Authority that it has no right to such surplus.

It would seem proper in the circumstances to apply such surplus to pay, to the extent it will, serial bonds maturing this year on the Funding Loan issued under chapter 717 of the Acts of 1957. I therefore recommend adoption of the accompanying order making such surplus available for that purpose.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That whatever sum remains in the sinking fund (known as the Third Supplemental Sinking Fund) for the Traffic Tunnel Retirement Bonds issued under chapter 361 of the Acts of 1945 after providing for the payment on August 1, 1965, of all principal and interest due on said bonds be, and the same hereby is, appropriated to pay, to the extent it will, Funding Loan bonds of the city issued under chapter 717 of the Acts of 1957 and maturing in the current year; and that the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to pay over to the Collector-Treasurer for such purpose said sum, which is currently estimated to approximate nine hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

ORDINANCE INCREASING COMPENSATION TO MEMBERS OF BOARD OF APPEAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Members of the Board of Appeal in the Building Department are compensated twenty-five dollars for each day or part thereof of actual service; but no member has been permitted to receive in any one year more than thirty-five hundred dollars in the aggregate for his services under the building code and zoning law. Rev. Ord. (1961), c. 3, s. 5 (second paragraph). This rate of compensation has not been increased in the decade intervening since Ord. 1952, c. 6. In addition, the new zoning code and enabling act has vested the Board of Appeal with added powers and responsibilities. A current adjustment in the members' compensation thus appears appropriate; and so I recommend passage of the accompanying ordinance which would increase the compensation for each day or part thereof of actual service to thirty-five dollars and the yearly aggregate limit to forty-two hundred dollars.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-five.
An Ordinance Increasing the Compensation of Members of the Board of Appeal in the Building Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

SECTION 1. The second paragraph of section 5 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—Each member of the board of appeal in the building department shall receive for every day or part thereof of actual service thirty-five dollars; but in no event shall any member of said board receive in any one year more than forty-two hundred dollars in the aggregate for services rendered by him under the building code and the zoning law.

SECTION 2. It is the intent of this ordinance that in the current year each member of the board of appeal in the building department receive thirty-five dollars for every day or part thereof of actual service after the effective date of this ordinance until compensation for his services in the current year aggregates forty-two hundred dollars.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Mayor Announces Plans For Great Week-Long Winter Festival at Auditorium

A Boston Winter Festival — which planners believe will attract up to half a million people — will be held at War Memorial Auditorium, Feb. 18-26, Mayor John F. Collins announced this week.

The Festival will offer a national pilot project along the lines suggested by the recent Rockefeller Panel Report on the performing arts which urges greater public support of creative artists.

The week-long festival schedule will coincide with the anniversary of the opening of Boston's $12 million Auditorium.

Eli Goldston was named by the mayor to head the festival committee. Francis W. Sidlauskas, executive director of the Boston Opera Group and chairman of the Theater Division at Boston University, was named executive director of the festival.

The program will consist of major performances in the fields of music, dance and drama, lectures, seminars and exhibits, the mayor told a press conference at City Hall.

The Winter Festival, Collins explained, will in no way conflict with the interests of the Boston Arts Festival which, he added, will resume its Summer program in 1966.

Goldston and Sidlauskas both were in charge of the civic group which arranged for the 10-day dedication program at last February's opening of War Memorial Auditorium.

Collins, recalling the dedication which attracted more than 300,000 persons, said: "Many people have urged me to continue this form of program as a yearly cultural event in Boston. Such an event will provide adults with a concentrated presentation of the vast cultural resources of our city and, by being scheduled during a school vacation period, will offer our children an unusual opportunity to learn more about 'the many worlds of Boston'."

Nominal admission fees will be charged at some of the events, but children will be admitted free.

Offices for the Winter Festival have been opened in the Prudential Tower, Room 1646.

Strong Air Links

The domestic air travel in and out of LaGuardia and Kennedy Airports in New York and that across the river in Newark is probably the heaviest of any metropolitan center in the nation. What city leads in receiving and sending passengers?

It's Boston.

According to the Port of New York Authority, Boston has replaced Miami in the traffic volume between the two cities.

Boston had been second, with seven percent, in a 1956 survey of the New York area airports. The new survey was taken from April of 1963 to March of 1964.

In the latest survey, Chicago is second with nine percent and Washington third with eight percent. Miami dropped to fourth with six percent.

The report attributed the gains of Boston and Washington to the

$19 Million Face Lift For South Station Area

The South Station area and the nearby wool and leather business areas will undergo an extensive face lift if present plans of the Boston Redevelopment Authority gain federal sanction.

The project would encompass 198 acres of Boston's prime retail business district and cost $19 million, according to BRA development administrator Edward J. Logue.

Logue emphasized that the necessary land takings would be done on a spot basis rather than the entire district.

He asked the Redevelopment Authority to authorize early land acquisition for the taking of the South Station terminal and other properties within the business district boundaries.

At the same time, he called upon the authority to enlarge the boundaries of the present business district by including the 23-acre South Station terminal and the 17 acres of the wool and leather districts.

Takings of land and buildings within the scope of the present 158-acre area would precede even the development and approval of a final plan for the project, Logue related.

The authority, following its hearing of Logue's plan, voted its tentative approval and authorized a filing of an application with the Federal government for "early land takings" funds.

Night Police Patrols To Be Strengthened

Details totalling 75 policemen will be assigned to special night duty, beginning Sunday, June 27.

Approval of the plan was given by Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara at Deputy Supt. Herbert F. Mulloney's suggestion, it was announced.

The transfers and new schedule will become effective Sunday, June 27.

It also was revealed that installation of a new electronic device in radio patrol cars will permit riding policemen to do more beat walking.

Mulloney said that new foot patrolmen will work shifts from 7 P.M. to 2 A.M., with no Fridays or Saturdays off.

"Those hours and those week-end days in particular are the times of the highest incidence on crime and police work," Mulloney said.

"When necessary, day platoon men will be assigned to night patrol as well," the chief of the uniformed officers declared.

About the new electronic device in the cars, Mulloney said the red dome light can be activated by a communications officer at the police headquarters turret, alerting a man who is away from his vehicle.

"Under this system, the patrol car officer can do more foot patrolling without breaking contact with the communications center," Mulloney said.

According to the deputy superintendent, the closing of schools will free the 75 men from traffic crossing duty for the Summer months.

The available men will be assigned to night duty in areas with high incidents of violent crime, a statistic that has multiplied steadily in recent years.

Mulloney said, "They will conduct foot patrols during the critical nighttime hours."

Another innovation was a new computer system which will furnish police in the field with vital information quickly and expeditiously, Mulloney stated.

American Indian Fete At War Memorial

At least 11 tribes will be represented at an American Indian Festival to be held at Boston's War Memorial Auditorium July 24 and 25.

Active in plans for the festival is Frank Kirby, a Mohawk Indian and high construction worker, who placed the "white beam" atop the Prudential Tower marking the practical end of its completion.

Some 200 Indians will present tribal dances and entertainment on both days from noon to 10 P.M. A parade and art displays are also scheduled for the pow-wow.

All six of Kirby's brothers are in high construction work, and he is best known for having placed the "white beam" atop the Prudential near its completion. He is also grand chief of the Iroquois nation. This is the first such event in the Northeast and perhaps in the country, according to promoters.

The sponsoring organization hopes to inform people about Indian culture, raise the economic and social status of Indians, start a scholarship fund, and establish an Indian cultural center here.

Mayor Collins Honored

Mayor Collins was among six persons receiving honorary degrees at the commencement of the Portia Law School and Calvin Coolidge College. Also honored were House Speaker John F. X. Davoren and Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Viguers.

Others getting honorary degrees were John P. Webster, minister of First Church of Christ, West Hartford, Ct. and writer Mildred Flagg. Mrs. Ruth Hill Viguers is editor of Horn Book Magazine while her husband is administrator of New England Medical Center Hospitals.

introduction of frequent guaranteed-seating shuttle service between these cities and New York, Boston and Washington accounted for 71 percent of all the trips of under 250 miles taken from New York. Such trips were 27 percent of all the outbound domestic activity at the airports.

Boston and Washington accounted for 55 percent of such traffic in 1956.

Though Boston remained the leader as the destination of transfer passengers, it showed a decline of about five percent from 1956. The decrease was attributed to the increase in service between Boston and the West Coast.

Lufthansa and Air France have since been added to the international carriers flying into Boston so that a further reduction in transfer passengers to Boston from New York has been effected.

Face Lift . . .

If the Federal authorities approve the preliminary plan and allow the BRA to go forward with the project, Logue said, the BRA will then be asked to authorize land takings on a formal basis. Approval of Mayor Collins, the City Council and the state Housing Board also is required.

BARGAIN WISE

The Vintage Chevrolet Club of America recently bestowed honorary membership on Suzanne Chevrolet, whose late husband designed and built the first Chevrolet in 1911. Members chugged to her home near Detroit, with a 1915 Chevy in tow. The automaker's widow, 75, gracefully climbed behind the wheel and chatted about Swiss-born Louis Chevrolet. And which model does she drive today? "A Mercury," she replied. "They gave me a better deal."

CONTRACT AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

BAND CONCERTS.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I propose, subject to the written authorization from your Honor, to enter into a written contract for the provision of music for the enjoyment of the public on Boston Common, Jamaica Pond, and Franklin Park on certain dates during the months of July and August, 1965.

This music was furnished in 1962, 1963, and 1964 by Herman Silberman, an accomplished member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for nearly twenty years, and it is my intention to re-engage him for these services, the cost of which would be not to exceed $4,462, which (with the exception of an increase of $1.15 per man on Sunday performances as recently adjusted by the Musicians Union) was the cost of the same last year. The subject concerts will be of two hours' duration each, and they would take place on the dates, at the locations, and at the hours designated in the following:

BOSTON COMMON: July 6 through July 10, inclusive, during the hours, 12 noon to 2 P.M., employing 22 musicians, including the leader, at $69 per person, $1,518; July 11, 18, 25, and August 1, during the hours 2 P.M. to 4 P.M., employing 20 musicians, including the leader, at $18.40 per person, per concert, $1,472.

JAMAICA POND: July 18 and August 1, during the hours 2 P.M. to 4 P.M., employing 20 musicians, including the leader, at $18.40 per person, per concert, $736.

FRANKLIN PARK: July 11 and July 25, during the hours 2 P.M. to 4 P.M., employing 20 musicians, including the leader, at $18.40 per person, per concert, $736.

TOTAL, $4,462.

The subject concerts will be given by orchestras consisting as aforesaid, of from twenty to twenty-two musicians, including the leader.

In that the contract to be awarded and executed is one involving the presentation of one of the higher forms of art, it is my conviction that this type of service does not lend itself to a public solicitation for bids, and therefore I request permission to dispense therewith since it would not be of benefit to the City of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN H. O'NEILL, JR.,
Administrative Assistant.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

TYPEWRITER ACCOUNTING MACHINE.

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your approval of the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Burroughs Corporation, Boston Central Branch, 92 Hayden avenue, Lexington, Mass., for the purchase, delivery, and installation of one Model F1401 Typewriter Accounting Machine to replace an eleven-year-old model which has deteriorated to the point where repairs and service are very costly. The cost of this new equipment will not exceed $4,998 delivered and installed, and includes one year of service. This replacement is absolutely essential for the daily detailed postings of receipts, cash deposits, commitments, abatements and adjustments. These totals are then posted to the Accounts Receivable ledger cards, in detail. Since this accounting machine is manufactured only by the Burroughs Corporation, I believe that it will be in the best interest of the city to award the contract to this firm without public advertising.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN T. LEONARD,
City Auditor.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW HEART STUDY BUILDING.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request for and on behalf of the Board of Trustees in charge of the Hospital Department, your Honor's written authorization to dispense with public advertising for proposals in the City Record, and to enter into a written agreement with William Nelson Jacobs Associates, Inc., an architectural and engineering firm with offices at 316 Stuart street, Boston, Mass., for the preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of a New Heart Study Building to be located between the Medical Building and the House Officers' Building, Boston City Hospital, 818 Harrison avenue, Boston, Mass., at an estimated construction cost of $150,000.

The architect's preliminary basic fee taken from the "C" rate of the American Institute of Architects 1951 recommended schedule of minimum rates and based upon an estimated cost of construction of $150,000 shall be at eleven and five tenths (11.5) percent of said estimated cost of construction. The architect's final basic fee however, shall be founded upon the actual cost of the work and the fee percent applicable thereto as determined by the aforesaid designated A.I.A. schedule of fees which shall be set forth in the contract, provided nevertheless, that in no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditure of $6,000 for supplementary services by the architect, exceed in the aggregate, the sum of $23,250.

In the opinion of the Board, since the proposed contract entails the performance of technical and professional services, competitive public bidding therefor would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS. ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On March 23, 1963, your Honor approved the award of a contract to Thomas F. McDonough, 140 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., for architectural services in connection with the construction of an elementary school in the Paul A. Dever District, Dorchester, Mass. Mr. McDonough commenced work pursuant to this contract and had completed approximately 81 percent of the plans and specifications when he passed away.

John M. Gray, architect, 153 Milk street, Boston, has agreed to finish the plans and specifications. I proposed to enter into a contract with John M. Gray, John M. Gray, Jr., and Francis J. Gray, to furnish complete architectural and engineering services, including plans and specifications, but not including supervision of the construction. Supervision of the construction will be performed by the Department of School Buildings.

Since the awarding of the contract to Mr. McDonough, the School Department has directed that a cafeteria and kitchen be added to the building. It is estimated that the construction cost of the school will be $2,300,000.

The proposed contract calls for a payment of 5 percent of the actual construction contract less payments made pursuant to the McDonough contract.

Since the proposed contract is one for professional services, public advertising for bids would serve no useful purpose; and I request permission to award an architect's contract to John M. Gray, John M. Gray, Jr., and Francis J. Gray, without advertising, in an amount not to exceed the sum of $45,000.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM A. MCPHERSON,
Superintendent of Construction.

In addition, neither the subbids filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible subbidders for a subtrade nor the subbids for the same subtrade as shown on the general bids of the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders, may be withdrawn after the opening of the general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) after presentation of a subcontract to the subbidder selected for that subtrade by the general bidder selected as the general contractor.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond, and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid or any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that less than three such subbids were received and that the prices are not reasonable for acceptance without further competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO FEES FOR CERTAIN LICENSES AND PERMITS GRANTED BY POLICE COMMISSIONER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 24, 1965.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Transmitted to your Honorable Body herewith is communication from the Police Commissioner and accompanying ordinance relative to the fees for certain licenses and permits granted by the Police Commissioner.

I recommend adoption of the ordinance as a measure which, to use the Police Commissioner's language, would more nearly equate the fees involved with current clerical and inspectional costs.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Police Department, May 12, 1965.
Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

The current fees charged for licenses and permits granted by the Police Commissioner were fixed in 1956 when appropriations in the annual budget for the Police Department were nearly $4,000,000 less than in 1965. In view of this marked increase in costs, I recommend submission to the City Council of the accompanying ordinance, which, I believe, would more nearly equate the fees involved with the attendant clerical and inspectional costs.

Adoption of the proposed ordinance would effect the following changes:

License or Permit	Present Fee	Proposed Fee
Auctioneer's License (for Resident)	$10	$15
Auctioneer's Permit (for Non-Resident to Auction Goods Brought into City)	25	35
Auctioneer's Permit (for Non-Resident to Auction Jewelry)	2	5
Auctioneer's Special License	5 a day	10 a day
Firearms (Sale, Rent, Lease)	25	35
Gunsmith	30	50
Junk Collector	15	18
Junk Shopkeeper	75	100
Second-Hand Dealer	30	50
Sight-Seeing Auto	2 a seat	3 a seat
Sight-Seeing Driver	2	4
Special Police	5	10

Chapter 273 of the Acts of 1965 repeals chapter 59 of the Acts of 1879 requiring street railway motormen, conductors and dispatchers to have licenses from the Police Commissioner. There is thus no longer any need for Rev. Ord. (1961), c. 30, s. 1, cl. (332), fixing a fee for such a license; and section 9 of the enclosed ordinance repeals it.

Respectfully,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Five.

What Will Become of City Hall When Big Move Is Made

Sometime within the next couple of years, Boston will begin conducting business from the new City Hall. Before that day comes, a decision on appropriate reuse of the old City Hall and the City Hall Annex must be made.

This report is designed not to determine the best ultimate reuse, but to list and partially explore some of the alternatives which have been suggested. Public discussion of the alternatives should start now. Otherwise a last minute choice of possibly not the best alternative may be made—or the buildings may remain vacant long enough to act as a blighting influence in the area.

The Hall and the Annex stand on land traditionally used for municipal purposes. The Hall's land was deeded to the city in the late seventeenth century for municipal purposes. Exactly how much of the total site is covered by the deed, whether certain late eighteenth century political developments have invalidated it, and what impediments, if any, it would offer to the solutions proposed here must also be determined.

According to some architects, the Hall is a good example of a style known as Second Empire, has a high aesthetic value, and should be preserved for this reason. Other architects, however, have opinions ranging from "grotesque mansard" to "well, it has character."

Originally expected to cost $160,000, the Hall's final price tag read $505,000. By 1875, it was too small for the city's needs, and a search for additional space began. The problem was solved in 1912 when the Annex was completed.

Explorations of the possible reuses of the land and buildings turn up two types of people: The commercial and the aesthetic. Commercial types feel that the city's economy still has considerable steam behind it and that the sites have excellent investment potential. Some of the aesthetes (several of whom are in the real estate business, too) feel that the demand for commercial space is slowing down, that investors will not be interested, and that, therefore, some unusual types of reuse should be considered. Still other aesthetes feel that the commercial possibilities are irrelevant, and that the city should keep the land for its own purposes. There seems also to be some difference of opinion on whether the Government Center-School Street area will continue to be "good" addresses. Each side can cite events and statistics to prove its point.

P. J. Oswald Named Review Board Chairman

Mayor John F. Collins announced appointment of Paul J. Oswald of 7 Corey terrace, West Roxbury, as Chairman of the Board of Review in the Assessing Department, June 22.

Mr. Oswald, 65, was one of the original founders of the Jamaica Plain Co-operative Bank and is the oldest surviving Director, in point of service, now on the Board of Directors. He became a Director in 1921, Clerk of Corporation in 1923, and is still serving in both of these offices. In addition to these offices, for about fifteen years he has been Chairman of the Investment Board and Vice-President for the past five years.

Mr. Oswald was born in Roxbury. A graduate of Northeastern University Law School with an LLB degree, he was treasurer of the Kappa Delta Kappa Fraternity. He also took courses in Real Estate and Appraising at Harvard, M.I.T., and Massachusetts Education Extension University.

He was an appraiser and negotiator for the Boston Housing Authority and has made numerous appraisals for banks, corporations, and private owners. In 1928 he was appointed an assistant assessor for the City of Boston and in 1942 was promoted to a Deputy Assessor, a position which he still holds.

He is an honorary life member and Past Exalted Ruler, Past

City Hall . . .

The alternatives, generally grouped by type, follow:

Open Space?

One solution would be to demolish both buildings and leave the area open. This treatment would form a "bridge" between the School-Tremont Street area and the Government Center, and a logical way for people to walk to Washington street. There are suggestions that a small Freedom Trail attraction, a fountain, a tourist information center, an outdoor cafe, or a covered arcade with pretty little "shoppes" be used on a part of the site. There is indeed a shortage of open space in this part of downtown (assuming that most people do not like to spend their lunch hours perched on the tombstones of the ancients).

Leaving either building standing need not destroy the "bridge" concept but would probably change the treatment of the site somewhat—especially if the building which remains is the Hall.

The city might realize minimal income from concessions and perhaps taxes on the "shoppes" under such a plan. On the other hand, expenditures to maintain it as open space, especially if some private entrepreneurs are involved, should also be minimal. The city might not lose money, might not be throwing its property into competition with private developers, and could enhance nearby property values.

Business Site

Estimates of the value of the total site as cleared land vary from below $10 per square foot to over $40 depending on how the estimator sees future demand. Most estimators feel that it should definitely bring $30. Using these figures the total site (40,803 square feet) could sell for anything from $350,000 to $1.6 million. The new zoning code would permit a new building on this site to have about 245,000 net square feet (not including parking and public open space credits). At a $7 rental, such a building could return about $340,000 annually in taxes.

Opinions on the effect which leaving either building standing would have on the other site vary.

From a builder's standpoint, new development might have drawbacks other than the possibility of city-wide overbuilding. The site is long and narrow, not perfectly rectangular, and has buildings abutting closely on portions of both sides. Thus, while anything constructed there would have a window on the Government Center, the view from some of the other windows might not be as pleasant. The same problem would apply to a building on either of the individual plots.

An argument used to support the idea of demolition is that commercial rehabilitation could prove economically unfeasible. The costs are difficult to prove partly because sale prices and rehabilitation costs of elderly buildings do vary, and partly because no one is quite sure just how big either building is or how much work is needed in either.

It is generally assumed by real estate people that the Annex is a good risk for rehabilitation as commercial space, both financially and structurally. There is doubt about the Hall especially since feeling exists that its land, used as a mall, would enhance the Annex's value, give it a desirable School Street address, or just make it look prettier.

Estimates of the resale value of the Annex with land range from $12 to $20 per square foot; rehabilitation cost estimates range between $5 and $10; rehabilitated older buildings generally bring between $4 and $5.50 rentals per square foot.

If the purchase and rehabilitation costs rise to the maximum figures, even the $5.50 rental probably would not produce a desirable return; however, lower investments could make the venture financially attractive, even producing between $95,000 and $120,000 in taxes annually.

City Hall would probably require a major rehabilitation job. Commercial rehabilitation would be economically feasible only if land costs could be kept low.

A concern willing to limit itself to a maximum 6 percent return, however, might make a go of rehabilitation; the possibility of one or more civic organizations wanting picturesque quarters and willing to accept limited returns should not be ignored. Nor should the possibility of turning the building into a cultural center housing small art, music, and dramatic groups.

Museum?

If the Hall is to be preserved for its architectural character, and kept as municipal property, there are those who feel it would make a good site for a museum and archives collection.

A common assumption is that the Bostonian Society's collection would become available when the National Park Services takes over the Old State House. It is also felt that many significant items could be drawn from other museums, historical societies, and private parties.

Although materials would not be difficult to come by, the idea does raise serious questions. How, for example, would it be financed and administered? Would it be operated under city or private auspices? What will capital and operating costs be, and what part should the city play in financing?

Vacation Motor Travel Perils Loom Large

Vacation time is here and with it motor vehicle travel takes on a special significance as many families spend a large part of their vacation time traveling on our highways. For most vacationers, it becomes a most enjoyable time of the year. For thousands of others, it becomes a time of sorrow and regret because of accidents in which people are injured and killed.

Other than disease, more children die in traffic accidents than from any other cause. Within a short period, all schools in Massachusetts will be closed for summer vacation releasing about one million school-age children from classroom supervision. This fact, coupled with more licensed operators and more motor vehicles on our highways than ever before, creates a serious highway hazard—for children are apt to be at play anywhere.

"Motorists must exercise more than usual caution while they are driving in areas where these boys and girls are apt to be at play or bicycle riding, and parents and guardians as well must provide more than the usual amount of supervision which they give during school season," said Registrar McLaughlin in speaking of school vacation time.

"In urban areas, near parks and playgrounds, in crowded residential areas, near beaches and other summer resort or recreational areas, the opportunity for motor vehicle accidents is greatly increased," he continued. "Motorists must be cautioned of this danger and try to avoid it. It is my earnest hope that all motor vehicle operators will adjust their driving to allow sufficient time to stop in case of emergency. We cannot remain complacent while the death and injury toll continues to mount. I urge your support in slowing down on the highways so that others may live," he concluded.

During July and August last year, 19 children, age 14 and under, were killed and 3,413 children in the same age group were injured—about 425 injured weekly.

Thirsty New York

Restaurants, hotels, and motels have been placed in the forefront in this city's drive to conserve water during the current drought.

The 22,000 eating places in New York may now serve water to customers only on request, must repair leaking fixtures, and see to it that dishwashing equipment is used as efficiently and economically as possible—or risk a fine of up to $50.

And under the latest regulations issued by the city's Water Department, hotel-motel swimming pools—except those that charge admission to the general public—may remain open only until their existing water level drops below the reach of recirculation equipment. No new water may be added.

Chief Ainsworth Hailed for 50-Year Career

District Chief John J. Ainsworth of BFD's District 1 with a half century of devoted service to the city and its fire-fighting service—broken only by World War I service with the U. S. Army—was feted June 24.

The big salute was paid at Fire Headquarters.

On hand to pay tribute to the veteran were young fire fighters who are learning the business of saving life and property. Cheering the loudest were veterans who "broke in" shortly after he came into the department. Lavish in their applause were officers he has trained.

Members of the ticket committee were Tom Laverne, Jerry McGowan, Danny Ciampa, and Jimmy McPherson of Fire Headquarters, and Jimmy DiBello of Engine 5, Group 3.

Chief Ainsworth as a young man was appointed to the department on New Year's Eve, 1915. As a lieutenant, captain, and district chief he served Tower 1, Ladder 30, and District 1.

He took time out on December 8, 1917, to help Uncle Sam win the first World War. On May 5, 1918, he was home on a well-earned leave. Box 635 was sounded. He showed up to lend a hand. For that he was commended in General Orders.

On April 18, 1919, he was home on another furlough. Box 631 sounded. Again he showed up looking for work. Again he won commendation.

For 50 years he has been a truly great fireman. He really earned that accolade that was tendered him up at Fire Headquarters.

HERITAGE

When a Vermont woman, an octogenarian, died last year, her doctor, whose patient she had been for 50 years, was given a large steamer trunk, which she had long insisted was to pass into his possession. When he opened it, he found it contained, unused, all the prescriptions he had ever given her.

City Hall . . .

Would City Hall really be the best possible site for a museum, or are there other, better, locations.

One school of thought holds that the city should rehabilitate and maintain the building. Federal operation of Faneuil Hall and the Old State House would save the city about $30,000 per year. This amount could help defray Old City Hall maintenance costs. But can Boston afford the remaining amount required for rehabilitation and maintenance? Can one or more of the historical societies afford it? Would any funds from foundations or from other governmental sources be available for the job? These are among the questions that museum advocates must answer.

Developing an archives collection poses similar problems. Old city records are currently stored in chaotic fashion in basements and subbasements, with valuable documents and worthless pieces of paper mixed together. A program to sort out and preserve worthwhile materials should be carried through. If a museum and archives is to be developed, concrete thinking must begin now.

School Headquarters?

The suggestion that the School Department consolidate its presently scattered administrative operations in a renovated City Hall Annex has already been advanced. So has the idea that the School Buildings Department, an administratively separate but functionally related agency, occupy the Annex. There is sufficient room in the Annex for both, and there is every reason for them to share quarters.

The city's capital improvement program has allotted $1 million in 1966 for the renovation of the Annex for School Department use. This should be more than adequate since the top two floors have been completely redone and another floor was reconditioned in the late 1950's. The location is excellent, and the cost of renovation will be far less than the cost of providing land and building for a totally new facility.

The present plan of the School Buildings Department for constructing a building for storage and office space could then be abandoned in favor of a simpler storage facility. The Audio Visual, Science, and Computer Center functions of the School Department, which require considerable storage and trucking activity might also go into this facility, as has been suggested elsewhere.

Ideas Needed

All of the possibilities for future use of the Hall and the Annex have not been discussed here. Nor can a final judgment be made on the basis of information presently available. However, unless serious study and planning by city officials and private parties interested in reuse begins now, there will be serious problems later.

Mrs. Collins to Head Chapter's Dime March

Mrs. John F. Collins has been appointed Women's Activities Chairman for the Massachusetts Bay Chapter of the National Foundation—March of Dimes, Major E. M. Wheelwright (U.S.A. Ret.), Chapter Chairman, announced.

"Mrs. Collins' experience as a volunteer will be extremely helpful in covering the activities of all women volunteers for the 61 cities and towns of the Massachusetts Bay Chapter," Major Wheelwright said.

Mrs. Collins has been a March of Dimes volunteer for the past 13 years, serving in capacities as a Marching Mother, Mothers' March Chairman, and as Campaign Director in 1963.

"The March of Dimes is trying to find the answer to Birth Defects that will kill or cripple almost 9,000 innocents in Massachusetts this year, and Mrs. Collins will have a leading role in our fight to find the answer," Major Wheelwright said.

As Women's Activities Chairman, Mrs. Collins will be in charge of the following committees: The Women's Club Committee, co-chaired by Mrs. Peter Duncan of 280 Elm street, Everett, and Mrs. Jean Doyle of 11 Freeman avenue, Everett; the Exhibits and Publications Committee, co-chaired by Mrs. Honor F. Goodman of One Margo road, Brighton, and Mrs. Tony Manfredi of 10 Emerson place, Charles River Park, Boston; the Office Service Committee, co-chaired by Mrs. William Fish of 211 Almont street, Mattapan, and Mrs. Randall Boyd of 4 Oxbow road, Lexington; the Center and Patient Services Committee, chaired by Mrs. Edward Caras of 17 Paine street, Winthrop; the Pre-Natal Care Committee, co-chaired by Mrs. William F. Griffiths of 17 Grant street, Somerville, and Mrs. Joseph R. Foley of 30 Dartmouth street, Somerville; the Women's Volunteer Committee, co-chaired by Mrs. Warren L. Vance, Riverside road, Walpole, and Mrs. James T. Gow of 600 Walpole street, Norwood.

Mrs. Collins is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and Boston Clerical School. She is a trustee of the Faulkner Hospital and is active in the Catholic Daughters of America, and in the Notre Dame League. Mrs. Collins is a member of the St. Thomas Aquinas Mothers' Club, the St. Joseph's Alumni Association, and the Catholic Memorial Mothers' Club.

A life-long resident of Jamaica Plain, Mayor and Mrs. Collins have four children.

Tourists Eye Northeast

The Northeast is heading into what shapes up as one of the best summer seasons in many years, and possibly a record-breaker, according to state travel development officials surveyed by Hotel and Restaurant News.

Among the key contributing factors are:

A hot, dry spring;

The continuing economic prosperity in the country, and the increasing amount of discretionary spending money available;

The tremendous number of old and new and improved visitor attractions in the nine Northeast states; and

The greater appreciation of the value of the vacation-travel dollar by businessmen and government officials.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

FIREWORKS DISPLAYS.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Each year since 1960, the Interstate Fireworks Manufacturing and Display Company, Inc., have presented, under arrangements with the City of Boston, annual Fourth of July Fireworks Displays at a total cost not to exceed $6,000, each of which were well attended.

It is therefore my intention, contingent upon the prior written approval of your Honor, to dispense with advertising and to enter into a written contract with Interstate Fireworks Manufacturing and Display Company, Inc., to set up and fire off separate fireworks displays on July 5, 1965, at the following sites:

Columbia Point, northern shore, overlooking the South Boston shoreline.

Charles River, midway, between the Long-fellow Bridge and the Harvard Bridge.

The cost of the aforementioned fireworks displays will not exceed the sum of $5,000. It is estimated that the cost of the fireworks display in the South Boston-Dorchester area at Columbia Point, would approximate $3,500. It is further estimated that the fireworks display on the Charles River would cost $1,250. This display would be scheduled in concert with the City of Cambridge, who would contribute another $1,250 in an equal sharing of the display.

Since Interstate Fireworks Manufacturing and Display Company, Inc., provides a unique kind of service which is by no means generally available, and due to the fact that this firm is willing to conduct the July Fourth fireworks presentations at the above designated locations this year, at no increase in cost to the City of Boston, it is my belief that a public invitation for bids for these services would not be advantageous to the city.

It may be noted, too, that the contractor is, in addition to furnishing the mandatory Workmen's Compensation Insurance pursuant to applicable statute, required under the proposed form of contract to provide Property Damage Insurance in the sum of $15,000 and Public Liability Insurance in $100,000—$300,000 limits.

Respectfully,

JOHN H. O'NEILL, JR.,
Administrative Assistant.
